My Soul

On the day that I searched for God—for I could not see the Divine—

I turned to my heart and my mind and found Your throne within,
a witness to You in me.

—YEHUDAH HALEVI

A Prayer to Be in God's Presence

יהי רצון שתשרה שכינתך עלינו
ונזכה היום להתענג
באור פניך.

Spread Your wings over us that we may delight in Your Presence this day.

Intentions for the New Day

Master of all worlds, may it be Your will that the light of Your face be reflected in mine.
May my mouth speak only what is true,
may my eyes see the good in all that I meet, and may my ears be attentive to the troubles of those who address me.
May I breathe the awe of You,
so that I lovingly face all I meet.

May the words I utter be acceptable to You,
my rescuer and protector.

NAHMAN OF BRATZLAV

Personal Prayers upon Arising

I thank You, living and eternal sovereign, for Your kindness in restoring my soul. How great is Your faithfulness.

Modeh/modah ani l'fanekha, melekhai v'kayam, she-hehezarta bi nishmati b'hemlah, rabah emunatekha.

*Some recite the following prayers upon arising;
others recite them upon arriving at the synagogue:*

THE SOUL

My God, the soul that You have given me is pure.

Elohai, n'shamah she-natata bi t'horah hi.

You created it,

You formed it,

You breathed it into me;

You watch over it when it is in me.

In the future You will take it from me

but then restore it to me in the world that is coming.

As long as this soul is within me, I thank You,

ADONAI my God, God of my ancestors, ruler of all creation, master of all souls.

Barukh atah ADONAI, who restores the soul to the lifeless form.

HAND WASHING

Barukh atah ADONAI, our God, sovereign of time and space, who has provided us with a path to holiness through the observance of mitzvot and has instructed us to wash
our hands.

Barukh atah Adonai, eloheinu melek ha-olam, asher kid'shanu b'mitzvotav v'tzivanu al n'tilat yadayim.

THE BODY

Barukh atah ADONAI, our God, sovereign of time and space, who crafted the human body with wisdom, creating within it many openings and passageways. It is known and revealed to You that should even a single passageway rupture, or a single opening close up, it would no longer be possible to exist and stand before You. Barukh atah ADONAI, healer of all flesh, who creates wondrously.

מודה\מודה אני לפניך, מלך חי וקים,
שהחזרת בי נשמת ב'חמלה,
רבה אמונתך.

*Some recite the following prayers upon arising;
others recite them upon arriving at the synagogue:*

אלהי, נשמה שנתת בי טהורה היא.

אתה בראתה, אתה יצרתה, אתה נפתתה בי,

ואתה משמרה בקרבי, ואתה עתיד לטלה ממני,

ולהחזירה בי לעתיד לבוא.

כל־זמן שהנשמה בקרבי, מודה\מודה אני לפניך,

יהוה אלהי ואלהי אבותי [ואמותי],

רבון כל־המעשים, אדון כל־הנשמות.

ברוך אתה יהוה, המחזיר נשמות לפגרים מתים.

ברוך אתה יהוה אלהינו מלך העולם,

אשר קדשנו במצותיו וצונו על נטילת ידים.

ברוך אתה יהוה אלהינו מלך העולם,

אשר יצר את־האדם בחכמה

וברא בו נקבים ונקבים חלולים חלולים.

גלוי וידוע לפני כסא כבודך

שאם יפתח אחד מהם או יסתם אחד מהם,

אי אפשר להתקיים ולעמוד לפניך.

ברוך אתה יהוה, רופא כל־בשר ומפליא לעשות.

MODEH ANI ("I thank You") is an Ashkenazic prayer composed in the late Middle Ages specifically to be recited upon opening one's eyes in the morning. Since it was to be said before getting out of bed and washing one's hands, it does not include the name of God. Eliezer Schweid, a contemporary Jewish philosopher, notes that this and other prayers in this section are phrased in the first-person singular, although most blessings are phrased in the first-person plural. At this initial moment of prayer we have not yet entered a community, but our prayers express our own personal feelings of waking to a new day.

SOUL Jewish mystics view the soul as an actual "part of God above"; that which God blows into Adam is the presence of God's own self. Nothing humans can do will eradicate this Divine Presence from the deepest recesses of each person's heart. (Arthur Green)

WHO RESTORES THE SOUL TO THE LIFELESS FORM המחזיר נשמות לפגרים

מתים. According to the rabbis, sleep is a taste of death; thus, when we arise in the morning we recognize the gift of a new day. Eliezer Schweid remarks: "How does God appear to a person in this hour? As the source of all existent and eternal life, flowing now into all creation. . . ." The last b'rakhah recited before going to sleep is "who lights up the entire world with Your glory." Waking in the morning, the b'rakhah is fulfilled.

WHO CRAFTED THE HUMAN BODY WITH WISDOM אֲשֶׁר יָצַר אֶת־הָאָדָם בְּחָכְמָה. This b'rakhah is to be recited after taking care of one's bodily functions (Babylonian Talmud, Berakhot 60b). Upon waking in the morning, we are conscious, first of all, of the proper functioning of our bodies.

Prayer

We enter the synagogue in conversation with ourselves. And as we engage in prayer, this conversation becomes one conducted with God.

Worship with Joy

A person does not experience the presence of God through sadness or laziness, but through joy, as is written regarding Elisha, the prophet: “[He said:] ‘Now bring a musician to me’—and when the musician played, the hand of God was upon him” (2 Kings 3:15).

A Prayer When

Entering the Synagogue

May the offerings of my lips be acceptable to You. May my thoughts be clear, may I be instructed in Your ways, and may I be at peace with myself and my neighbors.

Prayers upon Entering the Synagogue

How lovely are your dwellings, Jacob;
your sanctuaries, people of Israel!

As for me, through Your great kindness I enter Your house;
in awe of You, I bow toward Your holy sanctuary.

ADONAI, I love Your house, the place where Your glory dwells.

I will bow and prostrate myself, kneel before ADONAI my creator.

My prayers are to You, ADONAI, in the hope that this is a favorable time;

God, in Your abundant love, respond to me with faithful deliverance.

Mah tovu ohalekha ya-akov, mishk'notekha yisrael.

Va-ani t'filati l'kha, Adonai, eit ratzon.

Elohim b'rov hasdekha, aneini be-emet yishekha.

A MEDITATION BEFORE PRAYER

At dawn I seek You, my refuge, my haven;
morning and evening, to You I pray,
though facing Your greatness, I am awed and confused, for You know already what I would think and say.

What might in thought and speech can there be?

What power the spirit within me?

Yet, You treasure the sound of human song;

and so would I thank You, as long as Your soul is in me.

אוֹדֶךָ בְּעוֹד תִּהְיֶה נִשְׁמַת אֱלֹהִים בִּי.

HOW LOVELY טִבּוֹ Numbers 24:5.

These words were uttered by the gentile prophet Balaam, who had been hired to curse Israel but instead blessed them. Many rabbinic readings of this verse understood the “dwellings of Jacob” (literally, “tents of Jacob”) and the “sanctuaries of Israel” to refer to houses of study and prayer houses (Babylonian Talmud, Sanhedrin 105b, for instance). Interestingly, we enter the synagogue with the words of a non-Jew, here used to praise the synagogue. This verse was added to the service in the late Middle Ages, when European royal courts became more formal, which warranted a similarly formal introduction to our worship of the Sovereign of All.

AS FOR ME וְאֲנִי. Three of the verses quoted here begin with the word ani, “I.” The worshipper enters the synagogue as an individual and then joins the community. The first verse mentions bowing toward the sanctuary; some people bow in the direction of the ark upon entering the synagogue.

I ENTER YOUR HOUSE אָבֹא בֵּיתְךָ. Psalm 5:8. Although the verse originally referred to the Temple in Jerusalem, references describing the Temple came to be applied to the synagogue, which the sages called a mikdash me'at, “a minor sanctuary.” In this, they were interpreting the prophet Ezekiel, who assures the exiles in Babylonia that God is with them in the “small sanctuaries” of foreign lands (Ezekiel 11:16).

I LOVE YOUR HOUSE אֶהְבֵּתִי מֵעוֹן בֵּיתְךָ. Psalm 26:8. Here again, the original reference was to the Temple, but it was later understood to describe the synagogue.

I WILL BOW AND PROSTRATE MYSELF וְאֲשַׁתְּחֶה וְאֶכְרַעָה. The liturgy recasts Psalm 95:6 from the plural to the singular, as all the passages opening the service are phrased in the singular. The ancient rabbis declared that the bowing performed during the Amidah fulfilled the function of kneeling and prostration. Today, prostration takes place in the synagogue only on the High Holy Days, though some medieval pietistic practices emphasized kneeling while praying at home.

RESPOND TO ME עֲנֵנִי. Psalm 69:14. Perhaps the most primal prayer: may our words be heard and responded to.

AT DAWN I SEEK YOU שָׁחַר אֶבְקַשְׁךָ. This poem was written by Solomon וְכוּ Gabirol (1021–1058, Spain) as a morning meditation to be recited by the prayer leader. It begins with a confession of human inadequacy, even to offer prayers, but ends by evoking the soul—the spirit of God in each human being, and the source of human inspiration.

Teach me, God, to bless and to pray for the secret within the enfolded leaf,
the glow of a ripening fruit,
and this freedom:

Teach my lips how to bless and sing praises as Your time is renewed with the arrival of morning that my day today be not like my yesterdays, that my day not simply be habit.

Our Relation to Others

Putting on the Tallit

While reciting the meditation and the b'rakhah, it is customary to hold the tallit. After saying the b'rakhah we enwrap ourselves with it. Some have the custom of first wrapping the tallit around their head and body, symbolically surrounding themselves with the Presence of God, and then draping it around their shoulders.

Let me praise ADONAI—for You, ADONAI my God, are surely great;
clothed in glory and majesty, wrapped in a cloak of light,
You stretch out the heavens like a sheet of cloth.

Barukh atah ADONAI, our God, sovereign of time and space, who has provided us with a path to holiness through the observance of mitzvot and has instructed us to enwrap ourselves with tzitzit.

Barukh atah Adonai eloheinu melekh ha-olam, asher kid'shanu b'mitzvotav v'tzivanu l'hitateif ba-tzitzit.

Just as I wrap my body in a tallit, so may my soul wrap itself in the light of Your Presence.

How precious is Your kindly love, God, that human beings are sheltered in the shadow of Your wings!

They are sated with the abundance in Your house;
You give them drink from Your delightful streams.
You are the source of life; in Your light do we see light.

Ki im'kha m'kor hayim, b'or'kha nireh or.

Pour out Your love to those who would know You,
and Your righteousness to those whose hearts are true.

OUR RELATION TO OTHERS

I hereby accept the obligation of fulfilling the Creator's mitzvah as written in the Torah:
Love your neighbor as yourself.

offered a physical offering, which, rising to heaven, has been returned to us as spiritual nourishment.

וְאַהֲבַת לְרַעֲךָ
Leviticus 19:18. The mystic Isaac Luria (1534–1572, Safed) began each day with this reminder of the command to love, believing that this commitment to try to love others—even if we are as yet unable to fulfill it completely—is a necessary condition of our experiencing divine love.

PUTTING ON THE TALLIT.
As explained in Numbers 15:39–40, the tzitzit, the fringes of the tallit, serve to remind us of the Torah's mitzvot and of the ideal of holiness to which we are summoned.

LET ME PRAISE נִפְשֵׁי

HOW PRECIOUS מֵה יִקָּר
Psalm 36:8–11. These verses speak of God's protection. With their recitation, being enwrapped in the tallit becomes an embodiment of being enfolded in the wings of the Shekhinah. In Hebrew, the word for wing, kanaf, is the same as the word for corner (on which the tzitzit are tied). Thus, the corners of the tallit become symbolic of the wings of the Shekhinah, God's Presence.

ABUNDANCE מִדָּשֶׁן
This Hebrew word is primarily used in the Torah to describe the sacrificial elements burnt on the altar. Thus, to say that we are sated by God's deshen, abundance, suggests that God gives us back the gifts we have offered—though in the hands of God they have been transformed: we

Who Gives Sight to the Blind

When we thank God for giving sight to the blind, we express thankfulness not only for the literal gift of sight, but also for our capacity for insight, for our ability to be aware of the world around us, and for the capacity to understand ourselves and our world.

Rabbi Benjamin said: We are all blind until the Holy One enlightens our eyes, as the Bible records regarding Hagar, “And God opened her eyes and she saw a well” (Genesis 21:19).

—GENESIS RABBAH

Imitating God

Our prayers thanking God for the clothes we wear and for the ability to stand up and walk about are also a reminder of the imperative for us to provide clothing for the “naked,” to offer help to those who are in physical need, and to defend those who are unjustifiably “bound.” The ancient rabbis commented on the verse, “You shall follow Adonai your God...” (Deuteronomy 13:5)—just as God is kind and loving, so too you should be kind and loving; just as God performs acts of generosity, so should you; just as God is patient, so should you be, as it is written, “You shall make yourselves holy, for I, Adonai your God, am holy” (Leviticus 19:2).

BLESSINGS FOR A NEW DAY בְּרִכּוֹת הַשָּׁחַר. As reported in the Babylonian Talmud, most of the b'rakhot in this collection were originally recited at home as one went through the daily acts of waking and rising (Berakhot 60b). Each passage extols God as we begin the day: on arising from sleep, on hearing the birds sing, on dressing, on taking one's first steps, and so on. Maimonides stated: “These b'rakhot are without a prescribed order; each is to be recited only on the appropriate occasion... and not as part of the synagogue service” (Mishneh Torah, Hilkhot Tefillah 7:7, 9). Other authorities, however, beginning with the siddur of Rav Amram Gaon in the 9th century, recommended the public recitation of these b'rakhot. This has been the standard Ashkenazic practice to this day; the common Sephardic practice is to recite these b'rakhot privately and to begin the service with the morning psalms.

BARUKH בְּרוּךְ. Many commentators argue that the word barukh is not a passive verb meaning “blessed,” but rather an adjective descriptive of God: God is the wellspring of all blessings. (The similar-sounding Hebrew word b'reikhah means “pool of water.”) Thus the opening words of a b'rakhah are an acknowledgment that God is the source of all blessings (Meir ibn Gabbai).

WHO ENABLES THE BIRD TO DISTINGUISH אֲשֶׁר נָתַן לְשִׁכְוִי בִינָה. We are a part of the natural world, responding to the morning sunlight as does all of nature. This first blessing attributes understanding to the animal realm and points to humans taking instruction from them.

The language is taken from the Book of Job (38:36), where God responds to Job out of the whirlwind, saying: “Who placed wisdom in the most hidden places? Who gave understanding to the bird? Who is wise enough to describe the heavens?” The word used for bird is sekhvi, and the Babylonian Talmud identifies it as a rooster (Rosh Hashanah 26a).

WHO MADE ME IN THE DIVINE IMAGE שֶׁעָשָׂנִי בְּצַלְמוֹ. This blessing and the next one (“who made me free”) are versions of blessings mentioned in the Tosefta (Berakhot 6:18) and in the Babylonian Talmud (Menahot 43b). They have been emended in Conservative prayer-books on the basis of manuscript fragments, found in the Cairo Genizah.

WHO MADE ME A JEW שֶׁעָשָׂנִי יִשְׂרָאֵל. This positive formulation is the wording in the Babylonian Talmud (Menahot 43b).

WHO GIVES SIGHT TO THE BLIND פּוֹקֵחַ עֵוְרִים. Said when opening the eyes. Many of these blessings are taken from the psalmist's descriptions of God's actions: “... sets prisoners free... restores sight to the blind... makes those who are bent stand straight...” (Psalm 146:7–8).

WHO CLOTHES THE NAKED מַלְבִּישׁ עֲרֻמִּים. God's clothing of Adam and Eve (Genesis 3:21) was an act of kindness exhibited to these first humans, even as they were exiled from the Garden.

May it be Your will, our God and God of our ancestors, that You accustom us to study Your Torah and cling to Your mitzvot;

do not lead us into error, or transgression, or sin,
nor subject us to trials or disgrace.

Do not let the inclination to evil control us,
and distance us from people who would do us evil and from friends who commit evil;

spur in us the yearning to do good and to act with goodness.

Bend our will and our desires to Your service.

► Today and every day, may You look upon us, and may all who see us look upon us, with eyes filled with kindness, love, and compassion. Act toward us with kindly love.

WHO RELEASES THE BOUND מַתִּיר אֲסוּרִים. Releasing the fetters of wickedness, freeing the oppressed, feeding the hungry, and providing for the homeless are mentioned by the prophet Isaiah as acts that God desires of human beings (58:6).

WHO STRAIGHTENS THOSE WHO ARE BENT זוֹקֵף כְּפוּפִים. Literally, “making those who are bowed down stand upright.” This phrase, as found in Psalm 146:8, is the biblical warrant for standing up straight when God’s name is pronounced, after having bowed at the beginning of a blessing.

WHO STRETCHES OUT THE EARTH OVER THE WATERS רוֹקֵעַ הָאָרֶץ עַל הַמַּיִם. Psalm 136:6. Genesis depicts dry land being formed from the splitting of the primal waters.

MAY IT BE YOUR WILL וְיִהְיֶה רְצוֹן. A prayer recorded in the Babylonian Talmud (Berakhot 60b).

TRIALS נִסְיוֹן. The trials of life are many: confronting personal illness or tragic situations, difficult ethical dilemmas, temptations that may endanger us. In addition, because faith is often accompanied by doubt, and even the strongest faith may be vulnerable in trying times, we hope that today will affirm rather than challenge our faith.

INCLINATION TO EVIL יַצָּר הָרָע. The ancient rabbis believed that we are subject to impulses that lead us to do good or evil. For instance, competitiveness can spur us to exert greater energy but it can also lead to hurtful behavior. The yearning for fame and the approbation of others can influence us to perform acts of kindness and to exercise leadership roles, but it can also produce egos that are never satisfied. We yearn to do good, but we are often impeded by our jealousies, our self-concern, and our desire for mastery and conquest.

Both in Private and in Public

The Torah directs that the ark, which was to contain the tablets, be overlaid with gold both inside and out (Exodus 25:11). The ancient rabbis asked: Why must it be golden on the inside, where, after all, no one will see it? To teach us that we are like the ark—our outer lives and our inner lives should be consistent.

—BABYLONIAN TALMUD

Who We Are

The Hasidic master Simḥah Bunam taught: Each person should carry in his or her pockets two notes. One should read, “The world was created for me.” The other should read, “I am but dust and ashes.”

Descendants of Abraham

What is at stake in our lives is more than the fate of one generation. In this moment we, the living, are Israel. The tasks begun by the patriarchs and prophets, and carried out by countless Jews of the past, are now entrusted to us. No other group has superseded them. We are the only channel of Jewish tradition, those who must save Judaism from oblivion, those who must hand over the entire past to the generations to come. We are either the last, the dying, Jews or else we are those who will give new life to our tradition. Rarely in our history has so much been dependent upon one generation. We shall either forfeit or enrich the legacy of the ages.

—ABRAHAM JOSHUA HESCHEL

Living with Life’s Tensions

We are caught in the tension between our roles as unique beings capable of great accomplishment, and the knowledge that we are mortal and that our fate is to die and disappear. Prayer helps mediate this tension by impressing on us a sense of thankfulness for the gift of life, the gift of a single day.

A Penitential Prayer

Both in private and in public, a person should always be in awe of heaven, acknowledging the truth, speaking truth in one’s heart, and upon arising one should declare:

Master of all worlds! Not upon our merit do we rely in pleading before You, but upon Your great compassion.

What are we? What is our life?

Our goodness? Our righteousness?

Our achievement? Our power? Our victories?

What shall we say in Your presence,

ADONAI our God and God of our ancestors?

Heroes count as nothing in Your presence, the famous are as though they had never been,

the wise seem ignorant, the clever as lacking reason.

For the sum of our deeds is chaos;

in Your presence our lives seem futile.

Human beings have no superiority over beasts, for all is vanity.

Surely, though, we are Your people, partners to Your covenant: descendants of Abraham, who loved You, to whom You made a pledge on Mount Moriah; the seed of Isaac, his designated heir, who was bound upon the altar; the congregation of Jacob, Your firstborn son, whom You renamed Israel and Jeshurun because of the love You bore him, and the delight he gave You.

לְעוֹלָם יִהְיֶה אָדָם יָרֵא שָׁמַיִם בְּסִתְרָם וּבְגִלּוֹי, וּמוֹדָה עַל הָאֱמֶת, וְדוֹבֵר אֱמֶת בְּלִבּוֹ, וַיִּשְׁפֹּם וַיֹּאמֶר:

וְאֲנָשֵׁי הַשָּׁם כְּלֹא הָיוּ,
וְחַכְמַיִם כְּבָלִי מִדַּע, וּנְבוֹנִים כְּבָלִי הַשֶּׁפֶל.

שֶׁנִּשְׁבַּעְתָּ לּוֹ בְּהַר הַמּוֹרִיָּה, זָרַע יִצְחָק יְחִידוֹ,
שֶׁנֶּעְקַד עַל גְּבֵי הַמְּזֻבָּח, עֲדַת יַעֲקֹב בְּנוֹ בְּכוֹרָךְ, שֶׁמֵּאֱהָבְתָךְ שָׂאֵהְבַת אוֹתוֹ, וּמִשְׁמַחְתָּךְ שִׁשְׁמַחְתָּ בּוֹ, קִרְאתָ אֶת־שְׁמוֹ יִשְׂרָאֵל וַיִּשְׁרוּן.

the same as used in the opening verses of Kohelet (Ecclesiastes) and variously translated there as “vanity,” “futility,” and “fleeting breath.”

ABRAHAM, WHO LOVED YOU בְּנֵי אַבְרָהָם אֱהָבָךָ. The phrase originates in 2 Chronicles 20:7.

TO WHOM YOU MADE A PLEDGE לּוֹ שֶׁנִּשְׁבַּעְתָּ לּוֹ. In some traditions, the biblical passage of the binding of Isaac is read before this prayer. After the binding of Isaac, the angel promises Abraham in God’s name, “I will bestow My blessing upon you and make your descendants as numerous as the stars of heaven and the sands on the seashore; and your descendants shall seize the gates of their foes. All the nations of the earth shall bless themselves by your descendants because you have obeyed My command” (Genesis 22:17–18).

WHOM YOU RENAMED ISRAEL יִשְׂרָאֵל אֶת־שְׁמוֹ יִשְׂרָאֵל. Abraham, Sarah, and Jacob all had their names changed by God as a sign of God’s promise to them. In Jacob’s case this name change is recorded twice—once when he wrestles with the angel, and then again when God appears to him at Bethel as he is about to descend to Egypt and blesses him: “Be fertile and increase; a nation, yes, an assembly of nations, shall descend from you...” (Genesis 35:11–12). Isaac, though, was named by God in the womb (17:19) and so always kept his name (Talmud of the Land of Israel, Berakhot 1:4).

AND JESHURUN וַיִּשְׁרוּן. Another name for the people Israel (Deuteronomy 32:15, Isaiah 44:2). It is derived from the word meaning “upright.”

A PERSON SHOULD ALWAYS BE IN AWE OF HEAVEN לְעוֹלָם יִהְיֶה אָדָם יָרֵא שָׁמַיִם. This passage is taken from the 1st-millennium midrash Seder Eliyahu Rabbah (chapter 19). The midrash is interpreting Isaiah 33:18, “Your heart shall murmur in awe.”

WHAT ARE WE? WHAT IS OUR LIFE? מָה אֲנַחְנוּ, מָה חַיֵּינוּ. The phrase is mentioned in the Babylonian Talmud as forming an essential formula of confession (Yoma 87b). Originally it was part of the Yom Kippur liturgy, but it was thought to be appropriate to be recited daily. Throughout the Middle Ages it was a custom of the pious to rise in the middle of the night to pray and study; this was thought to be a time when God’s mercy could especially be called upon. This prayer became part of that nightly ritual, which included a confession of sins and a plea for forgiveness. Its place in this part of the prayerbook is a remnant of this penitential custom.

Therefore it is our duty to thank You and glorify You, to bless and sanctify and praise Your name.

► How blessed we are:
how goodly is our portion,
how delightful our lot,
how beautiful our inheritance!
How blessed are we that twice each day, morning and evening,
as we awaken and as we end our day, we say:

Hear, O Israel, ADONAI is our God, ADONAI is one.

The Song of "You"

Levi Yitzhak of Berditchev used to sing a song, part of which is as follows:

Where I wander —You!
Where I ponder —You!
Only You, You again,
always You!
You! You! You!
When I am gladdened
—You!
When I am saddened
—You!
Only You, You again,
always You!
You! You! You!
Sky is You! Earth is You!
You above! You below!
In every trend,
at every end,
Only You, You again,
always You!
You! You! You!

(translated by Olga Marx)

You were before the world was created, and You are since creation;
You are in this world,
and You will be in the world that is coming.
You are ADONAI our God, in the heavens and on earth, even in the highest heavens.
Truly,
You are first and You are last,
and beside You, there is no other.
► Manifest Your holiness through those who hallow Your name, and hallow Your name in this world;
as Your deliverance arrives, raise up our heads with pride.
Barukh atah ADONAI, who sanctifies Your name through community.

בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה יְהוָה, מְקַדְּשׁ אֶת־שִׁמְךָ בְּרַבִּים.

שְׁמַע יִשְׂרָאֵל HEAR, O ISRAEL. Although the full Sh'ma will be recited later in the service, its first line was inserted here to fulfill the obligation of reciting the Sh'ma "when you rise up"; it was recited at home. Similarly in the evening, though the Sh'ma is recited as part of the evening service, the first paragraph is said again before retiring, in order to fulfill the scriptural obligation of reciting it "when you lie down" (Deuteronomy 6:7).

אַתָּה הוּא YOU WERE This emphatic phrase (literally, "You are the one who...") appears a total of seven times in this passage. Given that the number seven has mystical significance, this sevenfold refrain may have served as a meditational exercise.

BEFORE THE WORLD WAS CREATED עַד שְׁלֹא נִבְרָא הָעוֹלָם. A credal statement to the effect that God is beyond time also follows the Sh'ma recited later in the morning service (see page 157). Both are perhaps intended as an interpretation of the meaning of God's uniqueness affirmed in the Sh'ma: the God who is one is eternal.

TRULY, YOU ARE FIRST אַמֵּת, אַתָּה הוּא רִאשׁוֹן. These words are adapted from Isaiah 44:6, where God proclaims: "I am the first and I am the last, and there is no God but Me."

Blessings Before Study

כ

One should say the blessings on the Torah in the morning as if one were once again standing at Sinai receiving the Torah from God.

—JACOB BEN ASHER

ב

The purpose of saying blessings over the Torah is to remind us that study of Torah is not only an intellectual task but also a spiritual one—study of Torah should lead to deeper and deeper spiritual experience. Through Torah study we build the Temple where heaven and earth meet.

—JOEL SIRKES

And Bestow Upon You Kindness

Some say the meaning of the phrase in the Priestly Blessing is that God will look kindly on you and grant you that which you wish. Others interpret the phrase to mean that God will bless you so that you are treated with kindness by others.

—SIFREI NUMBERS

B'rakhot Before Studying Torah

Barukh atah ADONAI, our God, sovereign of time and space, who has provided us with a path to holiness through the observance of mitzvot and has instructed us to engage with the words of Torah.

Barukh atah Adonai eloheinu melekh ha-olam, asher kid'shanu b'mitzvotav v'tzivanu la-asok b'divrei torah.

May You make the words of Your Torah sweet in our mouths and in the mouths of the house of Israel, Your people, so that we, our children, and all the children of the house of Israel may come to know Your name and study Torah for its own sake.

Barukh atah ADONAI, who teaches Torah to Your people Israel.

Barukh atah ADONAI, our God, sovereign of time and space, who has chosen us from among all peoples, giving us the Torah.

Barukh atah ADONAI, who gives the Torah.

Passages of Study

TORAH:

May ADONAI bless and protect you.

May ADONAI's countenance shine upon you and may ADONAI bestow kindness upon you.

May ADONAI's countenance be lifted toward you and may ADONAI grant you peace.

Numbers 6:24–26

MISHNAH:

These are the deeds for which there is no prescribed measure: leaving the produce at the corner of a field for the poor, offering the gift of first fruits to the Temple, pilgrimage offerings on the three festivals, deeds of kindness and love, and the study of Torah. Mishnah Peah 1:1

TALMUD:

These are the deeds that yield immediate fruit and continue to yield fruit in time to come: honoring parents; performing deeds of kindness and love; attending the house of study morning and evening; providing hospitality; visiting the sick; helping the needy bride; attending the dead; probing the meaning of prayer; making peace between one person and another, and between husband and wife. And the study of Torah is the most basic of them all. based on Babylonian Talmud, Kiddushin 39b ברוך אתה יהוה, נותן התורה.

TORAH:

ישא יהוה פניו אליך וישם לך שלום. במדבר ו:כד-כו

MISHNAH:

THE CORNER OF A FIELD FOR THE POOR הפאה. Leaving the corner of the field for the poor may be the simplest of acts: it is entirely passive and the Mishnah teaches that the amount one leaves for the poor is totally up to each individual. Maimonides elaborates all the laws of tzedakah in the section of his law code dealing with this mitzvah, as if to say that tzedakah begins with the simplest of acts.

THESE ARE THE DEEDS THAT YIELD IMMEDIATE FRUIT הן בעולם הזה. This list from tractate Kiddushin was expanded through the Middle Ages (Mishneh Torah, Hilkhot Matnot Aniyyim), and variations are extant in different prayerbooks; “peace between husband and wife” is one such addition.

TO ENGAGE WITH THE WORDS OF TORAH לעסוק בַּדְּבָרֵי תוֹרָה. The blessing is not phrased “to learn Torah,” as if Torah were something fixed that one could acquire. When we “engage” with Torah we become active participants: querying it, drawing out its implications, and incorporating its teachings into our lives.

TO KNOW YOUR NAME יוֹדְעֵי שְׁמֶךָ. To know God's name is to act in a holy way—justly, compassionately, truthfully.

PASSAGES OF STUDY. The ancient rabbis categorized three types of study: biblical study (mikra); study of the oral tradition, which became codified in the Mishnah (circa 225 C.E.); and study of the elaboration of that tradition (called in Aramaic g'mara and in Hebrew talmud). Versions of that process constitute the Talmud of the Land of Israel (edited until the year 425 C.E.) and the Babylonian Talmud (edited in the 6th–7th centuries C.E.). Having recited the blessings over studying Torah, one should then proceed to engage in study—and the traditional liturgy immediately offers examples of these three kinds of study.

Kaddish D'Rabbanan

Many congregations recite Kaddish D'Rabbanan here. Traditionally, Kaddish D'Rabbanan has been recited by mourners and those observing Yahrzeit, but it may be recited by anyone who has read or heard the teaching of a text based on Torah.

May God's great name be exalted and hallowed throughout the created world, as is God's wish. May God's sovereignty soon be established, in your lifetime and in your days, and in the days of all the house of Israel.

And we say: Amen.

May God's great name be acknowledged forever and ever!

May the name of the Holy One be acknowledged and celebrated, lauded and worshipped, exalted and honored, extolled and acclaimed—though God, who is blessed, b'rikh hu, is truly [on Shabbat Shuvah we add: far] beyond all acknowledgment and praise, or any expressions of gratitude or consolation ever spoken in the world. And we say: Amen.

Grant abundant peace to our people and their leaders, to our teachers and their disciples, and to all who engage in the study of Torah in this land and in all other lands. May you and they be blessed by our creator in heaven with great peace, grace and kindness, compassion and love, and long life, abundance, and deliverance. And we say: Amen.

May heaven bestow on us, and on all Israel, life and abundant and lasting peace. And we say: Amen.

May the one who creates peace on high mercifully bring peace to us and to all Israel [and to all who dwell on earth]. And we say: Amen.

ON SHABBAT: PSALM 92

Today is Shabbat, the day on which the Levites recited this psalm in the Temple:

A PSALM: THE SONG OF THE DAY OF SHABBAT

It is good to thank You, ADONAI, and sing to Your name, Most High; to proclaim Your love at daybreak, Your faithfulness each night.

Finger the lute, pluck the harp, let the sound of the lyre rise up.

You gladdened me with Your deeds, ADONAI, and I shall sing of Your handiwork.

How wonderful are Your works, ADONAI, how subtle Your designs!

The arrogant do not understand, the fool does not comprehend this: the wicked flourish like grass and every evildoer blossoms, only to be destroyed forever—

but You, ADONAI, are exalted for all time.

Surely Your enemies, ADONAI, surely Your enemies will perish; all who commit evil will be scattered.

As a wild bull raises up its horn, You raised my head high, anointed it with fresh oil.

As my enemies gather against me, my gaze remains steady, for my ears listen and hear:

The righteous flourish like the date palm, thrive like a cedar in Lebanon; planted in the house of ADONAI, they flourish in our God's courtyards.

► In old age they remain fruitful, still fresh and bountiful, proclaiming: ADONAI is upright, my rock in whom there is no flaw.

Tzadik katamar yifrah, k'erez balvanon yisgeh.

Sh'tulim b'veit Adonai, b'hatzrot eloheinu yafrihu.

► Od y'nuvun b'seivah, d'sheinim v'ra-ananim yihyu.

L'hagid ki yashar Adonai, tzuri v'lo avlatah bo.

SHABBAT AND FESTIVAL PSALMS. Since the late Middle Ages, it has been customary to recite a special psalm for each day of the week, a custom based on the Mishnah's report that these psalms were recited in the Temple by the Levites (Tamid 7:4). Tractate Sofrim (18:3–4), a minor tractate of the Talmud, records that on festivals, other psalms appropriate to these occasions were recited. Accordingly, we include here the traditional psalm for Shabbat and the New Moon, as well as a psalm for each of the festivals.

PSALM 92 begins by contemplating the wonder of creation and ends with a vision of the righteous flourishing in God's house. It thus celebrates two themes of Shabbat: Shabbat as the day of appreciating creation and Shabbat as a taste of redemption.

ALL WHO COMMIT EVIL WILL BE SCATTERED In this specific vision of the end-time, enemies are not destroyed, but simply made ineffective.

ANOIDED IT WITH FRESH OIL בַּלְתֵּי בְשֵׁמֶן רַעֲנָן. The Hebrew may be translated "You anointed me with fresh oil," but Radak (David Kimhi, 1160–1235, Provence) suggests that the object of the verb is the speaker's head mentioned in the first part of the verse; the anointing is ceremonial, giving the speaker a special divine function and blessing. The faithful thus become God's royal entourage.

Psalm 30: An Interpretive Translation

... Sing to the Lord you who love God; thank God from the depths of your hearts. For though God may seem to be absent, in God's presence is eternal life. Tears may linger when night falls, but joy arrives with the dawn. Therefore my soul blesses God with every breath that I take. My song will thank God forever, and my silence will be filled with God's praise.

FOR THE MORNING: PSALM 30

A PSALM, A SONG FOR THE DEDICATION OF THE HOUSE, FOR DAVID

I raise my voice to praise You, ADONAI, for You have lifted me up and not allowed my enemies to rejoice over me.

ADONAI my God, I cried out to You and You healed me.

ADONAI, You raised me up from Sheol, You gave me life and did not let me descend into the pit.

Sing to ADONAI, faithful people; praise God, as you pronounce God's name.

Surely God's anger lasts but for a moment, and when God is pleased, life is granted.

One may lie down crying at night, but wake in the morning with joyful song.

I had said when I was tranquil, "I shall never be undone."

ADONAI, when it pleased You, You made me a mountain of strength, but when You hid Your face, I was terrified.

I called to You, ADONAI;

I pleaded before my Master:

"What would be the gain, were I to go down to the grave? Can dust praise You? Can it speak of Your truth?"

Hear me, ADONAI, and be kind to me; be my helper, ADONAI."

► You turned my mourning into a dance for me, You undid my sackcloth and girded me with joy—that I might sing of Your glory and not be silent: ADONAI my God, I thank You, always.

PSALM 30 precedes the section of psalms and songs called P'sukei D'zimra, "Verses of Song." In the context of the morning's prayers, its mention of being rescued from Sheol, the netherworld, might be seen as grateful acknowledgment of the blessing of awakening from sleep. In its biblical context, Psalm 30 may be viewed as a song of thanksgiving after overcoming disease and illness.

In a fashion that is true of many psalms, this poem moves between past and present, between intimations of illness and affirmations of health, and between fear and joy. Knowing how vulnerable we are and how unpredictable our fate, we can thank God that we are alive and able to pray as we wake to a new day.

Psalm 30 was added to the liturgy in the 17th century under the influence of Lurianic mysticism. It mentions the name of God ten times, and Jewish mystics saw in this a hint of the s'frot, the ten aspects of the Godhead.

FOR THE DEDICATION OF

THE HOUSE הַבַּיִת הַנִּכְתָּה. Perhaps this psalm was meant to be recited in honor of a donor for repairs or renovations of the Temple. In the later rabbinic reading, the inauguration of the "house" might be seen as the synagogue. The mystics who added this psalm to the liturgy thought that it alluded to the human resurrection of the body (that is, the house of the soul) in the morning, and to our entering the fully revealed divine house (that is, a new day). The midrash understood the psalm's superscription to be an expression of David's yearning to build the Temple, remarking that the Temple is called David's and not Solomon's (even though the latter built it)—because it was David who had yearned to build it (Numbers Rabbah 12:9).

YOU HAVE LIFTED ME UP דָּלִיתִנִּי. The Hebrew verb is used for drawing water from a well and is consonant with the image in the following verses of being raised from the pit.

GOD'S ANGER בָּאִפּוֹ. The modern Jewish theologian Abraham Joshua Heschel points out that in the Bible, God's anger is always directed against moral corruption. The anthropomorphic image is intended to evoke the sense of violation and disruption of harmony caused by injustice and ethical lapses.

Holding On and Letting Go

Hold on and let go.
On the surface of things contradictory counsel.
But one does not negate
the other.
The two are complementary, dialectical
two sides of one coin.

Hold on—death is not the final word
The grave no oblivion.

Hold on in Kaddish, yahrzeit, Yizkor.
No gesture, no kindness,
no smile evaporates—Every kindness, every embrace has its afterlife in our minds, our hearts,
our hands.

Hold on Not enslaving memory that sells the future to the past nor recollection that makes us passive, listless, resigned.

But memory that releases us for a new life.

The flow of life—
the divine process gives and takes retains and creates.

Return the dust to the earth not to bury hope but to resurrect the will to live.

Thanking God

Rabbi Yohanan said in the name of Rabbi Shimon bar Yoḥai: From the day that the Holy One created the world, there was no one who praised and thanked (hodeh) the Holy One, until Leah came and praised God. For she said: "This time will I praise and thank (odeh) Adonai" (Genesis 29:35), giving the name "Judah" (y'hudah) to her newborn son.

Thus, the name "Jew," derived from "Judah," means "thankful."

Creating Through Speech

Just as divine speech created the world, so too with human speech: what we give voice to becomes more substantive, more real. Prayer, like all human speech, is a creative act. The prayers that we utter shape our inner lives. Our new consciousness causes us to relate differently to the world around us, and it thus prompts us to shape a different external reality.

It is customary to stand for the opening and closing b'rakhot of P'sukei D'zimra.

Introductory B'rakhah

Blessed is the one whose word called the world into being. Barukh hu. Blessed be the One.

Blessed is the one who created the world. Barukh sh'mo. Blessed be the divine name.

Blessed is the one who speaks and it is done. Barukh hu.

Blessed is the one who decrees and fulfills. Barukh sh'mo.

Blessed is the one who has compassion for the earth. Barukh hu.

Blessed is the one who has compassion for all creatures. Barukh sh'mo.

Blessed is the one who sends a just reward to those who revere the Divine. Barukh hu.

Blessed is the one who is eternal, who exists forever. Barukh sh'mo.

Blessed is the one who redeems and rescues. Barukh hu u-varukh sh'mo.

Barukh atah ADONAI, our God, sovereign of time and space, compassionate creator celebrated in Your people's voices, praised and glorified by the words of Your faithful servants and in Your servant David's songs.

We will celebrate You, ADONAI our God, with praise and song; we will extol, acclaim, and glorify You, honoring Your name and declaring that You are our sovereign God.

► The singular one who gives life to the world—the sovereign, who is praised and glorified, forever and ever—this is Your great name.

all of creation emanates from God's spoken fiat. For example, on the very first day, "God said, 'Let there be light'—and there was light" (Genesis 1:3).

BARUKH HU, BLESSED BE THE ONE בְּרוּךְ הוּא The last line of the introductory call and response reads barukh sh'mo, "blessed be the divine name." Taken together, the first two words of response and the last two words of the series form the phrase barukh hu u-varukh sh'mo, "blessed be the One and blessed be the divine name," which is commonly used as a response to hearing the name of God. Practices differ as to the call and response during the recitation of this poem. A version that has recently become popular includes reciting the words printed here in gray.

COMPASSIONATE CREATOR הַאֵב הַרְחֵמוּ The word translated here as "compassionate" comes from the root r-h-m, which also means "womb." Thus, this particular phrase can be understood as "the fatherly womb," and wonderfully captures the way that God transcends gender.

EXTOL, ACCLAIM, AND GLORIFY YOU נְגַדְלֶךָ וּנְשַׁבַּחְךָ וּנְפָאֲרֶךָ The blessing announces that the psalms to be recited in this section will be those that acclaim God, not those that express the personal plight of the psalmist. Repetition of similar sounding verbal synonyms in Hebrew is a means of creating a meditative atmosphere.

BARUKH SHE-AMAR. Once the inclusion of P'sukei D'zimra ("Verses of Song") was codified by the geonim (the rabbinic leaders of the influential Babylonian Jewish community in the latter half of the 1st millennium), they ordained that it be preceded and followed with formal blessings: the opening blessing recited here and the blessing at the section's conclusion (page 148). Most of the passages recited in this section are biblical and, therefore, this prayer calls them "the words of Your faithful servants." "David's songs" refers to the psalms, which constitute the bulk of this section; many scholars believe that Psalms 145–150 (pages 136–141) constituted the original core of P'sukei D'zimra.

CALLED THE WORLD INTO BEING וְהָיָה הָעוֹלָם. God is often referred to by the sages as "the one whose word called the world into being." This is based on the story in Genesis 1, in which

Birds wake the world chirping aloud,

You endow birds with the talent to sing

David's Prayer: The Dedication of the Ark

Give thanks to ADONAI, call out in God's name.
Let all peoples know of God's deeds.
Sing to God,
hymn to God,
describe all of God's wondrous acts,
exult in God's holy name.
May all who yearn for ADONAI find rejoicing in their hearts.
Seek ADONAI, acclaim God, constantly crave God's presence.
Remember the wonders God wrought,
God's marvelous deeds and judgment.
Seed of Israel, God's servant, treasured children of Jacob, ADONAI is our God:
all the earth is subject to God's law.
Always remember God's covenant—words binding for a thousand generations—made with Abraham, promised to Isaac,
and affirmed in a decree to Jacob,
an everlasting covenant with Israel, saying:
I will give you the land of Canaan, as your apportioned inheritance.

You were few in number then, hardly dwelling there.
As you wandered from people to people,
from one nation to another,
God did not let anyone oppress you,
but admonished rulers, “Do not touch My anointed;
do not harm My prophets.”

1 CHRONICLES 16:8-36. This first biblical text in P'sukei D'zimra is recited daily and is taken from 1 Chronicles. The Chronicler describes David bringing the ark to Jerusalem, accompanied by levitical singing commissioned by him. The song itself is a medley of verses found in the Book of Psalms and is an example of biblical texts quoting one another. The first fourteen verses are a near-quotation of Psalm 105:1-14, the next section is almost the complete text of Psalm 96, and what follows are quotations of verses from various other psalms. According to an early midrashic text, this passage was sung by the Levites when the tamid, the daily sacrifice, was offered (Seder Olam Rabbah, ch. 14). Similarly, our daily service, like that performed in the Temple, is accompanied by this song. One contemporary liturgical scholar, Yisrael Ta-Shma, argues that P'sukei D'zimra, literally “Verses of Song,” derives its name from this prayer, which is an anthology of biblical verses, said to have been sung by the Levites.

ACCLAIM GOD וְעָזוּ. Some translate this word as “God's might”—that is: the ark, which is the manifestation of God's power.

TREASURED CHILDREN OF JACOB בְּנֵי יַעֲקֹב בְּחִירָיו B'hirav (from the root b-h-r) can mean “chosen.” Here we render it as “treasured” in light of its synonymous usage in Deuteronomy and elsewhere.

A THOUSAND GENERATIONS לְאֵלֶיךָ דָּוַר. This biblical expression conveys the idea of endless time.

From the Psalmist: A Song of Adoration

My prayer can have no other life than in my songs.
I stand revealed
by all the songs I pray.
My songs implore,
insist,
that they be heard by You who dwell in all the distances outside of time and space, and yet,
within all things.

My songs and I,
my prayers and contem-plations, dream of penetrating to the secrets of Your name.
I search Your nomenclature for my own identity and seek my features in the image that You made.
I am choiceless in the quest, except I sing of sorrow,
praise, and exaltation.

You are before all things and after them.
You bracket me within the horns
of void and nothingness.
You enfold me in the wings
of Your creation,
and then return me,
with the songs I pray,
to dust.

Sing to ADONAI, all the earth;
day after day tell of God's deliverance.
Tell the nations of God's glory, speak of God's wonders among all peoples.

For ADONAI is great, surely to be praised,
more to be revered than other gods.

► For the gods of the nations are man-made idols, but ADONAI fashioned the very heavens.

GRANDEUR AND GLORY are God's honor guard, strength and joy where God is found.

Offer to ADONAI, peoples of the world:

offer to ADONAI honor and strength, offer to ADONAI the honor due God's name;

bring a gift of thanksgiving and enter God's presence, bow to ADONAI amidst the splendor of this holy place.

Tremble before God's presence, all who dwell on earth,

but the land shall remain firm and not shaken.

Let the heavens be glad and the earth rejoice,

Yism'hu ha-shamayim v'tagel ha-aretz . . . yiram hayam u-m'lo-o.

as the peoples of the world declare, "ADONAI reigns."

Let the sea in its fullness roar, let the meadow and all that grows in it exult;

let the trees of the forest sing at God's approach, for ADONAI comes to judge the earth.

Give thanks to ADONAI, for God is good;

for God's love endures forever.

Say, "Rescue us, God of our deliverance;

gather us up and save us from amidst the nations, that we may praise Your holy name and bow in praise of You.

Blessed be ADONAI, the God of Israel, forever and ever!"

Then all the people responded,

"Amen, may ADONAI be praised."

The People Israel

Israel exists not in order to be but in order to dream the dream of God. Our faith may be strained, but our destiny is anchored to the ultimate. Who can establish the outcome of our history? Out of the wonder we came and into the wonder we shall return.

—ABRAHAM JOSHUA HESCHEL

An Anthology of Verses from Psalms: The Redemption of the People Israel

Exalt ADONAI, our God;
bow down before God, the Holy One.

► *Exalt ADONAI, our God, and bow down at God's holy mountain,
for ADONAI our God is holy.*

GOD, WHO IS COMPASSIONATE, will forgive sin and not wreak destruction;
for again and again God acts with restraint,
refusing to let rage become all-consuming.

You, ADONAI, will not withhold Your compassion from me, Your kindly love and Your faithfulness shall always be my protection.

Remember Your compassion, ADONAI, and Your love, for they are timeless.

With all your strength, greet God, whose pride is the people Israel and whose might is in the heavens.

*Awe of You, O God, fills Your holy places; it is You, God of Israel, who gives strength and greatness to this people.
May God be blessed.*

God of retribution, ADONAI,
God of retribution, reveal Yourself;
judge of all the earth, pass sentence—humble the haughty.

PSALMIC VERSES. The earliest form of poetic prayers composed after the destruction of the Second Temple contained associated biblical verses arranged in new patterns. Each verse is connected to the next through word repetition and thematic continuity. This prayer, which is an example of this form, centers on the redemption of the people Israel: it calls upon God to forgive sin—in rabbinic theology, sin was a cause of Israel's exile—and then calls for an end to the oppression of Israel by other nations. It concludes on the next page with the promised reconciliation of God and Israel.

The first two verses are taken from Psalm 99:5, 9. The italics in the translation are meant to emphasize that the verses often have an antiphonal quality; they may have originally been recited responsively, though today they may not necessarily be read that way.

BOW DOWN BEFORE GOD וְהִשְׁתַּחֲווּ לְהַדָּם רַגְלָיו. Literally, “bow down at God’s footstool.” In the ancient Near East, one prostrated oneself at the footstool of the king as a sign of obedience.

GOD, WHO IS COMPASSIONATE וְהוּא רַחוּם. Psalm 78:38. This is one of the most frequently quoted verses in the liturgy, perhaps because it is the clearest possible statement about God’s mercy. Mercy, not punishment, is fundamental to God’s nature. The entire verse has thirteen words, reminding us of the “Thirteen Attributes” of God’s mercy disclosed in Exodus 34:6–7.

YOU, ADONAI יְהוָה אַתָּה. Psalm 40:12.

REMEMBER YOUR COMPASSION זָכַר רַחֲמֶיךָ. Psalm 25:6.

WITH ALL YOUR STRENGTH, GREET GOD תָּנּוּ עַד לְאֱלֹהִים. Psalm 68:35–36.

YOUR HOLY PLACES מִמֶּקְדָּשֶׁיךָ. The Hebrew is plural. Before the reign of Hezekiah (late 7th century B.C.E.) there were multiple sanctuaries in the Land of Israel. In the liturgical context here, the reference may be to the synagogues throughout the world. Meiri (d. 1310, Provence) interprets the “holy places” to allude to the gatherings of the righteous and to their burial sites.

GOD OF RETRIBUTION אֵל נְקָמוֹת. Psalm 94:1–2. The context in the psalm makes clear that God’s wrath is invoked against those who behave immorally—oppressing the poor, the widow, and the stranger.

DON YOUR ROBES הַנִּשְׂא. Literally, “rise up.” In the ancient Near East, the judge rose to pass sentence.

Deliverance

Why am I not a flower, a human flower?

Bless me, bless my spirit with tenderness instead of might:

allow smiles instead of words to unfurl in me, giving light to this world always,

gifting love and good luck,
my hair, orchids.

Indoors, let my steps be fingers dancing on piano keys.

Tenderness, name of Divinity, be the image of God in me.

Deliverance is Yours, ADONAI;
may Your blessings be upon Your people forever.
ADONAI Tz'va·ot is with us.

The God of Jacob is our protection.

► ADONAI Tz'va·ot, blessed are those who trust in You.

ADONAI, deliver us!

Surely our sovereign will respond to us in the hour of our calling.

DELIVER AND BLESS this people, whom You have made Your own;
shepherd them and exalt them forever.

Hoshi-ah et amekha u-varekh et nahalatekha,
u-r'eim v'naseim ad ha-olam.

We await ADONAI,

our helper and protector.

Our hearts rejoice in God;

we have faith in God's holy name.

May Your love and kindness be with us, ADONAI,
for our hope is in You.

Show us Your love and kindness, and extend Your deliverance to us.

Arise and come to our help;
redeem us through Your kindly love.

"I am ADONAI your God who brought you up from the land of Egypt.

Open your mouth and I will satiate you."

Joyous the people who are so favored;

joyous the people whose God is ADONAI.

► I trust in Your love and kindness;
my heart rejoices in Your deliverance;

I sing to ADONAI for all that God has done for me.

ליהוה הישועה, על עמך ברכתך סלה.
יהוה צבאות עמנו, משגב לנו אלהי יעקב סלה.

◀ יהוה צבאות, אשרי אדם בטח בך.

יהי חסדך יהוה עלינו באשר יחלנו לך.

הראנו יהוה חסדך, וישעך תתן לנו.

אנכי יהוה אלהיך המעלך מארץ מצרים,

אשרי העם שפכה לו,

אשרי העם שיהוה אלהיו.

◀ ואני בחסדך בטחתי, יגל לבי בישועתך,

DELIVERANCE IS YOURS, ADONAI ליהוה הישועה. Psalm 3:9. Although the next three verses are taken from various psalms (46:8, 84:13, 20:10), each with its own subject, they are connected by similar words and phrases so that they create a new, coherent composition. The same verses are found in Havdalah, recited at the conclusion of Shabbat.

FOREVER סלה. Biblical scholars are not sure of the meaning of this word. It may simply be a musical notation. The ancient rabbis thought it meant "forever."

DELIVER . . . THIS PEOPLE הושיעה את-עמך. Psalm 28:9.

OUR LIVES DEPEND UPON ADONAI ליהוה חפתה. Psalm 33:20–22.

SHOW US YOUR LOVE AND KINDNESS יהוה חסדך. Psalm 85:8. The key word hesed, here translated as

"love and kindness," is mentioned three times in this and the following verses. The biblical meaning of the word hesed is love freely given, manifested in action.

ARISE AND COME TO OUR HELP קומה עזרתה לנו. Psalm 44:27.

I AM ADONAI YOUR GOD אנכי יהוה אלהיך. Psalm 81:11. The phrase recalls the first words of the Decalogue, but here God's speech continues with a promise of abundance.

OPEN YOUR MOUTH AND I WILL SATIATE YOU ואמלאהו. Literally, ". . . and I will fill it." In Psalm 81 this verse may refer to the manna that nourished Israel in the desert. In its liturgical context the manna takes on a spiritual meaning, as if God is saying: "If you open your mouths in prayer, I will provide you with appropriate words."

BLESSED IS THE PEOPLE אשרי העם. Psalm 144:15.

AS I SING אשרי. Psalm 13:6. The string of psalmic verses ends in song and an expression of thankfulness. There is also an intentional play of words: ashrei, "blessed," progresses to ashirah, "I sing."

The Words of My Mouth

When the words that I speak are the same as the promptings of my heart, then my voice is pleasing to God.

—JOSEPH ALBO

Nature's Speech

A prayer of Solomon—that I not understand the language of beasts and birds: not hear a snort as a lament, a yelp as a prayer, a chirp as a psalm; but let the melodies of the world pass by in simplicity and fill me with joy.

—SIVAN HAR-SHEFI

Redemption

God who creates nature, God who instructs us, is the same God who is capable of understanding the sincere, though sometimes misstated, plaint of the heart. Creation, now incomplete because of the rent in the human soul, can be made whole again, can be completed, as God faces the human, hears our speech, and forgives us. Prayer, the articulation of the human heart, has the power to effect this turning. It can initiate the reconciliation of God and creation—then I, in all my so very human self-contradictions, may be affirmed. God, who knows all and sees all, can understand my intent and find me, like the rest of creation, good.

FOR THE LEADER, A SONG OF DAVID

The heavens tell of God's glory, and the sky proclaims God's handiwork.

One day addresses another, and one night informs the next.

There is no speech, there are no words that are not heard, their reverberation travel over the entire earth, their message reaches the very edges of the world. In heaven's midst, there is a tent for the sun who, like a bridegroom from his wedding canopy, emerges joyously, a champion running the course, entering at heaven's edge, circling to the far side, nothing escaping its heat.

The teaching of ADONAI is perfect, reviving life; the covenant of ADONAI is enduring, making the foolish wise; the precepts of ADONAI are fitting, gladdening the heart; the command of ADONAI is clear, brightening the eyes; reverence of ADONAI is pure, forever right; the judgments of ADONAI are true, altogether just—more precious than gold, than the finest gold, sweeter than honey and drippings of the honeycomb. Truly, Your servant strives to be mindful of them—their observance is of such consequence.

Torat Adonai t'mimah, m'shivat nafesh, eidut Adonai ne-emanah, mahkimat peti, pikudei Adonai y'sharim, m'samhei lev, mitzvat Adonai barah, me'irat einayim, yirat Adonai t'horah, omedet la-ad, mishp'tei Adonai emet, tzadku yahdav,

Who can discern one's own errors? Cleanse me of those I am not even conscious, and restrain Your servant from willful sins—let them not rule me. Then shall I be innocent, untainted by grave transgression. ► May the words of my mouth and the meditations of my heart be acceptable to You, ADONAI, my rock and my redeemer.

"instruction" and is frequently used for divine instruction. The first two verses in the series speak in general terms of God's teaching and covenant; the next two, of the specific precepts and laws; and finally, the last two speak of ritual observance and the administration of justice.

THE COVENANT OF ADONAI יהוה. The first Hebrew word is used in the Bible to identify the tablets, luhot ha-aidut, on which the Ten Commandments were written.

MORE PRECIOUS THAN GOLD הַנְּחַמְדִּים מְזֻהָב. The poet has used six phrases to describe God's teaching; this seventh phrase is climactic, describing the fullness and wonder of the totality.

WILLFUL SINS מִזִּדִּים. This is how later Jewish interpreters understood the verse: willful sins are here contrasted with unconscious ones, and the poem's entire focus is on internal states. But many modern scholars translate the word as "enemies," in which case the verse would read: "Separate me from enemies, that they not rule over me; then I shall remain innocent, free of great transgression." Enemies might tempt one to act out of anger, seek vengeance, destroy, or even kill.

PSALM 19. Psalm 19 is the first of seven psalms (here indicated with Hebrew letters alef, bet, etc.) added for Shabbat and festivals. This psalm is composed of three parts: the first celebrates the magnificence of creation, especially the light of the sun; the second is a hymn to Torah, God's teachings; and the third is a personal plea by the psalmist for God's tolerance of human shortcomings.

THE HEAVENS TELL הַשָּׁמַיִם מְסַפְּרִים. The universe is pictured as alive, singing the praises of God and all that God has created. Many different verbs are used to describe speech: the heavens "tell," the sky "proclaims," one day "addresses" another, each night "informs" the next. Nature reflects God's speech, and Torah is God's direct speech. In contrast, our own human speech originates with us and therefore has the capacity to be sinful.

THE TEACHING OF ADONAI יהוה. The word torah literally means "teaching." In later Judaism the word refers to the Five Books of Moses, but in biblical parlance it simply means

Judge That Adonai Is Good

More literally, the phrase can be translated as “taste and see that Adonai is good.” The Hasidic master Rabbi Joshua Heschel of Apt taught: “Through everything you encounter in this world, you can see sparks of God. Taste from this world in such a way that you will see the goodness of God, but do not eat of this world with no sense of the Divine—for then you will have nothing.”

Depart From Evil and Do Good

“Depart from evil” means to stop obsessing over all the wrongs you have committed; let go of your guilt, and just go out and do good.

A PSALM OF DAVID, WHO FEIGNED MADNESS BEFORE AVIMELEKH AND WAS FORCED TO FLEE

I bless ADONAI at all times, praise of God is ever on my lips; I exult in ADONAI.

O humble people, listen and rejoice; join me in glorifying ADONAI—let us together acclaim God’s name.

I sought ADONAI, who answered me and saved me from my worst fears. Those who look to God become radiant, their faces will never be darkened with shame.

I, a poor person, cried out—and ADONAI heard, rescuing me from all troubles. The angel of ADONAI encamps round those who revere God, protecting them.

Judge for yourself and see that ADONAI is good; blessed is the one who finds shelter in God.

Revere ADONAI, holy people, for those who revere God experience no lack.

Starving lions may roar, but those who seek ADONAI lack nothing that is good.

Come children, listen to me, I will teach You to revere ADONAI.

Who is the person who desires life, loving what is good all one’s days? Guard your tongue from evil, your lips from speaking deceit, depart from evil and do good, seek peace and pursue it.

Mi ha-ish he-ḥafetz ḥayim, ohev yamim lirot tov.

N’tzor l’shon’kha mei-ra u-s’fatekha mi-dabeir mirmah.

Sur meira va-aseih tov, bakesh shalom v’rodfeihu.

The eyes of ADONAI are on the righteous; God’s ears are open to their cry.

ADONAI turns toward the evildoers, erasing their memory from the earth.

But if they cry out, ADONAI will hear them and deliver them from all their troubles, for ADONAI is close to the broken-hearted, rescuing those who are downcast.

Many are the troubles the righteous suffer, but ADONAI will deliver them from all of these.

God protects their every limb, not one will be broken.

Evil will crush the evildoer;

those that despise the righteous will suffer their guilt.

► ADONAI redeems the lives of those who serve God; those who turn to God for support shall not be found blameworthy.

lated as “taste” but here it means “discern” or “make judgments.” The noun derived from the same root occurs in the heading of this psalm, where David is described as having feigned madness (shanoto et ta-amo)—that is, having lost rational processes of thought.

HOLY PEOPLE קְדוֹשֵׁי. The term is applied to the entire congregation of Israel, which is called God’s holy nation (Exodus 19:6). We are enjoined to strive to become holy through our actions (Leviticus 19:2).

LIONS כְּפִירִים. Lions populated the wilderness areas in the ancient Land of Israel.

LACK NOTHING THAT IS GOOD כָּל־טוֹב לֹא יִחְסְרוּ. This astonishing claim—that the righteous never lack sustenance—is challenged elsewhere in the Bible. It might be understood spiritually, rather than physically.

GUARD YOUR TONGUE FROM EVIL מֵרַע מִכָּל־צָרוֹתַי הוֹשִׁיעוּ. The first requirement for being God-fearing is being careful in one’s speech.

PSALM 34. This is an alphabetical psalm, except that the letter vav is missing. The poem expresses the supplicant’s yearning for God and God’s response to those who turn to God in prayer. Robert Alter writes that the poet succeeds “in articulating a moving vision of hope for the desperate. Part of the spiritual greatness of the Book of Psalms, part of the source of its enduring appeal through the ages, is that it profoundly recognizes the bleakness, the dark terrors, the long nights of despair that shadow most lives, and against all this, evokes the notion of a caring presence that can reach out to the broken-hearted.”

AND WAS FORCED TO FLEE וַיִּגְרָשׁוּהוּ. David fled from Saul to the city of Gath, where the Philistines ruled. Realizing that he might be arrested and killed, David acted as if he were insane. The Philistine leader, seeing David, declared: “Do I lack madmen that you have brought this fellow to rave for me?” (1 Samuel 21:16). Thus David escaped Saul’s wrath.

Prayers

Don't let me fall
Like a stone that drops on the hard ground.
And don't let my hands become dry
As the twigs of a tree
When the wind beats down the last leaves.
And when the storm rips dust from the earth Angry and howling, Don't let me become the last fly Trembling terrified on a windowpane.
Don't let me fall.
I have so much prayer,
But, as a blade of Your grass
in a distant, wild field Loses a seed in the lap of the earth
And dies away,
Sow in me Your living breath,
As You sow a seed in the earth.

A PRAYER OF MOSES, MAN OF GOD

Lord, You have been our refuge in every generation:
before mountains were born, before You shaped earth and land;
from the very beginning to the end of time, You are God.

You return humans to dust, saying:
"Return, children of Adam."

In Your sight, a thousand years are but a yesterday that has passed, a watch in the night.

People's lives flow by as in dreams:
fresh grass at daybreak; at daybreak newly sprouted, dried up and withered in the night.

We are consumed by Your anger, terrified by Your fury.
You set our sins before You,
our secrets before the light of Your face.

For all our days face Your wrath;
our years end like a sigh.
Seventy years are spent thus,
or if we are given strength, eighty.
Most of them filled with toil and fatigue;
the years rush by quickly and we disappear.
Who can realize the strength of Your anger?
The fear of You matches Your wrath.

Teach us to make our days count and so acquire a heart that is wise.

Turn to us, ADONAI; how long the wait?
Comfort Your servants:
at daybreak satisfy us with Your love and kindness,
that we may sing with joy all of our days.
Grant us days of happiness equal to those we suffered,
the years we saw so much wrong.

May Your servants see Your deeds;
may Your glory be upon their children.

► May the peace of the Lord, our God, be with us;
may the work of our hands last beyond us,
and may the work of our hands be lasting.

תהלים צ

TURN TO US, ADONAI יהוה. This is the only time in the psalm where the personal name of God is used. Earlier, the poet reminded us that humans must "return" to the earth; now, the poet, addressing God with God's personal name, calls upon God to turn to those who live on earth.

PEACE OF THE LORD אֲדַנְיָ. Instead of God's wrath, described at the beginning of the psalm, now we meet God's beneficence. The word no-am is associated with delight, beauty, grace, and peace. No-am reverses the spelling ma-on, "refuge," with which the psalm began.

MAY THE WORK OF OUR HANDS BE LASTING עֲלֵינוּ. The final plea of the psalmist is that we might partner with God in creation—that our work, like God's, may last and that our lives may thus have enduring meaning. We may not be immortal but we may be touched by a measure of eternity. Our experience of Shabbat may be such a moment.

PSALM 90 contemplates human mortality and then arrives at a prayerful moment in which we ask that the accomplishments of our short lives have lasting value. Ultimately it is a prayer that the abyss between the human and the Divine be bridged. This is the only psalm ascribed to Moses.

LORD אֲדַנְיָ. Both here and in the last verse of this psalm, the Hebrew does not spell out the personal name of God (yod-hei-vav-hei) but instead uses the substitute word adonai, meaning "my lord" or "my master."

REFUGE מֵעוֹן. Just as in Psalm 104:22, where the same word is used to describe the lion's hidden lair deep in the forest, the term suggests hiddenness and protection.

YOU SHAPED וְתַחֲוִלַּל. The Hebrew verb describes the emptying of the mother's womb in birthing. God's act of creation is seen as the birthing of the world.

CHILDREN OF ADAM בְּנֵי אָדָם. The Hebrew phrase means "human beings." The curse of Adam and Eve in their expulsion from the Garden was mortality: "And you shall return to the ground" (Genesis 3:19).

Love the Ruins

With one letter of your many names you broke in—and now you live your own hot life in me.

With one sound of your many names you pierced yourself in me—and now you feed on my heart's blood.

Soon you will shatter me from within.

Then gather up the splinters and love the ruins, my God.

—MALKA HEIFETZ TUSSMAN (translated by Marcia Falk)

A Mother's Prayer for the Journey

In the spirit of the psalm, which conveys a sense of personal care by God, we have translated the final speech in the second person. Literally, though, the final speech in the psalm is in the third person: "Because you desired Me, I shall save him." The midrash both responds to the personal quality of this prayer and the fact that the response is in the third person. It associates the prayer with a particular biblical figure, Rebecca, and understands it as filled with a mother's concern for the safety of her son, Jacob, as he leaves home. At times she addresses Jacob with words of assurance that God will protect him: "God will save you from the hidden snare..." At other times she looks to God and affirms her own faithfulness: "I call Adonai... my God, whom I trust." In the end, the Divine answers her: "Because you desired Me, I shall save him."

One who abides in the sheltering secret of the one on high, lodges in the shadow of the Almighty—

I call ADONAI my protector, my fortress, my God, whom I trust.

God will save you from the hidden snare, the threat of deadly plague, God's wings will nestle you and protect you, God's truth will be your shield and armor.

You shall not fear terror at night, arrows flying in daylight, pestilence stalking in the dark, nor plague blackening the noon. Though a thousand may fall at your side, tens of thousands at your right hand, nothing will reach you. You have but to look with your own eyes, and you shall see the recompense of evildoers.

Yes, You, ADONAI, are my protector.

You have made the one on high your refuge— evil shall not befall you, nor plague approach your tent, for God will instruct angels to guard you wherever you go. They will carry you in the palms of their hands, lest your foot strike a stone; you will tread on pythons and cubs, trample on snakes and lions.

"Because you desired Me, I shall save you. I shall raise you up, for you were conscious of My name. When you call upon Me, I shall answer you; I shall be with you in times of trouble, I shall strengthen you and honor you. I shall satisfy you with the fullness of days and show you My deliverance; I shall satisfy you with the fullness of days and show you My deliverance."

Psalm 91

ישב בסתר עליון, בצל שדי יתלונן. אמר ליהוה מחסי ומצודתי, אלהי אבטח בו. כי הוא יצילך מפח יקוש, מדבר הוות. באברתו יסך לך ותחת כנפיו תחסה, צנה וסחרה אמתו. לא תירא מפחד לילה, מחץ יעוף יומם. מדבר באפל יהלך, מקטב ישוד צהרים. יפל מצדך אלך ורבבה מימינה, אליך לא יגש. רק בעיניך תביט, ושלמת רשעים תראה. כי אתה יהוה מחסי, עליון שמת מעונה. לא תאנה אליך רעה ונגע לא יקרב באהלך. כי מלאכיו יצוה לך לשמרך בכל דרכיך. על פנים ישאוניה, פן תגף באבן רגלך. על שחל ופתן תדרוך, תרמס כפיר ותנין. כי בי חשק ואפליטהו, אשגבהו כי ידע שמי. יקראני ואענהו, עמו אנכי בצרה, אחלצהו ואכבדהו. ארך ימים אשביעהו, ואראהו בישועתי. ארך ימים אשביעהו, ואראהו בישועתי.

תהלים צא

THE ALMIGHTY שדי Shaddai is a name for God that appears many times throughout the Bible. Already by rabbinic times, its original meaning had been lost and the rabbis offered a poetic explanation of its etymology as she-dai, "the one who declared that the works of creation were sufficiently complete (dai)."

GOD'S WINGS תחת כנפיו. The image of God as a bird that shelters its young is an ancient metaphor that first appears in the Bible when God speaks to Israel at the foot of Mount Sinai, saying: "You have seen . . . how I bore you on eagles' wings and brought you to Me" (Exodus 19:4).

PLAGUE BLACKENING ישוד מקטב. Scholars identify this disease with one that blackens the fingers and is prevalent in modern-day Arabia, causing numerous deaths.

I SHALL BE WITH YOU IN TIMES OF TROUBLE עמו אנכי בצרה. The ancient rabbis gave a radical interpretation to this verse, saying that whenever an individual suffers, God suffers with that person (Mekhilta, Pisha 14).

I SHALL SATISFY YOU WITH THE FULLNESS OF DAYS ימים אשביעהו. God's ultimate gift is the gift of time. The biblical psalm does not repeat this last verse, but the thought is so important that medieval authorities recommended its repetition, and so whenever this psalm is recited liturgically, the final verse is repeated.

PSALM 91. The juxtaposition of Psalms 90 and 91 richly illuminates the human condition. The previous psalm emphasized life's brevity and fear of God's judgments, concluding that, at best, we can strive to make each day count. Here, the psalmist confidently describes God's protective care, and ends with God's promise of fullness of days. At different times in our lives, perhaps even at different times of the same day, one or the other perspective—a sense of distance from God, or a feeling of God's presence—may resonate more with us.

There are three voices in this poem. A speaker (perhaps a priest in the Temple), assuring God's protection; the worshipper, who affirms belief in God (indicated in the English translation with italics); and finally God's own declaration in response (at the very end of the psalm, indicated by quotation marks), promising the supplicant fullness of days.

A Prayer for All Rulers

Do not make my destiny,
Adonai Tz'va-ot,
the infamy of a victorious
hero!
But disgrace me, if my embarrassment
can bring comfort to the weak! . . .

My heart would more easily absorb the stab of loss and defeat,
than the joy of victory.

Be the savior and guardian of defeated justice.
Let me be found guilty
when joyfully triumphant.

Instead, let memories of joys brought to other hearts
be my splendid trophies.

Do not make my destiny,
Adonai Tz'va-ot,
the infamy of a victorious
hero!
But disgrace me, if my embarrassment
can bring comfort to the weak!

Halleluyah! Praise God.

Praise the name ADONAI; offer praise, servants of ADONAI, standing in this house, in the courtyards of our God.

Halleluyah! Praise God, for ADONAI is good; sing to God's name, for such singing is delightful. For God has chosen Jacob, treasured the people Israel, and I know that ADONAI is great,
our lord greater than any divine power.

Whatever God desires God does: in heaven and on earth, in the sea and the very deep. God raises up clouds from the ends of the earth—lightning flashes to bring rain—releasing stormy winds from the divine vaults.

God smote Egypt's firstborn, human and beast alike, and sent signs and wonders into Egypt against Pharaoh and all his servants; indeed, God defeated many nations, slaying mighty princes: Sihon, the king of the Amorites, Og, the king of Bashan, and all the kingdoms of Canaan. God gave their land as an inheritance, an inheritance to Israel, God's people.

ADONAI, Your name is everlasting. ADONAI—renowned in each generation. ADONAI, when You judge Your people, You shall show compassion for those who serve You.

The idols of the nations are gold and silver, the work of human hands. They have mouths that do not speak, eyes that do not see; they have ears that do not hear; surely their mouths do not breathe. Those that made them, all who put their faith in them, shall be like them.

► House of Israel, bless ADONAI.

House of Aaron, bless ADONAI.

House of Levi, bless ADONAI.

You who revere ADONAI, bless ADONAI.

From Zion, bless ADONAI, who dwells in Jerusalem:

Halleluyah! Praise God.

תהלים קלה

PSALM 135 begins with a call to those standing in the Temple to praise and bless God and ends by inviting everyone assembled in the various Temple precincts—priests, Israelites, non-Israelites—to join in. This psalm and the next are called by the ancient rabbis “The Great Hallel.” They recount the events of the exodus and the march toward the promised land. Psalm 135 builds toward the thundering congregational response ki l’olam hasdo, “For God’s love endures forever,” that is at the heart of Psalm 136, which follows.

HALLELUYAH, PRAISE GOD
הַלְלוּ יְהוָה. Literally, “Praise Yah.” Yah is a shortened form of the God’s four-letter name, yod-hei-vav-hei.

IN THE COURTYARDS OF OUR GOD
בְּחִצְרוֹת בַּיִת אֱלֹהֵינוּ. The Temple consisted largely of open courts in which the people stood; sacrifices were offered on an upper platform.

SMOTE EGYPT’S FIRSTBORN
שֶׁהִפָּה בְּכוֹרֵי מִצְרַיִם. This begins the recounting of God’s deeds in the history of Israel. Smiting the firstborn is singled out because it was the ultimate plague that broke the will of the Egyptians. (Abraham ibn Ezra)

SIHON, THE KING OF THE AMORITES
לְסִיחוֹן מֶלֶךְ הָאֱמֹרִי. Numbers 21:21–35. Israel offered to make peace with Sihon and Og, asking only permission to cross their land on the way to Canaan. These kings chose instead to fight, and they were defeated by the Israelites.

Sing

The Baal Shem Tov taught that the way to praise God is first to begin with words and then, as our souls rise, to give expression to the words with song. The music moves us to sing without words and, finally, our whole body wants to praise God, and we dance.

SING to ADONAI, O you righteous; it is fitting for the upright to offer praise.

Acclaim God on the lute, sing to ADONAI with the ten-stringed harp; play a new song to God, and let the shofar's call inspire the music.

For ADONAI's word is true and all God's deeds are faithful. God loves righteousness and justice, the world is filled with ADONAI's love and kindness.

The heavens were formed with God's speech, all their hosts with God's breath; the sea's waters were gathered together, the deep stored in treasure vaults.

May all the earth revere ADONAI; may all who dwell in its lands tremble before God—for it was God who spoke and they came into being; it was God who commanded that they exist.

ADONAI overturns peoples' designs, foils the plans of nations, but the designs of ADONAI endure forever; God's counsels, for each generation.

Blessed is the people whose god is ADONAI, the nation chosen as God's heritage.

From heaven ADONAI peers down, observing every human being; from where God dwells, God surveys all who live on earth: the one who formed all their hearts discerns all they do.

A ruler is not victorious because of a great army, a warrior is not saved through sheer might, horses do not offer a promise of victory, vast hosts do not ensure refuge.

For ADONAI's eyes are fixed on those who revere God, on those who look hopefully to God's love and kindness to save them from death, to sustain their lives amidst famine.

We await ADONAI, our helper and protector. ▶ We shall rejoice with God, as we have trusted in God's holy name. May Your love and kindness, ADONAI, be with us, for we have placed our hope in You.

dry land appears (Genesis 1:9). God's control of nature distinguished the biblical divinity from the other gods worshipped in the ancient Near East.

HORSES DO NOT OFFER A PROMISE OF VICTORY שָׁקַר הַסּוֹס לְתִשׁוּעָה. Chariots were a critical element of Egyptian military might. Psalms frequently contrast faith in God to belief in military might.

WE HAVE WAITED נַפְשָׁנוּ חִפְתָּה. The biblical word nefesh means "person," but in later Judaism it was understood as "soul." Thus the mystics who added this psalm to the liturgy would have understood the phrase as: "Our souls have waited for Adonai."

YOU לָךְ. This is the first time in the psalm that God is addressed directly in the second person. We now realize that the psalm is not simply a song of praise, but a prayer, perhaps in time of war. The mystics read this psalm as the soul's overcoming its worldly impediments and finally relating only to God. In this way, it is an appropriate introduction to the seventh psalm in the series: The Song of the Day of Shabbat.

PSALM 33 was inserted by Jewish mystics into the sequence of seven psalms culminating in Psalm 92, the Song of the Day of Shabbat. It was intended as a kavanah—a preparation for greeting Shabbat—beginning as it does with song and ending with heartfelt joy. There is a leitmotif of "seven" throughout the psalm: seven teachings about God, seven words indicating praise at the beginning of the psalm, and, in the last three lines, seven words ending in the suffix -nu (-nu), "we" or "us" or "out."

INSPIRE THE MUSIC הִיטִיבוּ נֶגֶן. Or: "play it well." Several psalms mention the accompaniment of musical instruments and even include instructions to the musicians.

LOVES RIGHTEOUSNESS AND JUSTICE אֲהַב צְדָקָה וּמִשְׁפָּט. Jewish mystics taught that when justice and righteousness are paired with love and kindness, then peace and wholeness reign in the heavens and on earth.

A PSALM: THE SONG OF THE DAY OF SHABBAT

It is good to thank You, ADONAI, and sing to Your name, Most High; to proclaim Your love at daybreak, Your faithfulness each night.

Tov l'hodot ladonai, u-l'zamer l'shimkha elyon, l'hagid ba-boker hasdekha ve-emunat'kha ba-leilot.

Finger the lute, pluck the harp, let the sound of the lyre rise up.

You gladdened me with Your deeds, ADONAI, and I shall sing of Your handiwork.

How wonderful are Your works, ADONAI, how subtle Your designs!

Mah gadlu ma-asekha Adonai, me'od amku mahsh'votekha. Ish ba-ar lo yeida, u-kh'sil lo yavin et zot.

The arrogant do not understand, the fool does not comprehend this: the wicked flourish like grass and every evildoer blossoms, only to be destroyed forever—

but You, ADONAI, are exalted for all time.

Surely Your enemies, ADONAI, surely Your enemies will perish; all who commit evil will be scattered.

As a wild bull raises up its horn, You raised my head high, anointed it with fresh oil.

As my enemies gather against me, my gaze remains steady, for my ears listen and hear:

► Tzadik katamar yifrah, k'erez balvanon yisgeh. Sh'tulim b'veit Adonai, b'hatzrot eloheinu yafrihu. Od y'nuvun b'seivah, d'sheinim v'ra-ananim yihyu. L'hagid ki yashar Adonai, tzuri v'lo avlatah bo.

Psalm 92

ADONAI is sovereign, robed in splendor, girded in strength; the earth stands firm, not to be dislodged. From earliest time You were enthroned; You are eternal.

The rivers rise up, ADONAI, the rivers raise up their roar, the rivers raise up their waves. Above the roar of the vast sea and the majestic breakers of the ocean, ADONAI stands supreme in the heavens.

► In Your house, beautiful in its holiness, Your testimonies endure, ADONAI, for all time.

Mi-kolot mayim rabim adirim mishb'rei yam, adir ba-marom Adonai.

PSALM 92, the Song of the Day of Shabbat, begins with the praise of the faithful and concludes with it. It remarks on the wonder of creation and on the reward of the righteous, who will be planted in God's house. Appropriately, the psalm is a song for Shabbat—for Shabbat both celebrates creation and also provides the space in which to experience the peacefulness of one's soul. The disturbing quality of a world not at ease is put aside—in the words of the psalmist, enemies are "scattered"—and one hears God's reassurance ringing in one's ear. (For more detailed commentary on this psalm, see pages 27–28.)

PSALM 93. Having completed the seven psalms culminating in Psalm 92, the Song of the Day of Shabbat, we conclude the section with a psalm announcing God as the supreme monarch. Above nature are God's laws, moral and holy "testimonies." In the Torah, the ark is sometimes called "the ark of testimony" because it contains the two tablets given on Mount Sinai.

The People Israel

Life appears dismal if not mirrored in what is more than life. Nothing can be regarded as valuable unless assessed in relation to something higher in value. Humanity's survival depends on the conviction that there is something that is worth the price of life. It depends upon a sense of the supremacy of what is lasting. That sense of conviction may be asleep, but it awakens when challenged. In some people it lives as a sporadic wish; in others it is a permanent concern.

What we have learned from Jewish history is that if a person is not more than human then he or she is less than human. Judaism is an attempt to prove that in order to be a human being, you have to be more than a single human, that in order to be a people we have to be more than a people. Israel was made to be a "holy people." This is the essence of its dignity and the essence of its merit.

God's Sovereignty:

An Anthology of Biblical Verses

May the glory of ADONAI endure forever; may God rejoice in all that God created; may the name of ADONAI be blessed now and forever. From one end of the earth to the other, may ADONAI's name be acclaimed. God's glory is above the heavens, high above that of any people. ADONAI, Your name is eternal; ADONAI, You are known in every generation.

ADONAI established a throne in the heavens, ADONAI's dominion is over all. Let the heavens be glad and the earth rejoice, as the peoples of the world declare, "ADONAI reigns." ADONAI is sovereign, ADONAI has always been sovereign, ADONAI will be sovereign forever and ever. ADONAI is sovereign forever—even as peoples pass away from God's land.

ADONAI overturns peoples' designs and foils the schemes of nations. Human hearts devise many plans, but God's plans hold true for each generation. ADONAI's design endures forever; God's counsel is for each generation. It was God who spoke and brought everything into being; it was God who commanded that they exist.

ADONAI chose Zion, desiring it as a dwelling-place;

ADONAI chose Jacob, Israel as a treasured people.

ADONAI will not abandon this people, will not desert the inheritors of divine favor.

► God, who is compassionate, will forgive sin and not wreak destruction; for again and again God acts with restraint, refusing to let rage become all-consuming. ADONAI, help us; Sovereign, answer us when we call.

MAY THE GLORY OF ADONAI
ENDURE FOREVER כְבוֹד יְהוָה לְעוֹלָם. The earliest poetic additions to the liturgy were collections of biblical verses, such as this prayer. It is recited daily and is included in all rites. A seemingly natural poetic flow from one verse to the next is created by the presence of similar words in consecutive verses. The contemplation of God's power becomes a setting for affirming the promise of the redemption of the people Israel and the defeat of the destructive designs of nations. The verses quoted here are: Psalm 104:31, Psalm 113:2-4, Psalm 135:13, Psalm 103:19, 1 Chronicles 16:31, Psalm 10:16, Psalm 93:1, Exodus 15:18, Psalm 10:16, Psalm 33:10, Proverbs 19:21, Psalm 33:11, Psalm 33:9, Psalm 132:13, Psalm 135:4, Psalm 94:14, Psalm 78:38, and Psalm 20:10.

ADONAI IS SOVEREIGN, ADONAI HAS ALWAYS BEEN SOVEREIGN, ADONAI WILL BE SOVEREIGN FOREVER
AND EVER יְהוָה מְלֹךְ, יְהוָה מְלֹךְ, יְהוָה יִמְלֹךְ לְעֹלָם וָעֶד. This verse is itself a collection of three phrases found elsewhere in the Bible; the three phrases together are found nowhere in the Bible.

וְהוּא רַחוּם יְכַפֵּר עוֹן וְלֹא יִשְׁחִית. GOD, WHO IS COMPASSIONATE, WILL FORGIVE SIN וְלֹא יִשְׁחִית. The wiping away of sin makes redemption possible. These last two verses are found frequently in Jewish liturgy, in prayers that—like this one—date from the earliest centuries of the 1st millennium C.E. and are comprised of an anthology of biblical verses. (For example, see Kedushah D'sidra, page 216, and Tahanun, the weekday penitential prayers following the Amidah.) Similarly, these same verses precede the Bar'khu, the call to worship, in the weekday evening service (page 264). Knowing that God forgives our sins allows us to begin our prayers with a sense of purity.

Joyous are they who dwell in Your house;
they shall praise You forever.

*Joyous the people who are so favored;
joyous the people whose God is ADONAI.*

A SONG OF PRAISE, OF DAVID

I exalt You, my God, my sovereign; I praise Your name, always.

Every day I praise You, glorifying Your name, always.

Great is ADONAI, greatly to be praised, though Your greatness is unfathomable.

One generation praises Your works to another, telling of Your mighty deeds.

I would speak of Your majestic glory and of Your wondrous acts.

Generations speak of Your awe-inspiring deeds;

I, too, shall recount Your greatness.

They recount Your great goodness, and sing of Your righteousness.

ADONAI is merciful and compassionate, patient, and abounding in love.

ADONAI is good to all, and God's mercy embraces all of creation.

All of creation acknowledges You, and the faithful bless You.

They speak of the glory of Your sovereignty and tell of Your might,

*proclaiming to humanity Your mighty deeds,
and the glory of Your majestic sovereignty.*

Your sovereignty is eternal; Your dominion endures in every generation.

ADONAI supports all who falter, and lifts up all who are bent down.

The eyes of all look hopefully to You, and You provide them nourishment in its proper time.

Opening Your hand, You satisfy with contentment all that lives.

ADONAI is righteous in all that is done, faithful to all creation.

ADONAI is near to all who call, to all who call sincerely.

God fulfills the desire of those who are faithful, listening to their cries, rescuing them.

*ADONAI watches over all who love the Holy One,
but will destroy all the wicked.*

► My mouth shall utter praise of ADONAI.

May all that is mortal praise God's name forever and ever.

to individual verses more than to the literary flow of the whole poem. It is the only psalm explicitly called a t'hillah, "a song of praise," though the entire Book of Psalms is called by the plural Sefer T'hillim.

JOYOUS אֲשֵׁרֵי. The Hebrew word covers a spectrum of emotions: happy, blessed, contented. ADONAI SUPPORTS ALL WHO FALTER לִּי אֲשֵׁרֵי הַנְּפֻלִים. This verse marks a turning point in the psalm. Until now, the poet has praised God's greatness and splendor; now, the focus shifts to God's concern for those in need. Here, God's sovereignty is primarily manifest in love and care.

ALL THAT IS MORTAL כָּל־בָּשָׂר. In Psalm 145, there are no references to the Temple, to Israel, or to historical events. God is here depicted as the sovereign of the world who cares for all creatures.

PSALM 145 (ASHREI). This psalm, which was treasured by the ancient rabbis, is recited thrice daily. It was in liturgical use during the Second Temple period, as attested by the Dead Sea Scrolls, where it appears with a congregational response attached to each verse: "Blessed is Adonai and blessed is God's name." Psalm 145 begins and ends with personal verses of praise. In between, the author affirms God's sovereignty and insists that God's rule is one of love and compassion.

Two additional verses (Psalm 84:5 and 144:15), both of which begin with the word ashrei, "joyous," were added to the opening, apparently in imitation of the Book of Psalms itself, which opens with that word. The reference to God's house evokes those praying in the synagogue. Psalm 115:18 was appended to the end, transforming the prayer from the first-person singular to the plural, and thus creating a bridge to the five "Halleluyah" psalms that follow.

Ashrei is an alphabetical acrostic—although it is missing a verse beginning with the letter nun—and thus easy to memorize, which may help to explain its popularity in Jewish liturgy. Many readers relate

Adonai Secures Justice

Ethics is not the corollary of the vision of God; it is that very vision. Ethics is an optic, such that everything I know of God and everything I can hear of God's word and reasonably say to God must find an ethical expression. In the Holy Ark from which the voice of God is heard by Moses, there are only the tablets of the Law.... The knowledge of God comes to us like a commandment, like a mitzvah. To know God is to know what must be done.... The justice rendered to the Other, my neighbor, gives me an unsurpassable proximity to God.

HALLELUYAH! Praise God.

I will praise ADONAI.

I will praise ADONAI as long as I live, sing to my God as long as I am here.

Do not put your trust in the high and mighty, people who cannot save even themselves; their breath will depart, they will return to the earth from which they came, and on that day, their schemes will come to naught.

Blessed is the person whose help is Jacob's God, who looks with hope to ADONAI who created heaven and earth, the sea and all that is within it; ADONAI keeps faith forever, secures justice for the oppressed, provides food for the hungry; releases the bound from their chains, gives sight to the blind, straightens those bent low, and loves those who act justly;

► ADONAI cares for the stranger, sustains the orphan and the widow, blocks the path of the wicked—

ADONAI shall reign forever; your God, O Zion, from generation to generation. Praise God, halleluyah!

תהלים קמו

PSALMS 146–150 constitute a series of five psalms, each opening and closing with the compound word hallelu-yah, "praise God"; these psalms bring the Book of Psalms to an exuberant conclusion. Rabbi Yose (2nd century, the Land of Israel) considered it a meritorious practice to recite these psalms, along with Psalm 145, each day (Babylonian Talmud, Shabbat 118b). These psalms constitute a celebratory way of preparing for the formal morning service, and by the end of the 1st millennium they had become a statutory part of the morning prayers, forming the core of P'sukei D'zimra, the "Verses of Song" (Sofrim 17:11).

The five psalms are interconnected. For example, God is described in Psalm 146 as ruling justly and teaching just laws to Israel; in Psalms 147 and 148, as redeeming the people Israel; and in Psalm 149, as commissioning the people Israel to bring the corrupt rulers of the world to justice. Psalms 146–149 all touch on universal themes, but each ends by describing the special relation of God to Israel. The final psalm, 150, begins with Israel's praises of God and concludes with a universal chorus: "Let every breath be praise of God."

PSALM 146 consists of two parts: the first exhorts against putting one's faith in human beings, even the most powerful, and the second contrasts God's justice and compassion with corrupt human institutions. This second section is set off by the same word so central to the previous prayer, ashrei, meaning happy, blessed, and contented.

THEY WILL RETURN TO THE EARTH לְאֲדָמְתּוֹ יֵשֵׁב. The imagery is from Genesis, where Adam is told that he "will return to the earth, for from it you were taken: for dust you are, and to dust you shall return" (Genesis 3:19).

JACOB'S GOD אֶל יַעֲקֹב. This is the only time this phrase is used in the Bible, and it is hard to say why it is used here. Perhaps it is due to the fact that Jacob is a figure who suffered and died in a foreign land and yet kept faith and hope. The people Israel, suffering yet hopeful, are Jacob's descendants.

RELEASES THE BOUND יְהוָה מִתִּיר אֲסוּרִים. God is portrayed as compassionate, seeking justice for the weak, unlike powerful human beings whose plans may be self-serving. The qualities attributed to God in this psalm form the basis of several of the morning brakhot (pages 103–104).

ADONAI CARES FOR THE STRANGER, SUSTAINS THE ORPHAN AND THE WIDOW יְהוָה שִׁמְר אֶת־גְּרָמִים. In biblical society, these were the three groups least able to fend for themselves.

HALLELUYAH! Praise God.

How good to sing to our God sweet and delightful words of praise.

ADONAI will rebuild Jerusalem, gather in the dispersed people of Israel; the one who heals the broken-hearted, and binds their wounds, the one who counts the stars and names each and every one of them is our great sovereign, infinitely powerful.

God's designs are beyond recounting.

ADONAI gives heart to the humble and throws the wicked to the ground.

Call out to ADONAI in thanksgiving, and with the music of the lyre sing to God who covers the heavens with clouds providing rain for the earth, that grass may flourish on the hillsides—food for livestock and for the raven's crying nestlings.

Victorious chariots do not please God,

nor is it the warrior's strong arms that God desires.

ADONAI desires those who revere the Divine,
those who look to God's love and kindness.

O Jerusalem, sing the praises of ADONAI; Zion, celebrate your God.

For God has strengthened the posts of your gates, blessed your children within, brought peace to your borders,
and satisfied you with the fat of the harvest.

God sends the divine word to earth;
how quickly these commands are obeyed:
snow piles up like fleece, frost spreads like ash, hailstones are tossed like crumbs—who could withstand the cold?—

תהלים קמד

PSALM 147 is a complex mix of a hymn to God's power, an assertion of God's moral behavior, and praise of the divine teaching given to Israel as its treasure. The psalm is composed of three parts. The psalm intermixes the promise of the restoration of Jerusalem with praise of God's love to come. Those who currently exercise dominion will be defeated, for in the mind of the psalmist, acting justly represents true power.

HEALS THE BROKEN-HEARTED
In the same breath, the psalmist exalts God's strength and God's compassion.

NAMES EACH AND EVERY ONE OF THEM
Abraham Isaac Kook (1865–1935, the Land of Israel) comments on God's ability to name each and every star and keep them all in place. From this, he derives a lesson about the people Israel, who are compared to the stars (Genesis 15:5): each person has an individual purpose and dream, but is also a part of the collective destiny of the people Israel; each adds something new and special to the collective.

WARRIOR'S STRONG ARMS
The Hebrew

shok usually means "thigh," and thus it may refer here to the soldier's ability to run swiftly after the enemy. It can also sometimes refer to the shoulder, which seems more reasonable in this context: the warrior shoots arrows from his shoulder or throws spears with his powerful arms, while riding the horse or chariot.

GOD ENUNCIATES COMMANDS TO JACOB
The same Hebrew word d'varo, literally "[God's] word," appeared above referring to the ice, which God melts with speech. The speech of God is "heard" both in nature and in the teachings of Torah.

NO OTHER NATION
The psalmist argues that the people Israel's strength lies in its commitment to justice, in its imitation of God's concern for the poor and the vulnerable. In contrast, other nations presume that strength lies in military might.

The Wonders of Creation

Why is the sky blue?
Among the wavelengths of light in the sun's spectrum, blue oscillates at the highest frequency and is, therefore, scattered effectively by molecules of air in our atmosphere. This turns the sky blue. To me, this seems more amazing than ancient Mesopotamian and biblical beliefs that the sky is blue because of all the water up there. What science shows us about the evolution of our universe and our selves is as awesome to me as Genesis or the Kabbalah.

HALLELUYAH! Praise God.

From the heavens, offer praise to ADONAI, on high, offer praise:
all angels, offer praise to God,
all the hosts of heaven, offer praise to God,
sun and moon, offer praise to God,
bright stars offer praise to God,
highest heavens and waters above, offer praise to God;
may all praise the name ADONAI.
For God commanded they be born, set them in their places forever,
and fixed the boundaries they never cross.

On earth, offer praise to ADONAI:
sea monsters and ocean's deep,
lightning and hail, snow and sandstorms, raging winds obeying God's command,
hills and high mountains,
fruit trees and evergreens,
beasts and every kind of cattle,
crawling things and winged birds, sovereigns of the world and their peoples, powerful princes and judges in the land,
innocent and adolescent boys and girls,
elders and youths,
offer up praise to the name ADONAI, for God's name alone is to be exalted,
whose splendor extends over heaven and earth.

► May God raise the horn of our people in praise of the faithful,
the children of Israel,
beloved of the Divine.
Praise God, halleluyah!

Psalm 148

הַלְלוּ אֶת־יְהוָה מִן הַשָּׁמַיִם, הַלְלוּהוּ בַמְרוֹמִים.

◀ וַיָּרֵם קֶרֶן לְעַמּוֹ תְהִלָּה לְכָל־חַסִּידָיו,
לְבַנְיֵי יִשְׂרָאֵל עִם קְרֵבוֹ, הַלְלוּהָ.

תהלים קמח

FIXED THE BOUNDARIES THEY NEVER CROSS חֲקִנְתָּן וְלֹא יַעֲבוּר. In this image, each sphere of heaven occupies a different level. Stars, for instance, can move within their own sphere but not above or below, lest they collide with other heavenly objects.

SANDSTORMS קִיטּוֹר. The Hebrew word describes a smokelike plume rising from earth to the sky, and the context implies some condition related to weather, though the specific referent is an educated guess.

EVERGREENS אֲרָזִים. Literally "cedars," the most sturdy evergreen in the Middle East. The contrast is critical here: fruit trees are seasonal but their produce is significant, while cedars are evergreens but produce no fruit. The idea of totality is expressed through a series of contrasts: wild and domesticated animals, rulers and subjects, young and old.

BELOVED OF THE DIVINE עִם קְרֵבוֹ. More literally, "those who are close to the Divine."

Other Peoples

To be a holy nation meant, in the first place, to be separated from the pollution of the nations. In biblical terms this pollution consisted of idolatry and its concomitant moral corruption—the two being indissolubly bound in biblical thought. [But equally,] the kinship of all people as the descendants of one father and the creatures of one Creator impressed itself upon the Hebrew imagination. How can I ignore the rightful claim of my servant, cries Job, “Did not he who made me in the belly make him? Did not One fashion us both in the womb?” (Job 31:15). This passage so worked upon the Palestinian sage, Rabbi Yoḥanan, that “Whatever food he partook of he shared with his servant” (Talmud of the Land of Israel, Ketubot 5:5).

The myth of one mankind under one God in primeval times—from Adam to the Tower-builders—pressed for a complementary vision of a reunited mankind under God at the end of time. The author of that vision was the prophet Isaiah [and that vision was taken up by the later prophets]. The promise of a glorious denouement to human history, in which Israel’s faith and steadfastness to its covenant would be vindicated and all men would join hands with it in subservience to their common Creator, were a beacon of hope in the vale of gloom and tears through which Israel walked for centuries.

Double-Edged Sword

What is the double-edged sword the people Israel were given? This is the Torah—both the Written Torah and the Oral Torah. And what battles do they fight? These are the arguments over the meaning of Torah: how should we act? how should we exercise judgment?

HALLELUYAH! Praise God.

Sing to ADONAI a new song,
praise God amidst the congregation of the faithful.
Let Israel rejoice with its maker,
the children of Zion celebrate their sovereign.
Let them praise God’s name in dance and sing to God with timbrel and lyre.
For ADONAI loves this people,
and will crown the humbled with deliverance.
Honored, the faithful shall rejoice,
exulting as they recline upon their couches.

With high praise of God on their lips and a double-edged sword in their hands, they shall exact retribution of the nations,
chastising the peoples of the world, ▶ locking their rulers in cuffs, their princes in iron chains,
to carry out the decrees of justice.
Then shall all the faithful be glorified!

PSALM 149. This psalm helps build toward the exultant crescendo of the final psalm. The first half of the poem is replete with synonyms for song and rejoicing. Then the poet enunciates a vision of an endtime when justice is executed and corruption is repaid with the appropriate punishment. Israel, the symbol of the oppressed, will wage this war for justice.

IN DANCE בְּמַחּוֹל. The accompaniment of instrumental music and dance represents the height of joyful expression. Famously, King David danced—leaping and whirling—before the ark as it was brought to Jerusalem.

AS THEY RECLINE עַל מִשְׁכָּבוֹתָם. Festive meals were celebrated with the participants lounging on couches.

A DOUBLE-EDGED SWORD IN THEIR HANDS וְחָרֵב בְּיָדָם. The image of vengeance invoked in this psalm might be explained by its next-to-last line, where the poet evokes the promise of justice. Oppression is a product of injustice that must be fought.

LOCKING THEIR RULERS לְאַסֵּר מַלְכֵיהֶם. The midrash points out that it is the rulers of these nations who are to be punished, but not the peoples—because it is the rulers who have led these people astray (Midrash on Psalms).

PSALM 150. This psalm brings the Book of Psalms to an exultant close. The Book of Psalms begins with the praise of the single righteous individual, "Blessed is the one who does not walk in the way of the wicked" (Psalm 1:1), and concludes with every living being praising God.

BLESS ADONAI, ALWAYS בְּרוּךְ יְהוָה לְעוֹלָם. The Book of Psalms is composed of five smaller "books"; each of the first four conclude with a blessing. Two of those blessings, Psalms 89:53 and 72:18–19, are quoted here, to conclude the morning recitation of the Davidic psalms. Between these two, another verse (Psalm 135:21) is added, specifying that Adonai is the God of Israel—much like a letter's address on an envelope. The selected verses all begin with the word barukh, "blessed." Thus, just as we began P'sukei D'zimra with a multiple repetition of "blessed" in Barukh She-amar (page 122), so too, here, we repeat that word with multiple verses. The oldest versions of P'sukei D'zimra ended here, and so the opening and closing verses of this paragraph form a conclusion by repeating the affirmative response, "Amen."

From Individual to Community

Awakening to a new day, we began by reciting modeh/modah ani, "I thank You," in the singular. Now, at the conclusion of P'sukei D'zimra, our collective awareness and connection to each other has been truly "awakened" and so we can say modim anahnu lakh, "we thank You," in the plural. We are thus ready for the formal call to prayer, Bar'khu (page 149), to which we respond as a community.

Changed His Name to Abraham

According to the Babylonian Talmud (Berakhot 13a), Abraham's name was changed because "in the beginning, he was a leader of Aram [i.e., av ram], and at the end, he was a leader of the whole world [avraham = av hamon, father of multitudes, Genesis 17:5]." The ancient rabbis taught that except when directly quoting Scripture, it is expressly forbidden to refer to Abraham by his former name.

This is the import of God's directive to change "Abram," which signifies leadership of the single nation of Aram, to "Abraham," father of a multitude of nations. God was saying to Abraham, "I have raised you beyond this norm of nationalism, which is but a convention and not true justice. Your heart should not be devoted exclusively to the benefit of Aram, but rather seek the peace of all God's creations. Seek out the well-being of all." Thus, "one who calls Abraham, 'Abram,' transgresses." By doing so, one causes Israel to regress to a state of nationalism, which is no more than a collective form of egoism, and thus a transgression.

DAVID'S FINAL PRAYER

David praised ADONAI in the presence of all the assembled, saying: From the beginning of time to the end of time, blessed are You ADONAI, God of our ancestor Israel. Yours, ADONAI, is the greatness, the strength and the glory, the triumph and the splendor—for everything in heaven and on earth is Yours. Sovereignty is Yours; You are raised up above all. Wealth and honor come from You; You rule over all. In Your hands are strength and deliverance; it is in Your power to give strength to all and to make everything flourish. Now we thank You, our God, and celebrate Your glorious name.

1 Chronicles 29:10-13

You, ADONAI alone, are the God who formed the sky, the heavens above and all their hosts, the earth and everything upon it, the seas and all within them. You grant existence to everything; even the hosts of heaven need bow to You.

You, ADONAI, are God; it was You who chose Abram, took him out of Ur of the Chaldees, changed his name to Abraham, and found him faithful.

You made a covenant with him, giving him the land of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, the Perizites, the Jebusites, and the Girgashites, to pass on to his descendants. You kept Your word, for You are righteous. You saw the suffering of our ancestors in Egypt and heard their cry at the Sea of Reeds. You confronted Pharaoh, his court, and the entire Egyptian nation with signs and wonders—for You knew how they had oppressed Your people, and in this way You are known to this day. ▶ You split the sea before our ancestors: they crossed on dry land, but their pursuers sank in the deep like stones in a raging sea.

Nehemiah 9:6-11

YOU, ADONAI ALONE הוּא יְהוָה לְבַדְּךָ. This prayer was recited in the Second Temple when the people, returning from exile, rededicated themselves under the guidance of Ezra and Nehemiah. With its recitation, each morning's prayer is an act of rededication.

CHANGED HIS NAME שְׁמוֹ. In Genesis 17:5 Abram's name is changed to Abraham, meaning the "father of many nations," as a sign of God's promise that Sarah will bear a child, Isaac. The original name "Abram" may mean "the father [meaning Terah] is exalted." A name change in the ancient world represented a change in status. (E. A. Speiser)

THE CANAANITES הַכְּנַעֲנִי. Listed here are six of the seven biblical nations that occupied the Land of Israel before the Israelite settlement.

DAVID'S FINAL PRAYER. Originally, P'sukei D'zimra consisted only of selections from the Book of Psalms; later, a series of biblical prayers, beginning here and culminating with the Song at the Sea, was added. In these additions we re-experience our collective history: Abram's leaving his home and setting out for an unknown destination, the exodus from Egypt, and the nation's arrival in the promised land.

DAVID PRAISED דָּוִד. This passage from 1 Chronicles forms part of David's last speech—his will and testament—as he hands his kingdom over to his son Solomon. Having just read selections from the psalms of David, we begin the closing section of P'sukei D'zimra, Verses of Song, with David's own concluding words.

BLESSED ARE YOU ADONAI בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה יְהוָה. This is one of only two times that this phrase, which became the formula for all Jewish b'rakhot, is found in the Bible. (The other is Psalm 119:12.)

WE THANK YOU מוֹדִים לָךְ אֲנַחְנוּ לָךְ. These became the first words of the second-to-last b'rakhah of the Amidah, in which we thank God for the gifts of life.

Nations hear and quake;
panic grips the dwellers of Philistia.
Edom's chieftains are seized with terror, trembling grips the mighty of Moab,
all the citizens of Canaan are dismayed,
dread and fear descend upon them.
Your overwhelming power makes them silent as stone, while Your people, ADONAI—the people whom You have redeemed—pass through peacefully.
Lead them and bring them to Your lofty mountain;
the abode You fashioned, ADONAI,
the sanctuary Your hands established.
ADONAI shall reign forever and ever.

Exodus 15:1–18

Dancing with Timbrels

The righteous women of that generation had faith that the blessed Holy One would perform miracles for them, so they brought timbrels with them from Egypt, to be able to sing and dance at such a moment.

—RASHI

Some congregations include this passage:

Then Miriam the prophet, Aaron's sister, took a timbrel in her hand and went out, followed by all the women, with timbrels and dance. And Miriam led them in response: "Sing to ADONAI who has triumphed gloriously, who cast horse and rider into the sea."

Exodus 15:20–21

► For sovereignty belongs to ADONAI, who rules the nations. Deliverers shall rise on Mount Zion to judge the mountain of Esau, and dominion shall belong to ADONAI. ADONAI shall be sovereign over all the earth. On that day ADONAI shall be one, and the name of God, one.

inspiration, became a chorus singing hymns of thanksgiving to God—together with Moses “the prophet” leading the men, and Miriam “the prophet” leading the women. He may be reflecting the prayer practice of the Jewish community of 1st-century Egypt.

FOR SOVEREIGNTY BELONGS TO ADONAI כִּי לַיהוָה הַמְּלוּכָה Psalm 22:29. The biblical selections of P'sukei D'zimra conclude by framing the powerful climax of the Song at the Sea with verses from Psalms and the Prophets that emphasize God's sovereignty—and the universal recognition of God that will mark the end of days.

TO JUDGE THE MOUNTAIN OF ESAU עֵשָׂו אֶת-הַר עֵשָׂו Obadiah 1:21. The mountain referred to is perhaps Palmyra—the red rock, home of the “red” Esau (Genesis 25:25). Throughout Jewish history, oppressors were identified with Esau. Thus in ancient times, Rome was midrashically referred to as Esau, and in modern times Jews talked about their German oppressors using that name—throughout history, a safe way to reference a tyrannical regime. Obadiah, quoted here, predicted that though Israel and Judah were bent low in his time, redemption would come soon. Thus the victory described in the Song at the Sea is connected and turned into a vision of ever-renewed deliverance of the people Israel.

AND THE NAME OF GOD, ONE וְשִׁמוֹ אֶחָד Zechariah 14:9. The Aleinu prayer also ends with this verse, representing a wish for universal justice and peace. In that time, religious ideals will be not only a hope and a dream but also an experienced reality. The exodus from Egypt and the Egyptians' defeat foreshadows this future time.

THEN MIRIAM THE PROPHET וְתִקַּח מִרְיָם. In the Torah, this passage immediately follows the Song at the Sea, emphasizing that all of Israel—men and women—celebrated together. That sense of inclusiveness is a fitting introduction to the following passage, Nishmat Kol Hai, “the breath of every living being,” which follows on the next page. Rashi (1040–1105, northern France), interpreting the Mekhilta (the 2nd-century commentary on Exodus), pictures Moses reciting the Song and the men repeating after him, and then Miriam reciting the Song and the women repeating after her. In commenting on Exodus 15:1, Midrash Sekhel Tov (12th century, Italy?) imagines Miriam reciting the first half of each verse and the women completing the verse. Philo (1st century C.E., Egypt) comments that the men and women, under the influence of divine

NISHMAT: THE SOUL OF ALL THAT LIVES

The soul of all that lives praises Your name, ADONAI our God; the spirit of all flesh exalts You, our sovereign, always. From the very beginning to the very end of time, You are God. Beside You, we have no sovereign who redeems and liberates us, rescues and saves us, shows us kindness and sustains us in every moment of anguish and distress; we have no sovereign but You: God of all ages, God of all creatures, master of all generations, extolled in endless praise, who guides the world with love and its creatures with compassion. ADONAI neither slumbers nor sleeps, but wakes those who sleep, rouses those who slumber, gives voice to those who cannot speak, frees those who are bound up, supports those who fall, straightens those who are bent over. It is You alone whom we thank. Were our mouths filled with song as the sea, our tongues to sing endlessly like countless waves, our lips to offer limitless praise like the sky, our eyes to shine like the sun and the moon, our arms to spread heavenward like eagles' wings, and our feet swift as deer, we would still be unable to fully express our gratitude to You, ADONAI our God and God of our ancestors, or to praise Your name for even one of the myriad moments of kindness with which You have blessed our ancestors and us.

NISHMAT. Nishmat is a fitting conclusion to the psalms and biblical verses that we have just recited, as well as an introduction to the b'rakhot that we are about to recite. The last psalm we recited, Psalm 150, ends with the line "Let every breath be praise of God," a thought that is then taken up directly in the opening line of this prayer, "the soul (n'shamah, literally 'breath') of all that lives praises Your name." Following on the heels of the recitation of the Song at the Sea, Nishmat speaks of God's rescue of the people Israel from slavery in Egypt. Equally, Nishmat looks forward to the prayers that we are about to recite: in speaking of worshipping God with all of one's body and all of one's soul, it anticipates the Sh'ma, which talks of worshipping God with one's total being, and in its conclusion Nishmat includes language found in the first blessing of the Amidah. Nishmat repeatedly moves from prose statements to rhythmic poetic lines, as if each moment of prayer becomes an occasion for song. Though the poem emphasizes the limitation of words in describing or praising God, the poet suggests that the actions of our bodies, especially our breathing, can constitute a praise of God. Indeed, in this prayer our entire body is said to praise God. Some recite as an introduction to Nishmat the poem by Solomon ibn Gabirol on page 101.

From Egypt You redeemed us, ADONAI our God, and from the house of bondage You liberated us.
In famine, You nourished us;
in prosperity, You sustained us;
from the sword, You saved us;
from pestilence, You spared us;
and from illness, bitter and long, You raised us up.
Your compassion has maintained us to this day,
Your love has not left us;
do not abandon us, ADONAI our God, ever.

And so the organs You formed within us,
the spirit and soul You breathed into our nostrils, the tongue You placed in our mouths—they will all thank and bless, praise and acclaim,
exalt and honor,
sanctify and crown Your name, our sovereign.
Let every mouth thank You,
every tongue pledge loyalty,
every knee bend to You,
every body bow before You,
every heart be loyal to You,
and every fiber of our being chant Your name, fulfilling the song of the psalmist:
“Every bone in my body cries out, ADONAI, who is like You:
saving the poor from the powerful,
the afflicted and impoverished from those who prey on them?”
Who resembles You?
Who is equal to You?
Who compares to You?—
great, mighty, awe-inspiring, transcendent God,
to whom heaven and earth belong.
We will praise, acclaim, and honor You,
and bless Your sacred name, fulfilling David’s words:
“Let my soul bless ADONAI, and every fiber of my being praise God’s sacred name.”

Faith in God

This faith in oneself is not merely faith in one's ability to do things. The latter is necessary as a part of mental health, and is as important as bodily health. The faith in oneself which is not only a prerequisite of faith in God, but is in a sense faith in God, implies being able to identify in oneself a principle of life which is not a derivative from one's natural capacities, but which belongs to a different order of existence. In the yearning for salvation, for life's worthwhileness, for truth, goodness, and beauty for their own sake, for freedom, justice and peace in society, a human being experiences something supra-human or supra-natural. One who experiences that yearning in one's self cannot be so vain or unreasonable as to believe that he or she is alone in the possession of such yearning. The most difficult step in achieving faith in God is thus the first one of achieving faith in oneself.

Prayer

What begins with a person's request ends with God's presence;
 what starts in the narrowness of the ego, emerges into the wide expanse of humanity;
 what originates in concern for the self becomes a concern for others and concern for God's concern;
 what commences in petition concludes as prayer.

—SAMUEL DRESNER

The Presence of God

The prayers that you pray are the very presence of God.

—PINHAS OF KORETZ

On Festivals, the leader begins here:

GOD, in the fullness of Your power,
 Great, in accord with your glorious name,
 Mighty, in all of time,
 Awesome, in your awe-inspiring deeds,
 Sovereign, enthroned on high,

On Shabbat, the leader begins here:

► dwelling forever, exalted and holy is Your name—
 as the psalmist has written:
 “Sing, O you righteous, to ADONAI; praise offered by the upright is lovely.”

You are exalted in the speech of the upright;
 You are blessed in the words of the righteous;
 You are glorified in the language of the devoted;
 You are sanctified in the midst of the holy congregation.

So the choruses of the thousands of Your people, the house of Israel, joyously glorify Your name in every generation.

► For it is the duty of all creation, ADONAI our God and God of our ancestors, to acknowledge and acclaim You, to bless and honor You, to exalt and glorify You, to praise, laud, and exalt You, adding our own tribute and songs to those of David, Jesse's son, Your anointed servant.

On Festivals, the leader begins here:

הָאֵל בְּתַעֲצוּמוֹת עֲזָה,

 וְהַנּוֹרָא בְּנוֹרְאוֹתָיִךְ,

On Shabbat, the leader begins here:

 וְכַתּוּב, רַנְנֵי צְדִיקִים בִּיהוָה, לְיִשְׂרָאֵל נְאֻם תְּהִלָּה.

 וּבְקִרְבַּי קְדוּשֵׁים תִּתְקַדֵּשׁ.

וּבְמִקְהֵלוֹת רַבּוֹת עִמָּךְ בֵּית יִשְׂרָאֵל

 שִׁירוֹת וְתַשְׁבָּחוֹת דָּוִד בְּיָשִׁי עַבְדְּךָ מְשִׁיחֶךָ.

הָאֵל. An anonymous early medieval poet created a short poem elaborating each of the adjectives associated with God at the beginning of the first paragraph of the Amidah (ha-El ha-gadol ha-gibor v'ha-nora, “Great, mighty, awe-inspiring God”), concluding with the description from the end of that Amidah blessing where God is called melekh, sovereign.

DWELLING FOREVER שׁוֹכֵן עַד. At this point there is a shift to the formal morning service, which is marked musically and in some cases by a change of prayer leader. On festivals, there is a more elaborate description of the relationship to God and so the shift occurs earlier at ha-El (“God,” at the top of this page).

SING רַנְנֵי. Psalm 33:1.

YOU ARE EXALTED IN THE SPEECH OF THE UPRIGHT בְּפִי יִשְׂרָאֵל תִּתְהַלֵּל. The vision of God seated in heaven pans out to the chorus of the faithful singing on earth. Note that the second word of each line is an acrostic spelling out the name “Isaac” (yitzhak).

Chorus of Song

The Ḥasidic master Simḥah Bunam once offered a play on the phrase shirei zimrah, “chorus of song.” He vocalized the letters differently—Hebrew written without vowels readily allows for this—and read it as shayarei zimrah, “that which is left over after the singing,” and suggested that God most delights in the inexpressible feelings that remain in the heart after the singing has ended.

The Duty to Praise

Maimonides, the great medieval Jewish philosopher and codifier, asserts that there is an obligation to pray. He enumerates this obligation in his list of 613 mitzvot. Other medieval authorities disagree and find no warrant for the obligation in the Torah. So why does Maimonides turn prayer into an obligation, when our common-sense view is that prayer is an offering of the heart which we choose to give?

Maimonides understands the entire system of mitzvot as fashioning human beings who are moral and who come to know God in deeper ways. Prayer inculcates a sense of appreciation and humility before the wonders of life—essential aspects of a religious path. Thus he sees prayer as an essential part of the process of religious formation.

Concluding B'rakhah

May Your name be praised, always and everywhere, our sovereign, God, great and holy. For it is fitting, ADONAI our God and God of our ancestors, to sing songs of praise to You, to ascribe strength and sovereignty, holiness and eternity to You, to praise and exalt You, ▶ to thank and bless You, now and forever. Barukh atah ADONAI, Sovereign God, to whom we offer thanks and ascribe wonders, who delights in the chorus of song—the sovereign God, giving life to all worlds.

The Sh'ma and Its Blessings

The Effect of Prayer

Prayer is a way of sensitizing ourselves to the wonder of life, of expressing gratitude, and of praising and acknowledging the reality of God. One need not believe that God will interfere with the ongoing process of nature to feel that prayer is worthwhile. We may have different understandings of what God is. No definition we have is sufficient or answers all doubts and questions. To be aware that God exists—that there is more in the universe than physical matter, that a moral order is inherent in creation, that humans are responsible for their conduct and can help to bring about the perfection, or at least the improvement, of the world and of life—that is sufficient reason for prayer.

—REUVEN HAMMER

The Congregation

Tabernacle and Temple gave visible assurance of God's care and accessibility. But once that locus of divine indwelling was destroyed, what could possibly replace it? The destruction of God's house should have augured the demise of Judaism. The well-known answer, of course, is that the rabbis, who replaced the priests at the helm of the nation, came up with the institution of the synagogue. But what, exactly, constituted a synagogue? How would we have recognized one? The heart of this radically new institution was neither a building nor a book, but a number. Whereas, prior to the Temple's end, holiness was ascribed to a sacred place that could not be duplicated, after 70 C.E. holiness resided inconspicuously in the quorum of ten without which basic communal rituals could not be enacted. To conduct a worship service, to recite certain prayers, to chant from the Torah or Prophets, to perform a wedding or a funeral, all required a minyan (Mishnah Megillah 4:3). . . . The Talmud echoes the new salience of a minyan. Once, Rabbi Yitzhak asked his friend, Rav Nahman, why he had failed to come to the synagogue to pray. "I couldn't," he responded. "So you should have gathered ten men on your own to pray," chided Rabbi Yitzhak. "It was too troublesome." "Well, at least," needled Rabbi Yitzhak, "you should have had a synagogue official come to inform you when exactly the congregation would be praying [so that you might join them from afar]." At which point, Rav Nahman protested, "What's this all about?" "We have a tradition," asserted Rabbi Yitzhak, "that goes back to Rabbi Shimon ben Yoḥai that this is the intent of the verse, 'As for me, may my prayer come to You, O Lord, at a favorable moment' (Psalm 69:14). And what indeed constitutes that 'favorable moment'? It is when the congregation is absorbed in prayer" (Babylonian Talmud Berakhot 7b–8a).

A MEDITATION FOR BAR'KHU

Almighty no thing exists without You and none can be like You the source of all maker and creator

You have no image eyes observe but the soul lodged in the heart recognizes You and sees

Your glory's breadth encompassing all for in You all finds its place but You occupy no place my soul seeing but unseen come thank the seeing but unseen and bless

Bar'khu: The Call to Worship Together

Bar'khu, the leader's invitation to prayer, is recited while standing. The leader bows when saying the word "bar'khu" (praise) and stands straight when reciting the name of God. Similarly, the congregation bows at the word "barukh" (praise) and straightens to full height at the recitation of God's name.

Leader:

Praise ADONAI, to whom all praise is directed.

Congregation, then the leader repeats:

† Praise ADONAI, to whom all praise is directed forever and ever.

Barukh Adonai ha-m'vorakh l'olam va-ed.

We are seated.

Bar'khu, the leader's invitation to prayer, is recited while standing. The leader bows when saying the word בְּרַכּוּ and stands straight when reciting the name of God. Similarly, the congregation bows at the word בְּרוּךְ and straightens to full height at the recitation of God's name.

Leader:

בְּרַכּוּ אֶת־יְהוָה הַמְּבָרָךְ.

Congregation, then the leader repeats:

† בְּרוּךְ יְהוָה הַמְּבָרָךְ לְעוֹלָם וָעֶד.

We are seated.

INTRODUCTION TO THE RECITATION OF THE SH'MA.

The call to worship marks the formal beginning of the Shaḥarit (morning) service. Shaḥarit always includes two central moments: the Recitation of the Sh'ma, and the Amidah (the silent prayer). B'rakhot surrounding the Sh'ma serve to interpret the themes of its biblical verses. Preceding the Sh'ma, in which we declare that God is one, are two b'rakhot. The first affirms that God is the creator of all, further remarking on the wonder of creation and the morning light. The first paragraph of the Sh'ma speaks of the love for God, and so the second b'rakhah acknowledges the inverse: God's love of the people Israel as manifest in the gifts of the teachings of Torah. A single b'rakhah follows the morning recitation of the Sh'ma; it speaks of redemption, reflecting the theme of the exodus from Egypt, which is introduced in the third paragraph of the Sh'ma.

ALMIGHTY מִשְׁגִּיב בְּכַחוּ. A meditation for Bar'khu written by Yehudah Halevi (Spain, d. 1141).

BAR'KHU: THE CALL TO WORSHIP TOGETHER. The leader calls the congregation together as a minyan; the congregation, by responding, acknowledges its being assembled for prayer.

TO WHOM ALL PRAISE IS DIRECTED הַמְּבָרָךְ. The Talmud of the Land of Israel explains the word ha-m'vorakh to mean "whom all of us praise" (Berakhot 7:3).

All Thank You

It is not you alone, or we,
 or those others who pray;
 all things pray, all things
 pour forth their souls.
 The heavens pray,
 the earth prays,
 every creature and
 every living thing prays.
 In all life, there is longing.
 Creation is itself but a longing,
 a kind of prayer of the Almighty.

First B'rakhah before the Sh'ma: The Creation of Light

Barukh atah ADONAI, our God, sovereign of time and space, forming light and creating darkness, bringing harmony while creating all.

On Festivals occurring on weekdays, we continue in the middle of page 152.

On Shabbat, we recite:

All thank You,
 all praise You,
 and all declare: "None is as holy as ADONAI."
 All will praise You forever, creator of all.

Each day, God, You raise the gates of the east,
 open the windows of the sky,
 bring forth the sun from its place and the moon from where it sits, illuminating the entire world and all its inhabitants whom You created, with mercy.
 With kindness You illumine the earth and all who dwell on it,
 and in Your goodness, day after day, You renew creation.
 Sovereign, You alone ruled on high from the very beginning, praised, glorified, and exalted since earliest time.

Eternal One, in Your great mercy, have compassion on us.
 Source of our strength, our protecting fortress,
 our saving shield, our stronghold.
 None is like You, none is beside You,
 nothing exists without You,
 and none can be compared to You:
 none is like You, ADONAI our God, in this world, none but You will be our sovereign in the world that is coming,
 no one but You exists, who will redeem us and usher in the messianic age, and none can compare to You, our deliverer, giving life to the dead.

Ein k'erk'kha v'ein zulatekha, efes bilt'kha u-mi domeh lakh.
Ein k'erk'kha . . . ba-olam hazeh v'ein zulat'kha . . . ba-olam haba.
Efes bilt'kha . . . limot ha-mashiah v'ein domeh l'kha lithiyat ha-meitim.

ברוך אתה יהוה אלהינו מלך העולם,
 יוצר אור ובורא חשיך,
 עשה שלום ובורא את-הכל.

On Festivals occurring on weekdays, we continue in the middle of page 152.

On Shabbat, we recite:

הכל יודוך
 והכל ישבחוך,
 והכל יאמרו אין קדוש כיהוה.
 הכל ירוממוך סלה,
 יוצר הכל.

האל הפותח בכל-יום דלתות שערי מזרח
 ובוקע חלונֵי רקיע,
 מוציא חמה ממקומה ולבנה ממכון שבתה,
 ומאיר לעולם כלו וליושביו שברא במדת רחמים.
 המאיר לארץ ולדרים עליה ברחמים
 ובטובו מחדש בכל-יום תמיד מעשה בראשית.
 המלך המרום לבדו מאז,
 המשבח והמפאָר והמתנשא מימות עולם.
 אלהי עולם ברחמיך הרבים רחם עלינו,
 אדון עֲזָנו צור משגבנו.
 מגן ישענו משגב בעדנו.
 אין כְּעֶרְפֶּךָ ואין זולתך,
 אֶפֶס בְּלָתֶךָ ומי דומה לך.
 אין כְּעֶרְפֶּךָ יהוה אלהינו בעולם הזה
 ואין זולתך מלכנו לחיי העולם הבא.
 אֶפֶס בְּלָתֶךָ גואלנו לימות המשיח
 ואין דומה לך מושיענו לתחית המתים.

FORMING LIGHT יוצר אור.
 This opening b'rakhah before the Sh'ma acknowledges that we experience God, first of all, through witnessing the miracle of creation. Praying in the morning, we are asked to pay attention to the wonder of the dawn, of sunlight, and of a new day. In the liturgy, the break of dawn is then imagined as a chorus of song in which we join.

This b'rakhah is adapted from a verse in Isaiah (45:7), which reads oseh shalom u-vorei ra, "who makes peace and creates evil." The prophet insists that both good and evil come from the one God. But in the moment of prayer, we focus on all for which we can be thankful, beginning with the light that makes life possible; therefore, the ancient rabbis transformed this biblical verse and changed the ending to read "creating all."

ALL הכל. The word hakol, "all," occurs five times in quick succession and refers to the totality of humanity, all earthly creatures and forces, as well as the heavenly bodies and the most distant galaxies. It echoes the last word of the opening b'rakhah (borei et ha-kol, "creating all," at the top of this page) and anticipates the affirmation of the one God, who is God of all, and whom we are about to praise in the Sh'ma.

NONE IS LIKE YOU אין כְּעֶרְפֶּךָ. The poet is playing with a variety of biblical verses: Isaiah 40:18, "what image can be ascribed to You"; 1 Samuel 2:2, "There is none beside You"; and Isaiah 40:25, "to whom can you compare God."

MESSIANIC AGE לימות המשיח. The poet progresses through stages of redemption from olam ha-ba, the world that is coming, to mot ha-mashiah, the messianic age, to t'hiyat ha-meitim, life given to the dead.

A Prayer for the World

Let the rain come and wash away the ancient grudges, the bitter hatreds held and nurtured over generations. Let the rain wash away the memory of the hurt, the neglect. Then let the sun come out and fill the sky with rainbows. Let the warmth of the sun heal us wherever we are broken. Let it burn away the fog so that we can see each other clearly. Let the warmth and brightness of the sun melt our selfishness. So that we can share the joys and feel the sorrows of our neighbors. And let the light of the sun be so strong that we will see all people as our neighbors. Let the earth, nourished by rain, bring forth flowers to surround us with beauty. And let the mountains teach our hearts to reach upward to heaven. Amen.

—HAROLD KUSHNER

God, master of all existence, praised by all that breathes, the world is filled with Your greatness and glory; knowledge and understanding surround You.

Exalted above holy beings, resplendent in glory on Your chariot, integrity and mercy stand before Your throne, love and merit accompany Your presence.

How good are the lights that our God created—fashioned with understanding, intelligence, and insight; endowed with the strength and power to have dominion over earthly realms.

Fully luminous, they gleam brightly, radiating splendor throughout the world. Happy as they go forth, joyous on their return, they accomplish, with awe, the will of their creator.

They give glory and honor to the name of God, invoking God's sovereignty with joyful song. God called forth the sun, and light dawned, then considered and set the cycles of the moon.

And so the array of heaven, s'rafim, ofanim, and holy beings, all the heavenly hosts, give praise, and glory, and honor to God—

GOD, MASTER אל אֲדוֹן. This piyyut, commonly attributed to mystics of the 1st millennium, uses imagery based on the visions of Ezekiel that describe a variety of heavenly hosts. It further develops the theme enunciated in the previous prayers that everything in creation praises God. Here that thought is extended to the heavenly hosts: even heavenly powers offer praise to God. The use of an alphabetical acrostic may suggest that God's word is the primary constitutive element of all creation.

HAPPY שְׂמִיחִים. Not infrequently in alphabetical poetry, the letter sin (ש) is substituted for the similarly sounding samekh (ס), as it is here. Such substitutions are even found in biblical acrostics. Most, if not all, worshippers in ancient times did not have prayer-books, and this substitution is quite natural in an oral culture.

S'RAFIM . . . OFANIM שְׂרָפִים . . . אוֹפָנִים. Angelic songs figure prominently in ancient mystical texts. Descriptions of different groups of angels singing hymns to God surely mirrored the seekers' own mystical experiences. The angels pictured here are closest to God's throne. In Jewish mystical thought, the ofanim are the wheels of God's chariot, first mentioned by the prophet Ezekiel; the s'rafim are the fiery angels pictured as flaming serpents in Isaiah's vision of heaven. The holy beings (hayot ha-kodesh) were thought of as the legs upholding God's throne.

God Blessed
the Seventh Day

It is written, "God blessed the seventh day" (Genesis 2:3). In what way is the seventh day blessed? On Shabbat a person's face shines differently than it does during the week.

—GENESIS RABBAH

God, the World, and Us

A Hasidic master taught: It is written in many books that if one wants to enter the inner world of prayer, to present speech before God, one needs, at the time of prayer, to attach oneself to all that is living and all that exists in the world. The meaning of this is as it is written in the Book of Psalms, "You created all with wisdom" (104:24)—that is, there is nothing in this world which is, God forbid, extraneous.... When a person seeking inspiration pays attention to this—reaching for an understanding of that which is clothed by everything in this world, animal life, plant life, and sheer matter, everything that was created; and arouses one's heart with this wisdom, speaks of it before God with love and reverence—then that person fulfills the will of the creator, who created the world in all its fullness.

—ZEV WOLF OF ZHITOMIR

On Shabbat, we continue:

who ceased work on the seventh day and ascended the throne of praise, robed in majesty for the day of rest, calling Shabbat a delight.

Such is the distinction of the seventh day, that God ceased all work, and so the seventh day itself praises God and says, "A song of Shabbat: it is good to thank ADONAI." Let all creatures likewise celebrate and bless God, offering praise, honor, and glory to God—the ruler, creator of all, who, in holiness, grants peaceful rest to the people Israel on the holy Shabbat. May Your name, ADONAI our God, be hallowed and may the thought of You, our sovereign, be celebrated in the heavens above and on earth below, though the praise due You, our redeemer, is beyond any offered by Your handiwork or the lights You have made—may they continue always to sing Your glory.

On Festivals occurring on weekdays, we recite:

With kindness, You illumine the earth and all who dwell on it; in Your goodness, You renew creation day after day. How varied are Your works, ADONAI, all fashioned with wisdom; the world in its entirety is Your dominion. You alone ruled on high from the very beginning, praised, glorified, and exalted since earliest time. God of the universe, with Your great kindness, have compassion on us. Source of our strength, our protecting fortress, our saving shield, our stronghold.

Almighty, blessed, creator of all who dwell on earth, the firmament and goodly heavens are illuminated with Your justice, kindness, and light; they make Your name an object of praise; quietly, resolutely, soulfully all tell in unified voice of Your wise, excellent, and zealous care.

You are to be praised, ADONAI our God, for the wondrous work of Your hands, and for the radiant lights that You fashioned, reflecting Your glory always.

On Shabbat, we continue:

GOD, WHO CEASED WORK לֹאֵל אֲשֶׁר שָׁבַת. This prayer forms a continuous narrative out of a disparate series of biblical verses and rabbinic comments. Already in the Bible, the seventh day is spoken of as affecting God's inner life: God was renewed (va-yinafash) on the seventh day (Exodus 31:17). The ancient rabbis pictured God as achieving full sovereignty only on Shabbat, and they personified the relationship in mutual terms: Shabbat itself praises God and chants Psalm 92, "A Song of Shabbat."

HOW VARIED ARE YOUR WORKS מָה רַבּוֹ מַעֲשֵׂיךָ. Psalm 104:24.

ALMIGHTY, BLESSED אֵל בְּרוּךְ. This early anonymous acrostic poem has four beats to the line and a rhyming pattern of aa, bb, cc, with a concluding b. Joel Hoffman, a contemporary scholar, writes: "The meaning of the individual words here was never the point. They were chosen for their meter and their initial letter." In this conception, the Hebrew alphabet itself is seen as an instrument of creation. Our translation here is impelled by this idea and is alphabetical, capturing the meaning of the text in a close, but not quite literal, translation.

ALWAYS סֵלָה. The biblical meaning of this word, which occurs frequently in the Book of Psalms, is unknown. The ancient rabbis, interpreting the biblical text, thought that it meant "forever," and that is its liturgical meaning here.

In the Beginning

In the beginning God created the heavens that actually are not and the earth that wants to touch them. In the beginning God created threads stretching between them— between the heavens that actually are not and the earth that cries out for help. And God created humans, for each person is a prayer and a thread touching what is not with a tender and delicate touch.

—RIVKA MIRIAM
(translated by David C. Jacobson)

Angels

The Hebrew word for angel is malakh, which also means “messenger,” one who is sent. . . . Unsuspecting and unaware. Consumed by their own plans and itineraries. Busy at work on their own schemes . . . people chosen to be messengers of the Most High rarely even know that they are God’s messengers. . . . I do not know how many times in one’s life one is also a messenger. But for everyone it is at least once.

KEDUSHAH D’YOTZER: THE ANGELIC PRAISE OF GOD

You are to be praised, our protector, our sovereign, our redeemer, creator of celestial beings. Our sovereign, Your name is to be acclaimed forever; You fashion beings that serve You, and Your servants all stand at the edges of the universe, proclaiming reverently with one voice the words of the living God, the sovereign of the universe.

► All of them loved, all of them pure, all of them mighty, and all of them in reverence and awe carry out the will of the one who has dominion over them. In purity and in holiness, all of them raise their voices, in song and chant, to praise, bless, glorify, extol, hallow, and celebrate the name of God, the great, mighty, awe-inspiring sovereign, the Holy One.

et shem ha-El, ha-melekh ha-gadol, ha-gibor v’hanora kadosh hu.

► Each turns to another as they proclaim their loyalty to God, and each gives permission to the other to hallow their creator; in a clear voice and with sacred speech, together as one, they respond with awe, saying:

Holy, holy, holy is ADONAI Tz’va’ot,
the whole world is filled with God’s glory.

Kadosh, kadosh, kadosh Adonai Tz’va’ot, m’lo khol ha-aretz k’vodo.

► With a deafening sound, the ofanim and other holy beings rise up opposite the s’rafim and proclaim their praise: Praised is ADONAI’s glory wherever God dwells.

Barukh k’vod Adonai mimkomo.

They offer adulation to God, whom they bless. They chant songs and voice their praise to the sovereign, the living and enduring God. For God alone achieves victory, creates anew, masters war, sows righteousness, cultivates deliverance, effects healing, is praised with reverence, and is the author of wonders. ► In God’s goodness, the work of creation is renewed each day, as the psalmist declared: “Thank the creator of the great lights, for God’s love is everlasting.” Cause a new light to shine on Zion, and may we all soon be worthy of its illumination.

Barukh atah ADONAI, creator of lights.

KEDUSHAH D’YOTZER קְדוּשַׁה דְּיֹצֵר. This version of the Kedushah, recited in the first b'rakhah before the Sh'ma, blesses God for the creation of the morning light. Every Kedushah is based on the mystical visions of Isaiah and Ezekiel. Each prophet described an angelic chorus. Isaiah saw them singing kadosh, kadosh, kadosh (“holy, holy, holy,” 6:3); Ezekiel heard them reciting barukh k’vod Adonai (“praised is Adonai’s glory,” 3:12). The Kedushah is placed here, in the blessing of creation, as if to say that both heaven and earth offer praise to God. In the mind of the mystics, all of creation constitutes a praise of God; every created being, animate and inanimate, sings to God.

BEINGS THAT SERVE YOU . . . SERVANTS . . . מְשֻׁרְתִים . . . מְשֻׁרְתֵינוּ. Rabbinic lore tells of two kinds of angelic creations: those who are part of God’s permanent court, like the angels Michael and Gabriel, and those who are created each day to be conveyers of that day’s message, and so the liturgist talks of both of them as “proclaiming . . . the words of the living sovereign” (Babylonian Talmud, Hagigah 14a).

THANK THE CREATOR OF THE GREAT LIGHTS לְעֵשֶׂה הַגְּדֻלִים. Psalm 136:7.

ZION צִיּוֹן. The prayer takes the motif of the light of creation and of the dawn, and ties it to an image of the Temple in Jerusalem as a source of ultimate illumination.

The Blessings of the Priests before the Sh'ma

The priests in the Temple would say the following b'rakhah before the Sh'ma: "May the one who dwells in this House always grant you love, harmony, peace, and friendship."

—TALMUD OF THE LAND OF ISRAEL

You Have Loved Us Deeply

With a great love (ahavah rabah) You have loved us (ahavtanu). The love of God for the people Israel is declared here just before the Sh'ma. It prepares us for the Sh'ma. Now you might expect a listing of gifts to us—God's freeing us, feeding us, delivering us. Instead, we thank God for one gift: God's teaching, God's opening our minds and hearts to Torah.

What You've given us is the ability to listen to You, so we can thank and draw close to You. Your compassion is expressed in teaching our hearts to know compassion, to love You, giving us not personal freedoms but, in fact, boundaries bringing us close to the Unbounded, the One. By giving us Torah, You've shown us how to live. We can now offer thanks and say: "Hear O Israel, Adonai is our God, Adonai is one."

—JOHN J. CLAYTON

Second B'rakhah before the Sh'ma: God's Great Love

You have loved us deeply, ADONAI our God, and showered us with boundless compassion. Avinu Malkeinu, for the sake of our ancestors who trusted in You and to whom You taught the laws of life, so may You be gracious to us and instruct us. Kind creator, have compassion for us, open our hearts so that we may understand and discern, hear and study, observe, perform, and fulfill all the teachings of Your Torah with love. Enlighten our eyes with Your Torah; attach our hearts to Your mitzvot; unify our hearts to love and revere Your name so that we never lose hope. As we trust in Your great, holy, awe-inspiring name, we will delight and rejoice in Your deliverance.

Some gather their tzitzit before reciting this line:

► Bring us safely from the four corners of the earth, and lead us in dignity to our land, for You are the God who effects deliverance. You have chosen us from all other tongues and peoples, always drawing us nearer to Your name, that we may truly acknowledge You and lovingly proclaim Your oneness. Barukh atah ADONAI, who lovingly cares for the people Israel.

Ahavah rabah ahavtanu Adonai eloheinu, h'emlah g'dolah viteirah hamalta aleinu.

of the "Written Torah" and the "Oral Torah," the latter referring to the teachings of the Midrash, Mishnah, and Talmud—and even to "whatever new teaching a student of wisdom might impart until the end of time" (Leviticus Rabbah 22:1). In this prayer, "Torah" embraces the widest meaning: the laws of life—all those teachings that instruct us concerning a full ethical and religious life.

TO UNDERSTAND AND DISCERN . . . OBSERVE, FULFILL, AND PERFORM וְלִשְׁמֹר וּלְעֲשׂוֹת וּלְקַיֵּם . . . לשמר ולהשפיל. This sequence implies that study is intimately linked with action—indeed, that study should lead to action.

GATHERING THE TZITZIT. Many observe the custom, originating in the late Middle Ages, of gathering the four tzitziyot (plural of tzitzit) of the tallit while reciting the words "bring us safely from the four corners of the earth," thus symbolizing Israel's unity and ingathering. The tzitziyot are then held through the third paragraph of the Sh'ma, and kissed when reciting the word tzitzit (which appears three times in that paragraph). By this practice, we indicate that we are lovingly undertaking to observe these words of Torah, and we hope that our commitment to strive for holiness will lead to greater unity. We are also gathering within us all our positive intentions.

YOU HAVE LOVED US DEEPLY אהבה רבה. The Hebrew root alef-hei-vet, meaning "love," appears six times in this passage (both as the noun and a verb). Reuven Hammer points out that three of them speak of our love for God and three speak of God's love for us. While reciting this b'rakhah, the worshipper can anticipate the seventh occurrence, which is found in the first paragraph of the Sh'ma: "You shall love Adonai your God."

AVINU MALKEINU אבינו מלכנו. Literally, "our father, our king." The pairing of the two words emphasizes that God is at once both intimate as a close relation and distant as a monarch. The word av, "father," suggests the image of God as source or progenitor, and therefore it may also be translated as "creator."

LAWS OF LIFE חקי חיים. The word "Torah" encompasses many different meanings. In its most limited usage, it refers to the Five Books of Moses. But in a larger sense it refers to all of Scripture, and even to all of later Jewish teaching. Thus, the rabbis of the Talmud spoke

Hear, O Israel

The core of our worship is not a prayer at all, but a cry to our fellow Jews and fellow humans. In it we declare that God is one—which is also to say that humanity is one, that life is one, that joys and sufferings are all one—for God is the force that binds them all together. There is nothing obvious about this truth, for life as we experience it seems infinitely fragmented. Human beings seem isolated from one another, divided by all the fears and hatreds that make up human history. Even within a single life, one moment feels cut off from the next, memories of joy and fullness offering us little consolation when we are depressed or lonely. To assert that all is one in God is our supreme act of faith. No wonder that the Sh'ma, the first “prayer” we learn in childhood, is also the last thing we are to say before we die.

—ARTHUR GREEN

The Challenge of Faith

The Israeli poet Yoram Nissonovitch remarks that religious questions may not constitute the subversion of our faith; rather, they may help us get past tired notions that narrow our vision, and it may open our souls to new and deeper understandings. His colleague Elhanan Nir adds: Doubts lead to a strong, surprising, and deep faith that cannot be compared with classical faith. This is a faith for which nothing is taken for granted.

Recitation of the Sh'ma

Some people may wish to pause here for a moment. Some may close their eyes; others may place a hand over their eyes. The intention is to concentrate on God's oneness.

The following words are added in the absence of a minyan:
God is a faithful sovereign.

Hear, O Israel, ADONAI is our God, ADONAI is one.

Sh'ma yisrael, Adonai eloheinu Adonai ehad.

Recited quietly: Praised be the name of the one whose glorious sovereignty is forever and ever.

You shall love ADONAI your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all that is yours.

These words that I command you this day shall be taken to heart.

Teach them again and again to your children; speak of them when you sit in your home, when you walk on your way, when you lie down, and when you rise up.

Bind them as a sign upon your hand and as a symbol above your eyes; inscribe them upon the doorposts of your home and on your gates.

קְרִיאַת שְׁמַע

Some people may wish to pause here for a moment. Some may close their eyes; others may place a hand over their eyes. The intention is to concentrate on God's oneness.

In the absence of a minyan, we add the following: אֵל מֶלֶךְ נֶאֱמָר.

שְׁמַע יִשְׂרָאֵל יְהוָה אֱלֹהֵינוּ יְהוָה אֶחָד.

Recited quietly: שְׁמַע בְּבוֹד מְלֻכוֹתוֹ לְעוֹלָם וָעֶד.

דברים ו:ד-ט

covering his eyes came to be seen as a sign of deep contemplation, and so it became the custom of many to cover the eyes while reciting the Sh'ma, as a moment to meditate on God's unity.

GOD IS A FAITHFUL SOVEREIGN אֵל מֶלֶךְ נֶאֱמָר. These words form an acronym of amen. When we recite the Sh'ma with a minyan, the leader concludes with the words Adonai eloheikhem emet, “Your God truly”; when, in the absence of a minyan, that affirmation is not recited, we add this private affirmation at the beginning of the Sh'ma. The Kabbalists noted that the Sh'ma contained 245 words and so, by adding three additional words, we reach 248—the number of limbs in the body, according to the belief of the ancient rabbis. Thus we affirm, whether by adding words at the beginning or the end of the Sh'ma, that our entire being is dedicated to God.

SH'MA YISRAEL אֵל יִשְׂרָאֵל. To whom are these words addressed? Certainly, we are speaking to ourselves, enjoining ourselves to truly hear what our lips are saying. We may also be speaking to each other—the collective people Israel—reminding each other that we are a people united by values, nurturing our own sense of peoplehood. A moving midrash imagines these words recited by Jacob's sons, addressed to their father Jacob/Israel, reassuring him on his deathbed that they remain true to his teachings, and that the God of Jacob is and will remain “their God” (Genesis Rabbah 98:3). And so, we too may be speaking to our forebears, reassuring our ancestors (all the way back to Jacob!) that their legacy continues in us.

ONE אֶחָד. The Hebrew word ehad, “one,” has been variously interpreted. It can mean that God is totally unified and not made up of parts, as is the case with everything else we encounter in the universe. It can mean unique, that God is different from all else we encounter. It can mean “only,” that there is no other being who is divine. Mystics interpret it as meaning that God is one with the universe—or in another formulation, present throughout the universe.

PRAISED BE THE NAME שְׁמַע בְּרוּךְ שֵׁם. This phrase is not part of the biblical text but was the customary response of those assembled to hearing the name of God as part of priestly prayers in the Temple. To differentiate it from the actual biblical text, it is recited silently. In the legend mentioned above, this sentence constituted Jacob's response to his children's affirmation, and so it is voiced differently.

INSCRIBE THEM UPON THE DOORPOSTS וְכַתַּבְתָּם עַל מְזוּזֹת. The observant Jew lives a life surrounded by the Sh'ma: reciting it in the morning upon arising and at night before going to sleep, walking past its inscription on the mezuzah when entering one's home, and even adorning oneself with the words on weekday mornings upon one's head and near one's heart when putting on t'fillin, phylacteries.

THE RECITATION OF THE SH'MA. Rabbinic literature refers to the Sh'ma as a k'riah, a reading aloud of a passage of the Torah. Later it became a meditation as well, a way to focus on God's “oneness”—so much so that for some it became a moment to experience a mystical union with God. The Babylonian Talmud reports: Rabbi Judah the Prince was teaching and needed to stop, since the hour for reciting the Sh'ma was passing, so he covered his eyes for a moment and then continued teaching (Berakhot 13b). In this story, reciting the Sh'ma was but a momentary interruption. Later, Rabbi Judah's act of

Other Gods

What is an idol? A thing, a force, a person, a group, an institution or an ideal, regarded as supreme. God alone is supreme.

—ABRAHAM JOSHUA HESCHEL

To Love and Revere God

When one contemplates the wonders of God's creation and sees in them God's infinite wisdom, one immediately loves, praises, and craves to know God's great name, as David sang, "I thirst for the living God" (Psalm 42:3). But as one contemplates these things one is immediately struck dumb and becomes fearful, for one knows that a person is only a tiny part of the vastness of creation—humble and ignorant, standing with little understanding before the fullness of knowledge, as David lamented, "When I gaze at Your heavens, Your handiwork, what are mortals that You care for them?" (Psalm 8:4-5).

—MAIMONIDES

If you will hear and obey the mitzvot that I command you this day, to love and serve ADONAI your God with all your heart and all your soul, then I will grant the rain for your land in season, rain in autumn and rain in spring. You shall gather in your grain and wine and oil; I will provide grass in your fields for your cattle and you shall eat and be satisfied. Take care lest your heart be tempted, and you stray and serve other gods and bow to them. Then ADONAI's anger will flare up against you, and God will close up the sky so that there will be no rain and the earth will not yield its produce. You will quickly disappear from the good land that ADONAI is giving you. Therefore, impress these words of mine upon your heart and upon your soul. Bind them as a sign upon your hand and as a symbol above your eyes; teach them to your children, by speaking of them when you sit in your home, when you walk on your way, when you lie down and when you rise up. Inscribe them upon the doorposts of your home and on your gates. Then your days and the days of your children, on the land that ADONAI swore to your ancestors to give them, will be as many as the days the heavens are above the earth.

Deuteronomy 11:13-21

ADONAI said to Moses: Speak to the people Israel, and instruct them that in every generation they shall put tzitzit on the corners of their garments, placing a thread of blue on the tzitzit, the fringe of each corner. That shall be your tzitzit; you shall look at it and remember all the mitzvot of ADONAI, and fulfill them, and not be seduced by your eyes and heart as they lead you astray. Then you will remember and fulfill all My mitzvot, and be holy before your God. I am ADONAI your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt to be your God. I am ADONAI your God—

Numbers 15:37-41

Truly

When there is a minyan, the leader adds:

► ADONAI your God—truly—

this teaching is constant, well-founded and enduring, righteous and trustworthy, beloved and cherished, desirable and pleasing, awe-inspiring and majestic, well-ordered and established, good and beautiful, and so incumbent on us forever.

אָמֵת

When there is a minyan, the leader adds:

◀ יהוה אלהיכם – אָמֵת –

וַיִּצְיַב וְנָכוֹן וְקָיָם וְיִשָּׁר וְנִיָּאֵן וְאֶהוּב וְחָבִיב וְנִחְמָד וְנִעֵים וְנוֹרָא וְאִדִּיר וּמְתַקֵּן וּמְקַבֵּל וְטוֹב וְיָפֵה הַדַּבָּר הַזֶּה עָלֵינוּ לְעוֹלָם וָעֶד.

IF YOU WILL HEAR אִם שָׁמַעַתְּ. This paragraph suggests a direct relationship between the righteousness of our acts and our fate. If we are good, God will be good to us, and vice versa. That theology was questioned throughout the ages and even by biblical writers themselves, most sharply in the Book of Job. Nevertheless, it does speak to a deep human need to see a world as containing a moral balance between good and evil. What is expressed here in concrete terms may be understood more broadly: moral and immoral actions have consequences, both seen and unseen.

צִיצִית. The biblical scholar Israel Knohl, expanding a medieval Jewish comment, suggests that the word tzitzit may derive from tzitz, a headband worn by the High Priest and tied in back with a ptil t'khelet, a "thread of blue." On it were the words קדש ליהוה (kodesh l'adonai), "holy before Adonai." Wearing the tzitzit (literally, the "little tzitz"), we are asked to serve God in a holy way, much as the High Priest did; thus the paragraph commands us to be "holy before your God." The act of wearing tzitzit turns us all, metaphorically, into High Priests.

אָמֵת. The tradition read the word emet, "truly," as referring both backward and forward: it is the first word of the following paragraph and is also recited as if it were the last word of the preceding paragraph.

Redemption

What might redemption mean in our time? Gordon Tucker, a contemporary rabbi, points out that in the Bible, when an object is redeemed, it returns to its original state. Following a teaching of the Hasidic master Avraham Mordecai of Gur (Imrei Emet, parashat Emor), he remarks that there was a moment after leaving Egypt and crossing the Sea when we experienced freedom and the infinite possibility signalled by the limitless horizon of the desert. It was the time before the giving of the Torah on Mount Sinai, yet it was a special moment of being with God. Jeremiah records God saying, “I remember the generosity of your young days, the love you exhibited when we were first engaged, walking with Me in the desert” (2:2). We can hope that our religious life will lead us back to a moment of innocence, when we feel free and in unselfconscious relation to God.

Truly, the God of the universe, our sovereign, is the stronghold of Jacob and our protecting shield.

In every generation God is present, God’s name endures, God’s throne is established, and God’s sovereignty and faithfulness abide.

God’s teaching is living and enduring, truthful and beloved throughout all time.

As our ancestors accepted it as incumbent on them, we accept it as incumbent on us, and on our children, and all the future seed of the house of Israel who serve You. Both for our ancestors and our descendants, it is a goodly teaching, enduring forever, a constant truth, a never-changing principle.

► Truly, You are ADONAI our God and the God of our ancestors, our sovereign and our ancestors’ sovereign, our redeemer and our ancestors’ redeemer. You are our creator, and the rock of our deliverance, our redeemer and help. So You are known throughout time, for there is no God but You.

You were always the help of our ancestors, a shield and deliverer for their descendants in every generation.

You abide at the pinnacle of the universe—

Your judgment and Your righteousness extend to the ends of the earth.

Blessed are the ones who attend to Your mitzvot and place Your teaching and words on their hearts.

Truly, You are the ruler of Your people, a mighty sovereign, who takes up their cause.

Truly, You were at the beginning and You will be at the end—aside from You we have no ruler who can redeem and deliver.

Read forward, the word affirms what follows: credal statements spelling out the implications of the Sh'ma; each statement is preceded by the word emet, thus articulating a kind of Jewish creed. Read backward, it refers to God, who is identified with truth.

The phrase is based on the words of Jeremiah, “Adonai is true (Adonai emet), is truly the living God, and the sovereign of time and the world” (10:10). Additionally, another biblical meaning of the word emet is steadfastness or faithfulness. In this interpretation, what is affirmed is that God will always be present for us.

TRULY THIS TEACHING IS CONSTANT וְיָצִיב אֱמֶת. Reuven Kimelman, a contemporary liturgical scholar, contends that the “teaching” referred to in this assertion is the Decalogue, which originally preceded the recitation of the Sh'ma in the ancient synagogue. The recitation of the Decalogue was dropped from the liturgy because the rabbis were afraid that people would consider only those commandments as obligatory, as many Christians did. In its current context, the liturgical affirmation refers to the constancy of the entire Torah.

HELP OF OUR ANCESTORS [וְאַמוּנָתֵינוּ]. Two contrasting theological concepts are at work in this blessing. The first emphasizes the value of personal observance of Torah and mitzvot (“Blessed are the ones who attend to Your mitzvot . . .”); the second emphasizes communal redemption and the need for God to destroy oppression, with the exodus from Egypt serving as a paradigm for all future redemptions. The first is non-violent, speaking of personal practice and virtue through performing acts of love and care; the second insists that God must war against evil in order to root it out. These two views echo a talmudic argument as to whether the future redemption will be achieved peacefully or will come through war.

TRULY, YOU WERE AT THE BEGINNING AND YOU WILL BE AT THE END אֲתָה הוּא רִאשׁוֹן, וְאַתָּה הוּא אַחֲרוֹן. A similar expression “I am the alpha and omega, the beginning and the end” is quoted three times in the Christian testament. The wording of this prayer may have been deliberately polemical at the time it was written in antiquity, and intended to oppose Christian theological claims, which were emerging as a rival to Judaism.

Blessing of Redemption

Let us bless the source of life, source of faith and daring, wellspring of new song and the courage to mend.

—MARCIA FALK

ADONAI our God, You redeemed us from Egypt and freed us from the house of bondage. Their firstborn You slayed, Your firstborn You redeemed, You split the sea, You drowned the wicked, You rescued Your beloved. The waters engulfed their oppressors; not one of them survived. Then they sang in praise, acclaiming God for all that had occurred. The beloved people offered songs of thanksgiving, hymns of praise, and blessings to the sovereign ever-living God, who is transcendent, powerful, and awe-inspiring, humbling the haughty, raising up the lowly, freeing those in chains, redeeming the poor, helping the weak, and answering God’s people when they cry out.

▶ Our homage is to God on high, who is ever praised. Moses, Miriam, and the people Israel joyfully sang this song to You:

“Who is like You, ADONAI, among the mighty! Who is like You, adorned in holiness, revered in praise, working wonders!”

Mi khamokha ba-eilim Adonai, mi kamokha nedar bakodesh, nora t’hilot, oseh feleh.

▶ At the edge of the Sea, the rescued sang a new song of praise to Your name; together, as one, they thanked You and acclaimed Your sovereignty, saying:

“ADONAI will reign forever and ever.”

Adonai yimlokh l’olam va-ed.

Stronghold of the people Israel, arise and help the people Israel! Redeem, as You promised, Judah and the people Israel. Our redeemer is called ADONAI Tz’va’ot, the Holy One of the people Israel.

Tzur yisrael, kumah b’ezrat yisrael, u-f’deih khinumekha y’hudah v’yisrael. Go-aleinu Adonai Tz’va’ot sh’mo, k’dosh yisrael.

Barukh atah ADONAI, who liberated the people Israel.

The Shabbat Morning Amidah

Prayer

Rabbi Ami taught: One's prayer is answered only if one takes one's heart into one's hands, as it is said, "Let us lift up our heart with our hands" (Lamentations 3:41).

—BABYLONIAN TALMUD

One should pray as a beggar knocking on a door and wish for a time of generosity.

—based on HAYIM IBN ATTAR

Prayer is for one's soul what nourishment is for one's body. The blessing of one's prayer lasts until the time of the next prayer, just as the strength derived from one meal lasts until another.... During the time of prayer, one cleanses the soul of all that has passed over it and prepares it for the future.

—YEHUDAH HALEVI

Songs to God not only express joy; they express pain as well. There is no greater prayer than pouring out one's heart over the distance one feels from God.

—SHALOM NOAH BERZOVSKY

A transliteration of the opening b'rakhot of the Amidah may be found on page 466. When a minyan is present, some communities repeat the Amidah after it is recited silently; others recite the first three blessings (including the Kedushah on page 161) aloud and the rest of the Amidah silently. The Amidah concludes on page 166.

ADONAI, open my lips that my mouth may speak Your praise.

First B'rakhah: Our Ancestors

With Patriarchs:

ברוך אתה ADONAI, our God and God of our ancestors, God of Abraham, God of Isaac, and God of Jacob, great, mighty, awe-inspiring, transcendent God, who acts with kindness and love, and creates all, who remembers the loving deeds of our ancestors, and who will lovingly bring a redeemer to their children's children for the sake of divine honor.

On Shabbat Shuvah we add:

Remember us for life, Sovereign who delights in life, and inscribe us in the Book of Life, for Your sake, God of life.

With Patriarchs and Matriarchs:

ברוך אתה ADONAI, our God and God of our ancestors, God of Abraham, God of Isaac, and God of Jacob, God of Sarah, God of Rebecca, God of Rachel, and God of Leah, great, mighty, awe-inspiring, transcendent God, who acts with kindness and love, and creates all, who remembers the loving deeds of our ancestors, and who will lovingly bring a redeemer to their children's children for the sake of divine honor.

straight when we reach God's name, however, for we speak to God face to face (Babylonian Talmud, Berakhot 12a). The Talmud records disagreement about how deeply one should bow: some say that one should fully bend over, some that one should feel one's spine bending, and others that one should bow only one's head (Berakhot 28b). The Talmud confined bowing to the beginning and end of this first b'rakhah, as well as to the beginning and end of the next-to-last b'rakhah, which thanks God for the gift of life (Berakhot 34a). The sign  indicates the place to bow.

GOD OF ABRAHAM אֱלֹהֵי אֲבֵרָהִם. God uses this language when first addressing Moses, at the burning bush (Exodus 3:5–6). Its inclusion here at the beginning of the Amidah may remind us of the focus and attentiveness that we need to sense God's presence.

REDEEMER גּוֹאֵל. Judaism's messianic impulse reminds us that the world, as broken as it sometimes appears, is ultimately perfectible; God's teachings, carried out by us, will help the world achieve such perfection. Some liberal prayerbooks use the word ge'ullah, "redemption," in place of "redeemer," to de-emphasize the role of any single individual in facilitating the world's healing.

REMEMBER US זְכַרְנוּ. This brief prayer is the first of four additions to the Amidah during the Ten Days of Repentance. Each of the four phrases of this short addition ends with the word hayim, "life."

AMIDAH. The Amidah, literally "the prayer said while standing," is a moment of personal meditation and is also known as the "Silent Prayer." It always contains three introductory b'rakhot and three concluding b'rakhot. On Shabbat and festivals, a middle b'rakhah focuses on distinctive themes of the day. Before the Amidah begins we take three steps forward, approaching God's presence. (If there is no room, we first take three steps backward.)

ADONAI, OPEN MY LIPS אֲדַנִּי שְׁפֹתַי תִּפְתָּח. Psalm 51:17, where prayer is exalted over sacrifice. Rabbi Yohanan (3rd century) recommended that this verse precede the Amidah (Talmud of the Land of Israel, Berakhot 4:4).

BENDING THE KNEES AND BOWING. Bowing is both a symbolic acknowledgment that our prayers are to God and also a sign of humility on our part. We stand up

God of Our Ancestors

The God we know seems so much greater, so much vaster, than the God of former generations. The universe we live in is so much more known and charted; we measure distances in light years and send persons and machines coursing through space. The lenses through which we see the small as well as the vast have forever changed our way of viewing the world; the pace at which we seek and find knowledge has changed our way of learning. To say “our God and God of our ancestors” is to assert that the One of whom we speak in such an age is the same One as the God of small-town Jewish scholars and shopkeepers of a hundred years ago. This is no small admission, no small act of humbling, for such as ourselves.

Life to the Dead

A Hasidic master taught: There are parts of ourselves that have become deadened. When we pray this blessing we should ask ourselves, “What part of myself needs to be awakened? What should I be concerned with, that I have forgotten?”

With Patriarchs:

You are the sovereign who helps and saves and shields.

פ Barukh atah ADONAI,
Shield of Abraham.

Second B'rakhah: God's Saving Care

You are ever mighty, ADONAI—
You give life to the dead—
great is Your saving power:

From Sh'mini Atzeret until Pesah:

You cause the wind to blow and the rain to fall,

[From Pesah until Sh'mini Atzeret, some add:

You cause the dew to fall,]

You sustain the living through kindness and love,
and with great mercy give life to the dead,
You support the falling, heal the sick, loosen the chains of the bound,
and keep faith with those who sleep in the dust.

Who is like You, Almighty, and who can be compared to You?

The sovereign who brings death and life and causes redemption to flourish.

*M'khalkel hayim b'hesed, m'hayeih meitim b'rahamim rabim, somekh noflim v'rofei holim u-matir asurim,
u-m'kayem emunato lischeinei afar.*

Mi khamokha ba-al g'vurot umi domeh lakh, melekh meimit u-m'hayeh u-matzmiah y'shuah.

On Shabbat Shuvah we add:

Who is like You, source of compassion, who remembers with compassion Your creatures for life?

You are faithful in bringing life to the dead.
Barukh atah ADONAI, who gives life to the dead.

When the Amidah is recited silently, continue on page 162 with “Holy are You.”

With Patriarchs and Matriarchs:

You are the sovereign who helps and guards, saves and shields.

פ Barukh atah ADONAI,
Shield of Abraham and Guardian of Sarah.

With Patriarchs and Matriarchs:

פ *מְלַךְ עוֹזֵר וּמוֹשִׁיעַ וּמַגֵּן.
וּמוֹשִׁיעַ וּמַגֵּן.
פ* *בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה יְהוָה,
מַגֵּן אַבְרָהָם וּפּוֹקֵד שָׂרָה.*

With Patriarchs:

פ *מְלַךְ עוֹזֵר וּמוֹשִׁיעַ וּמַגֵּן.
בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה יְהוָה,
מַגֵּן אַבְרָהָם.*

פ *אַתָּה גְּבוּר לְעוֹלָם אֲדֹנָי,
מְחַיֶּה מֵתִים אַתָּה,
רַב לְהוֹשִׁיעַ.*

From Sh'mini Atzeret until Pesah: פ *מְשִׁיב הַרוּחַ וּמוֹרִיד הַגֶּשֶׁם,
[From Pesah until Sh'mini Atzeret, some add: מוֹרִיד הַטָּל,]* פ *מְכַלְכֵּל חַיִּים בְּחַסְדָּה,

מְחַיֶּה מֵתִים בְּרַחֲמִים רַבִּים,
סוֹמֵךְ נוֹפְלִים, וְרוֹפֵא חוֹלִים, וּמְתִיר אֲסוּרִים,
וּמְקַיֵּם אֲמוּנָתוֹ לִישְׁנֵי עֶפֶר.
מִי כְמוֹךָ בְּעַל גְּבוּרוֹת וּמִי דוֹמֵה לָךְ,
מְלַךְ מֵמִית וּמְחַיֶּה וּמְצַמִּיחַ יְשׁוּעָה.*

On Shabbat Shuvah we add:

פ מִי כְמוֹךָ אֵב הַרְחָמִים, זוֹכֵר יְצוּרֵינוּ לְחַיִּים בְּרַחֲמִים.

פ *וְנֹאֲמָן אַתָּה לְהַחְיֹת מֵתִים.
בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה יְהוָה, מְחַיֶּה הַמֵּתִים.*

When the Amidah is recited silently, continue on page 162 with קְדוּשַׁת אֱתָהּ.

SHIELD OF ABRAHAM מַגֵּן אַבְרָהָם. This phrase is derived from Genesis 15:1, the first time we hear Abraham speak to God. There Abraham—the paragon of faith—expresses to God his fears, skepticism, and insecurity about the fulfillment of God's promises. Authentic prayer may encompass feelings of doubt as well as faith, challenge and frustration as well as praise and gratitude. Some who include the matriarchs at the beginning of this prayer conclude with this ending, so as not to change the received wording of the conclusion of a b'rakhah.

GUARDIAN OF SARAH וּפּוֹקֵד שָׂרָה. Or: “the one who remembered Sarah” (after Genesis 21:1). We, who stand here today, are the fruit of God's promise to Abraham and Sarah.

SUPPORT THE FALLING סוֹמֵךְ נוֹפְלִים. After Psalm 145:14. For centuries, human rulers have defined “power” as the ability to exert control over others, often through the threat of physical injury. Quite differently, God's power is described here as manifested as hesed, love and generosity, especially to those who are most vulnerable. The other attributes describing God in this paragraph are also taken from biblical texts: Exodus 15:26 (“heal the sick”), Psalm 146:7 (“loosen the chains of the bound”), and 1 Samuel 2:6 (“brings death and life”).

GIVES LIFE TO THE DEAD מְחַיֶּה הַמֵּתִים. Over the millennia, many Jewish perspectives on the afterlife have been proposed. Many sages (including Saadiah Gaon, 10th century, and Maimonides, 12th century) caution against speculation about the specific implications of the doctrine of bodily resurrection of the dead. They understand it to be an articulation of God's supreme power: God cares even for the dead. Some moderns understand that the lives of those who died before us are a part of the stream of life, continuing to affect us, though we can never know precisely how.

For We Await You

Is it really true that we only await You? Rather, the prayer is a plea: Give us the wisdom to learn to await You.

—SOLOMON HAKOHEN RABINOWITZ

Holiness

Rabbi Hama the son of Rabbi Hanina taught: What is the meaning of the verse, “Walk in the path of Adonai, your God” (Deuteronomy 13: 5)? Is it possible for a human being to behave like the Shekhinah? And hasn’t the Torah also taught us, “For Adonai your God is a consuming fire” (Deuteronomy 4:24)? Rather, the verse teaches you to imitate the virtues of the Holy One—

Just as the Holy One clothes the naked, as it is written, “And Adonai, God, made garments of leather, and clothed them [Adam and Eve when they were expelled from the Garden of Eden]” (Genesis 3:21), so too are you to clothe the naked.

Just as the Holy One visits the sick, as it is written, “Adonai appeared to him in the grove of Mamre [as Abraham was recovering from his circumcision]” (Genesis 18:1), so too are you to visit the sick.

Just as the Holy One comforts the mourners, as it is written, “And it came to pass after the death of Abraham that God blessed Isaac, his son” (Genesis 25:13), so too are you to comfort the mourner.

And the Holy One buried the dead as well, as it is written “And [God] buried him [Moses] in the valley” (Deuteronomy 34:6), so too are you to bury the dead.

Third B'rakhah: God's Holiness

THE KEDUSHAH

The Kedushah is recited only with a minyan.

We hallow Your name in this world as it is hallowed in the high heavens, as Your prophet Isaiah described:

Each cried out to the other:

“Holy, holy, holy is ADONAI Tz'va-ot, the whole world is filled with God's glory!”

Kadosh, kadosh, kadosh Adonai Tz'va-ot, m'lo khol ha-aretz k'vodo.

Then in thunderous voice, rising above the chorus of serafim, other heavenly beings call out words of blessing:

“Praised is ADONAI's glory wherever God dwells.”

Barukh k'vod Adonai mimkomo.

Our sovereign, manifest Yourself from wherever You dwell, and rule over us, for we await You. When shall You rule in Zion? Let it be soon, in our day, and throughout all time. May You be exalted and sanctified in Jerusalem, Your city, from one generation to another, forever and ever. May our eyes behold Your dominion, as described in the songs of praise offered to You by David, rightfully anointed:

“ADONAI will reign forever; your God, O Zion, from generation to generation. Halleluyah!”

Yimlokh Adonai l'olam, elohayikh tziyon l'dor vador, hal'luyah.

From generation to generation we will declare Your greatness, and forever sanctify You with words of holiness.

Your praise will never leave our lips, for You are God and Sovereign, great and holy.

Barukh atah ADONAI, the Holy God.

On Shabbat Shuvah we substitute:

Barukh atah ADONAI, the Holy Sovereign.

We continue on the next page with the Fourth B'rakhah, “Moses rejoiced.”

On Shabbat Shuvah we substitute:

בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה יְהוָה, הַמְּלֹךְ הַקָּדוֹשׁ.

KEDUSHAH קְדוּשָׁה. In this ancient prayer, composed by Jewish mystics, we imitate the angelic glorification of God. Although it appears in several versions, the Kedushah of the Amidah always contains three biblical quotations: “Holy, holy, holy” (Isaiah 6:3), “Praised is Adonai's glory wherever God dwells” (Ezekiel 3:12), and “Adonai will reign forever” (Psalm 146:10). The liturgy surrounding these verses varies, being more elaborate and expansive on Shabbat and festivals than on weekdays. Because the Kedushah is a call-and-response, it is appropriately recited only with a minyan. (adapted from Reuven Hammer)

HOLY קְדוּשָׁה. These are the words that Isaiah heard the angels utter during the profound experience that initiated his prophetic calling (6:3). Holiness is God's essential quality, a quality of which humans can partake when dedicated to God and when acting in imitation of God's mercy and love.

THE WHOLE WORLD IS FILLED WITH GOD'S GLORY מְלֵא כָל־הָאָרֶץ כְּבוֹדוֹ. There are two contrasting themes in the Kedushah: God is to be found everywhere, and God is hidden from us. The paradox of the religious life is that at times we feel a divine presence close at hand and at other times God's absence is terribly palpable.

SERAFIM שְׂרָפִים. On the variety of angelic forms, see page 153.

בְּרוּךְ כְּבוֹד יְהוָה מִמְּקוֹמוֹ. Ezekiel heard this cry as he was being carried away by a wind, which transported him to preach to his fellow exiles in Babylonia (3:12).

The Blessing of Shabbat

During the week we build, we fashion objects, we aim for mastery, we fulfill responsibilities, and in all the busyness we easily lose sight of ourselves. On Shabbat we may uncover what is hidden to us in our busyness—going for a walk we see a bird's nest; the flowers in our neighbor's garden refresh and delight us; we notice a tree planted in another century; rain is experienced as a blessing. On Shabbat we enter this world of gentleness, of appreciation, of welcome. We join in community, not of people striving with or against one another, but of people finding each other. In giving up striving, we can move away from self-judgment, no longer bound by an accounting of failure or assertions of great success and power. We can simply "be," enjoy, "be with." On Shabbat our souls can remember how to be open.

On weekdays we may be too distracted, too involved with our work and our responsibilities to see the holiness of everyday life. The gift of Shabbat is that all we experience, every meal, every meeting with another person, every joy can be seen as holy.

—SHALOM NOAH BERZOVSKY

The following paragraph is said only when the entire Amidah is recited silently:

Holy are You and holy is Your name;
holy ones praise You each day.

Barukh atah ADONAI, the Holy God.

On Shabbat Shuvah we substitute:

Barukh atah ADONAI, the Holy Sovereign.

Fourth B'rakhah: The Holiness of Shabbat

Moses rejoiced in his portion,
for You called him a faithful servant.
You adorned his head with a brilliant crown
when he stood before You on Mount Sinai.
He carried down two tablets of stone,
inscribed with the instruction to observe Shabbat.

K'lil tiferet b'rosho natata, b'omdo l'fanekha al har sinai.

v'khen katuv b'toratekha.

And it is written in Your Torah:

The people Israel shall observe Shabbat, to maintain it as an everlasting covenant throughout all generations. It is a sign between Me and the people Israel for all time, that in six days ADONAI made the heavens and the earth, and on the seventh day, ceased from work and rested.

V'shamru v'nei yisrael et ha-shabbat,

Beini u-vein b'nei yisrael ot hi l'olam, ki sheishet yamim asah Adonai et ha-shamayim v'et ha-aretz, u-vayom ha-sh'vi-i shavat vayinafash.

The following paragraph is said only when the entire Amidah is recited silently:

אתה קדוש ושמך קדוש,
וקדושים בכל-יום יהללוך סלה.
ברוך אתה יהוה, האל הקדוש.

On Shabbat Shuvah we substitute:

ברוך אתה יהוה, המלך הקדוש.

All continue here:

ישמח משה במתנת חלקו,

כי עבד נאמן קראת לו.

כליל תפארת בראשו נתת,

בעמדו לפניך על הר סיני.

ושני לוחות אבנים הוריד בידו,

וכתוב בהם שמירת שבת,

וכן כתוב בתורתך:

ושמרו בני ישראל את-השבת,

לעשות את-השבת לדרתם ברית עולם.

ביני ובין בני ישראל אות היא לעולם,

כי ששת ימים עשה יהוה את-השמים ואת-הארץ,

וביום השביעי שבת וינפש.

Shabbat (Exodus Rabbah 1:28). Moses was happy that his suggestion became incorporated in the Decalogue. Medieval commentators add another interpretation: that Moses was overjoyed to be God's servant, appointed to communicate the law of Shabbat to Israel. Others say that the prayer celebrates the giving of the Torah, which Moses was happy to receive. According to a midrashic source, the Torah was given on Shabbat and the Torah is called God's gift, matanah—the same word used in this prayer to describe Moses' "portion" in the afterworld, where his share is assured (Babylonian Talmud, Shabbat 10b). Some remark, regarding the future tense, that the future alluded to is not the world that is coming, but each generation in which Shabbat is observed and this prayer is recited: Moses' joy stems from the fact that the descendants of the Israelites of his own generation (whom he instructed) continue to observe what he taught.

A FAITHFUL SERVANT עבד נאמן. Based on Numbers 12:7, where God tells Miriam and Aaron that Moses is totally trusted (ne-eman) in God's house. In Deuteronomy 34:5 Moses is referred to as "God's servant." And so yet another explanation of Moses' joy is that he was happy to be called a "faithful servant."

CROWN כליל. When Moses descended from the mountain, his face shone with God's light (Exodus 34:29).

THE PEOPLE ISRAEL SHALL OBSERVE ושמרו. Exodus 31:16–17.

MOSES REJOICED ישמח משה. This passage is an addition to the Shabbat morning Amidah of unknown origin. These verses are a fragment of a larger alphabetical acrostic but only the yod through lamed lines survive. (The word sh'nei ["two"] was probably added later to the luhot ["tablets"] line.) This prayer is not found among the fragments of liturgical remains of the Land of Israel in the Cairo Geniza. The geonim of Babylonia recommended that it be said, but its inclusion was contested by Rashi (1040–1105, northern France), among others. Nevertheless, it was adopted soon afterward by all rites.

What caused Moses to be joyful? A midrash maintains that the very notion of Shabbat was first suggested by Moses: in Egypt, Moses argued that even slaves needed a day of rest in order to survive and Pharaoh granted them

But, ADONAI our God, You have not given it to the nations of the world, nor, our Sovereign, have You bestowed it on idol worshippers, nor do the uncircumcised find rest on this day, for

With love, You have given Shabbat to the people Israel, the descendants of Jacob, whom You have chosen. The people who sanctify the seventh day shall feel fulfilled and shall delight in Your goodness, for You Yourself were pleased with the seventh day and sanctified it, calling it the most beloved of days, a symbol of the work of creation.

Our God and God of our ancestors, embrace our rest.

Make us holy through Your mitzvot and let the Torah be our portion. Fill our lives with Your goodness and gladden us with Your deliverance. Purify our hearts to serve You truly.

ADONAI our God, lovingly and willingly grant that we inherit Your holy Shabbat, that the people Israel, who make Your name holy, may find rest on this day.

Fifth B'rakhah: The Restoration of Zion

ADONAI our God, embrace Your people Israel and their prayer. Restore worship to Your sanctuary. May the prayers of the people Israel be lovingly accepted by You, and may our service always be pleasing.

On Rosh Hodesh and Hol Ha-mo-ed we add:

Our God and God of our ancestors, may the thought of us rise up and reach You. Attend to us and accept us; hear us and respond to us. Keep us in mind, and keep in mind the thought of our ancestors, as well as the Messiah, the descendant of David; Jerusalem, Your holy city; and all Your people, the house of Israel. Respond to us with deliverance, goodness, compassion, love, life, and peace, on this

On Rosh Hodesh: Rosh Hodesh. On Pesah: Festival of Matzot. On Sukkot: Festival of Sukkot.

Remember us for good; respond to us with blessing; redeem us with life. Show us compassion and care with words of kindness and deliverance; have mercy on us and redeem us. Our eyes are turned to You, for You are a compassionate and caring sovereign.

רצה, יהוה אלהינו, בעמך ישראל ובתפלתם, והשב את העבודה לדביר ביתך, ותפלתם באהבה תקבל ברצון, ותהי לרצון תמיד עבודת ישראל עמך.

On Rosh Hodesh and Hol Ha-mo-ed we add:

אלהינו ואלהי אבותינו [ואמותינו], יעלה ויבא, ויגיע ויראה, וירצה וישמע, ויפקד ויזכר וזכרנו ופקדוננו, וזכרון אבותינו [ואמותינו], וזכרון משיח בן דוד עבדך, וזכרון ירושלים עיר קדשה, וזכרון פלעמך בית ישראל לפניה, לפליטה, לטובה, לחן ולחסד ולרחמים, לחיים ולשלום, ביום ראש החודש הזה. חג המצות הזה. חג הספות הזה.

On Sukkot: On Pesah: On Rosh Hodesh:

זכרנו, יהוה אלהינו בו לטובה, ופקדנו בו לכרחה, והושיענו בו לחיים, ובדבר ישועה ורחמים, חוס וחסנו, ורחם עלינו והושיענו, כי אליך עינינו, כי אל מלך חנון ורחום אתה.

BUT . . . YOU HAVE NOT GIVEN IT נתתו. ולא. These phrases and the sentences that follow do not appear in early Ashkenazic liturgy. They were probably added in the High Middle Ages, due to the competition between Judaism and Christianity and the persecution in the time of the Crusades and after. A sharp distinction was thus drawn: we are the inheritors of God's wonderful gift, Shabbat, but our persecutors do not participate with us in this special moment. Our situation today is quite different, and we welcome non-Jews to join with us in celebrating Shabbat. As the prophet Isaiah declared, Judaism's gifts are not a secret treasure to be hoarded, but a divine blessing to be shared with all who would join in receiving them.

TO YOUR SANCTUARY לדביר ביתך. Literally, the "inner-chamber," as in 1 Kings 6:19, "within the Temple, on the inside." We pray for access to the innermost reaches of the divine realm; for the most intimate relationship with God. Yet this intimacy is not silence. The word d'vir connects to davar, "word." In the d'vir, God hears our voice, and we hear that of the Divine. (Jill Jacobs)

MAY THE THOUGHT OF US RISE UP AND REACH YOU יעלה ויבא. This paragraph, recited on every festival and New Moon, asks God—and by implication, us—to see the New Moon or the festival as a time to focus on renewal and redemption.

Gratitude

My instincts are from You, my body was fashioned
by You,
the songs I sing reach up to You,
and with offerings of thanksgiving I greet You.

The air I breathe is Yours,
the light in my eyes reflects
Your glory,
my insights are formed
from Your mystery,
the guideposts of my life are thoughts of You.

Whenever my love calls to
You, my heart finds You.
But my mind cannot contain You.
And my thoughts and conceptions can never truly picture You,
or my errors and mistakes ever diminish You.

Thanking God

own hand I give to You”
(1 Chronicles 29:14).

May our eyes behold Your compassionate return to Zion.

Sixth B'rakhah: Gratitude for Life and Its Blessings

*When the Amidah is recited silently, we read the following paragraph.
When the Amidah is chanted aloud, the leader reads this paragraph as the congregation reads the next passage.*

¶ We thank You, for You are ever our God and the God of our ancestors; You are the bedrock of our lives, the shield that protects us in every generation. We thank You and sing Your praises—for our lives that are in Your hands, for our souls that are under Your care, for Your miracles that accompany us each day, and for Your wonders and Your gifts that are with us each moment—evening, morning, and noon.

► You are the one who is good, whose mercy is never-ending;
the one who is compassionate, whose love is unceasing. We have always placed our hope in You.

This paragraph is recited by the congregation when the full Amidah is repeated by the leader, by custom remaining seated and bowing slightly.

¶ We thank You for the ability to acknowledge You. You are our God and the God of our ancestors, the God of all flesh, our creator, and the creator of all. We offer praise and blessing to Your holy and great name, for granting us life and for sustaining us. May You continue to grant us life and sustenance. Gather our dispersed to Your holy courtyards, that we may fulfill Your mitzvot and serve You wholeheartedly, carrying out Your will. May God, the source of gratitude, be praised.

On Hanukkah we add Al Hanissim on page 430.

For all these blessings may Your name be praised and exalted,
our sovereign, always and forever.

On Shabbat Shuvah we add:

And inscribe all the people of Your covenant for a good life.

May all that lives thank You always, and faithfully praise Your name forever, God of our deliverance and help.

¶ Barukh atah ADONAI, Your name is goodness and praise of You is fitting.

וְתַחֲזִינָה עֵינֵינוּ בְּשׁוּבְךָ לְצִיּוֹן בְּרַחֲמִים.
בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה יְהוָה, הַמְחַזֵּיר שְׂכִינָתוֹ לְצִיּוֹן.

*When the Amidah is recited silently, we read the following paragraph.
When the Amidah is chanted aloud, the leader reads this paragraph
as the congregation reads the next passage.*

¶ מוֹדִים אֲנַחְנוּ לָךְ שְׂאֵתָה הוּא יְהוָה אֱלֹהֵינוּ וְאֱלֹהֵי

וְהִמְרָחֵם, בִּי לֹא תָמוּ חֲסָדֶיךָ מֵעוֹלָם קוּיֵנוּ לָךְ.

This paragraph is recited by the congregation when the full Amidah is repeated by the leader, by custom remaining seated and bowing slightly.

¶ מוֹדִים אֲנַחְנוּ לָךְ שְׂאֵתָה הוּא יְהוָה אֱלֹהֵינוּ וְאֱלֹהֵי
אֲבוֹתֵינוּ [וְאִמּוֹתֵינוּ], אֱלֹהֵי כָל־בְּשָׂר, יוֹצְרֵנוּ, יוֹצֵר
בְּרֵאשִׁית. בְּרִכּוֹת וְהוֹדָאוֹת לְשִׁמְךָ הַגָּדוֹל וְהַקְּדוֹשׁ, עַל שֶׁהַחַיִּיתָנוּ וְקִיַּמְתָּנוּ. בֵּן תַּחֲזִינוּ וְתַקִּימָנוּ, וְתִאֶסְדֵּךְ גְּלוּיֵינוּ לְחַצְרוֹת קִדְשֶׁךָ, לְשִׁמּוֹר חֲקִיךָ וְלַעֲשׂוֹת רְצוֹנְךָ, וְלַעֲבֹדְךָ בְּלִבָּב שְׁלֵם, עַל שֶׁאַנְחָנוּ מוֹדִים לָךְ.
בְּרוּךְ אַל הַהוֹדָאוֹת.

On Hanukkah we add Al Hanissim on page 430.

וְעַל כָּלֵם יִתְבָּרַךְ וְיִתְרוֹמַם שְׁמֶךָ מִלְּפָנֵינוּ תְּמִיד לְעוֹלָם וָעֶד.

On Shabbat Shuvah we add:

וּכְתוּב לְחַיִּים טוֹבִים כָּל־בְּנֵי בְרִיתְךָ.

וְכָל הַחַיִּים יוֹדוּךָ סֵלָה, וְיִהְלְלוּ אֶת־שִׁמְךָ בְּאֵמֶת, הָאֵל יְשׁוּעָתָנוּ וְעֲזָרָתָנוּ סֵלָה.

¶ בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה יְהוָה, הַטּוֹב שְׁמֶךָ וְלָךְ נֶאֱדָה לְהוֹדוֹת.

she-anahnu modim lakh, “we thank You for the ability to thank You.” The ability to express gratitude is seen as a special gift to humanity. The attitude of thankfulness connects us to the world with a sense of humility and a joyful spirit of openness.

MAY YOUR NAME BE PRAISED AND EXALTED שְׁמֶךָ יִתְבָּרַךְ וְיִתְרוֹמַם. In the language of the Bible and the prayer-book, “God’s name is exalted” when we acknowledge God, recognize God’s goodness in creation, and act to enable God’s justice and compassion to be visible in the world.

AND INSCRIBE וּכְתוּב. This is the third of the four special insertions in the Amidah for the Ten Days of Repentance.

WHO RESTORES YOUR DIVINE PRESENCE TO ZION
הַמְחַזֵּיר שְׂכִינָתוֹ לְצִיּוֹן.
In the Land of Israel in the 1st millennium, this blessing ended with the words אֱלֹהֵינוּ לְבִדְךָ בִּירְאָה (she-ot'kha l'vad'kha b'yirah na-avod), “You alone shall we worship in awe.” The vision of the return to Zion is a vision of a religious life not yet attained.

YOUR DIVINE PRESENCE
שְׂכִינָתוֹ. The Hebrew word shekhinah has been used for centuries to refer to God’s immanence, the presence of God that is felt in the world. The word shekhinah is grammatically feminine. Accordingly, Jewish mystical tradition has tended to personify the Divine Presence as female.

WE THANK מוֹדִים (*the second version of Modim, the b'rakhah expressing gratitude, was created by the ancient rabbis to be recited by the congregation individually while the leader chanted the official prayer (Babylonian Talmud, Sotah 40a). In this way, the leader and the congregation simultaneously offer thanksgiving to God. The central idea expressed in this congregational response is

Be Like the Students of Aaron

Hillel would teach: “Be like the students of Aaron: loving peace and pursuing peace, loving every living being and drawing them near to the Torah.” What would Aaron do? When two people were fighting with each other, he would go and sit near the first and say, “My child, you should only know how disturbed and embarrassed your friend is about having offended you,” and thus his anger would be quieted. Then Aaron would go to the second one, sit next to him and say, “My child, I’ve just spoken with your friend and you should realize how disturbed and embarrassed he is about having offended you.” And Aaron would sit with him until his anger had dissipated. When the two met, they would hug each other and kiss. That is why it is written that when Aaron died, the entire house of Israel mourned for thirty days (Numbers 20:29), but when Moses died it does not say the whole house of Israel mourned.

—AVOT D’RABBI NATAN

Peace

Hezekiah said in the name of Hori: Great is peace, for regarding all the journeys of the Israelites in the desert it is written that they journeyed in contention and encamped with contention. But when they came to Mount Sinai they encamped as one, as it is written, “And Israel encamped there” (Exodus 19:1). The Torah does not say “the children of Israel” but rather “Israel,” to teach you that there were no differences but they came there as one. The Holy One then said: “This is the hour that I can give the Torah to My children.”

—LEVITICUS RABBAH

Seventh B’rakhah: Prayer for Peace

During the silent Amidah, continue with “Grant peace” below.

During the repetition of the Amidah, the leader recites the Priestly Blessing.

Our God and God of our ancestors, bless us with the threefold blessing of the Torah written by Moses Your servant, recited by Aaron and his descendants, the kohanim,
the consecrated priests of Your people:

May ADONAI bless and protect you.

So may it be God’s will. Ken y’hi ratzon.

May ADONAI’s countenance shine upon you

and may ADONAI bestow kindness upon you.

So may it be God’s will. Ken y’hi ratzon.

May ADONAI’s countenance be lifted toward you

and may ADONAI grant you peace.

So may it be God’s will. Ken y’hi ratzon.

Grant peace to the world, goodness and blessing, grace, love, and compassion, for us and for all the people Israel. Bless us, our creator, united as one with the light of Your presence; by that light, ADONAI our God, You have given us a guide to life, the love of kindness, righteousness, blessing, compassion, life, and peace. May it please You to bless Your people Israel at every season and at all times with Your gift of peace.

Sim shalom ba-olam, tovah u-v’rakhah, hen va-hesed v’rahamim aleinu v’al kol yisrael amekha. Bar’kheinu avinu kulanu k’ehad b’or panekha, ki v’or panekha natata lanu, Adonai eloheinu, torat hayim v’ahavat hesed, u-tzedakah u-v’rakhah v’rahamim v’hayim v’shalom. V’tov b’einekha l’varekh et am’kha yisrael, b’khol eit u-v’khol sha-ah bishlomekha.

On Shabbat Shuvah we recite the following paragraph, in place of the line that follows it:

May we and the entire house of Israel be called to mind and inscribed for life, blessing, sustenance, and peace in the Book of Life. Barukh atah ADONAI, who brings peace.

Barukh atah ADONAI, who blesses Your people Israel with peace.

During the silent Amidah, continue with שִׁים שְׁלוֹם below.

During the repetition of the Amidah, the leader recites Birkat Kohanim.

אֱלֹהֵינוּ וְאֱלֹהֵי אֲבוֹתֵינוּ [וְאֲמוֹתֵינוּ],

כֵּן יְהִי רָצוֹן.

שִׁים שְׁלוֹם בְּעוֹלָם, טוֹבָה וּבְרַכָּה,

בְּרַכְנוּ אֲבוֹתֵינוּ בְּלִבְנוּ בְּאֶחָד בְּאוֹר פְּנֵיךָ,
כִּי בְּאוֹר פְּנֵיךָ נִתְּתָ לָנוּ, יְהוָה אֱלֹהֵינוּ,
תּוֹרַת חַיִּים וְאַהֲבַת חֶסֶד,
וְצַדִּיקָה וּבְרַכָּה וְרַחֲמִים וְחַיִּים וְשְׁלוֹם.
וְטוֹב בְּעֵינֶיךָ לְבָרֶךְ אֶת־עַמֶּךָ יִשְׂרָאֵל
בְּכָל־עֵת וּבְכָל־שָׁעָה בְּשְׁלוֹמָה.

On Shabbat Shuvah we recite the following paragraph, in place of the line that follows it:

בְּסֵפֶר חַיִּים, בְּרַכָּה, וְשְׁלוֹם, וּפְרֻסָּה טוֹבָה, נִזְכָּר וְנִפְתָּב לְפָנֶיךָ, אֲנַחְנוּ וְכָל־עַמֶּךָ בֵּית יִשְׂרָאֵל, לְחַיִּים טוֹבִים וְלְשְׁלוֹם.
בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה יְהוָה, עוֹשֵׂה הַשְׁלוֹם.

בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה יְהוָה, הַמְּבָרֵךְ אֶת־עַמּוֹ יִשְׂרָאֵל בְּשְׁלוֹם.

blessing, Shalom Rav, is recited in the Amidah on most afternoons and in the evening. In the words of the midrash, “Great is peace, for all prayers conclude with a plea for peace” (Leviticus Rabbah 9:9).

TO THE WORLD בְּעוֹלָם. In accord with the text of the 10th-century prayerbook of Saadia Gaon, Conservative Movement prayerbooks insert this word (ba-olam) to emphasize that Jewish prayers for peace are universalistic and encompass the entire world.

MAY ADONAI BLESS AND PROTECT YOU יְבָרְכֶךָ יְהוָה וְיִשְׁמְרֶךָ. Numbers 6:24–26. This biblical blessing, known as Birkat Kohanim (the Priestly Blessing), is prescribed in the Torah to be recited by Aaron and his descendants, the kohanim (priests). Mishnah Tamid (5:1) reports that each day after the morning Sh’ma was recited, the prayers in the Temple concluded with the Priestly Blessing. On Shabbat an additional blessing was added for the kohanim who began their service in the Temple that week: “May the one who dwells in this house cause love, unity, and peace to dwell among you” (Babylonian Talmud, Berakhot 12a).

GRANT PEACE שִׁים שְׁלוֹם. The wording of this paragraph is related directly to the Priestly Blessing, both in its mention of the blessings of peace and in its reference to the light of God’s countenance. Thus, the Sim Shalom b’rakhah is traditionally recited at all services at which the Priestly Blessing occurs when the Amidah is recited in the Land of Israel. An alternative version of this

In This Stillness

In this expanse of quiet, stillness,
I reach out and reach in,
seeking myself
and seeking You.
I am grateful
for the breath of life, the unending miracles
of Your creation.

How may I best sustain the light in this world?
How may I heal
my wounded heart,
soften and salve the pain which is too often my companion?

I beseech You to protect and guard me,
I and my household,
all my loved ones,
the children of Israel,
all of Your children everywhere.

Grant us life, health, sustenance, peace.

May this Shabbat offer
sweet blessings,
and may it be a foretaste
of the week to come.

The silent recitation of the Amidah concludes with a personal prayer or one of the following:

א

My God, keep my tongue from evil, my lips from deceit.
Help me ignore those who would slander me.

Let me be humble before all.

Open my heart to Your Torah, that I may pursue Your mitzvot.
Frustrate the designs of those who plot evil against me;
nullify their schemes.

Act for the sake of Your name, act for the sake of Your triumph, act for the sake of Your holiness, act for the sake of Your Torah.

Answer my prayer for the deliverance of Your people.

May the words of my mouth and the meditations of my heart be acceptable to You, ADONAI, my rock and my redeemer.

Some have the custom of taking three steps backward and bowing at the conclusion of the Amidah, as if exiting the court of a sovereign.

May the one who creates peace on high bring peace to us and to all Israel [and to all who dwell on earth]. And we say: Amen.

ב

Grant me the liberating joy of Shabbat, the ability to truly taste its delights. May my heart not be weighed down by sorrow on this holy Shabbat. Fill the soul of Your servant with gladness—for to You, ADONAI, I offer my entire being. Help me to increase the joys of Shabbat and to extend its joyful spirit to the other six days of the week. Show me the path of life, that I may be filled with the joy of being in Your presence, the delight of being close to You forever.

May the words of my mouth and the meditations of my heart be acceptable to You, ADONAI, my rock and my redeemer.

*Some have the custom of taking three steps backward and bowing

MY GOD אֱלֹהֵי. One opinion voiced in the Babylonian Talmud states that every Amidah must be accompanied by a personal prayer (Berakhot 29b). The prayer that is printed here is offered by the Babylonian Talmud (Berakhot 17a) as an example of such a personal prayer; it is attributed to Mar son of Ravina (4th century).

MAY THE WORDS לְרָצוֹן
Psalm 19:15. Rabbi Yohanan (3rd century, the Land of Israel) recommended that the Amidah conclude with this verse (Talmud of the Land of Israel, Berakhot

Tilling the Soil

Why did Moses ask that his “teaching drip down like rain” (Deuteronomy 32:2)? A Hasidic master notes that rain is only beneficial for plants, enabling them to grow, if the earth has first been plowed and sowed; if the area has not been properly prepared, the rain will produce only mud. So too with Torah, which is most beneficial to those who are properly prepared to receive it.

As we conclude our Shahaarit service and turn to the public reading of the Torah, we hope that our prayers have done just that: tilled and plowed our consciousness, loosening our hearts and minds, so that the words of Torah might drip down deep within, nourishing the seeds our prayers have planted. As Louis Finkelstein once noted, “Our love for the Torah is only in part rationalistic; in the main, we need not be ashamed to confess it, it is emotional, intuitive and mystic.” Prayer prepares us for the words of Torah to penetrate deep within us.

Leader:

May God’s great name be exalted and hallowed throughout the created world, as is God’s wish. May God’s sovereignty soon be established, in your lifetime and in your days, and in the days of all the house of Israel. And we say: Amen.

Leader:

May the name of the Holy One be acknowledged and celebrated, lauded and worshipped, exalted and honored, extolled and acclaimed—though God, who is blessed, b’rikh hu, is truly [on Shabbat Shuvah we add: far] beyond all acknowledgment and praise, or any expressions of gratitude or consolation ever spoken in the world.

And we say: Amen.

May the prayers and pleas of all Israel be accepted by their creator in heaven. And we say: Amen.

May heaven bestow on us, and on all Israel, life and abundant and lasting peace. And we say: Amen.

May the one who creates peace on high bring peace to us and to all Israel [and to all who dwell on earth]. And we say: Amen.

KADDISH SHALEM. Every service that features an Amidah is brought to a close with Kaddish Shalem, the complete Kaddish, so called because in addition to the words of the Kaddish recited at other times in the service, it adds a line asking God to accept our prayers: “May the prayers and pleas of all Israel be accepted by their creator in heaven.” Here, the placement of Kaddish Shalem marks the end of the morning Shahaarit prayers. The liturgy now moves on to the Torah service.

In a formal sense, though introduced and followed by b'rakhot and prayers, the reading of the Torah and the haftarah constitutes study, not prayer. For the ancient rabbis, prayer was quintessentially defined by the Amidah, which we have now completed.

The Shabbat Torah Service

Torah

Next to human life, that which is most sacred to Jews is the Torah (the Five Books of Moses). Written by hand on parchment with a quill and permanent ink, the words of these five books depict the formative narratives of Jewish identity and self-understanding and the fundamental regulations of Jewish practice, the 613 mitzvot. Later rabbinic teaching presents itself as but an elaboration of these words—midrash.

Because the Torah is written as a continuous scroll, only a part of the text of the Torah can be seen at any one time. Metaphorically, this reminds us that the meaning of Torah is always partially revealed and partially hidden, and its teaching is constantly unfolding; even so, it is one continuous, integrated whole.

To Whom Is the Torah Addressed?

Rabbi Levi taught that when God appeared on Mount Sinai, each person believed that God was speaking directly to him or her. That is why the Decalogue begins, “I am Adonai your God” (Exodus 20:2; “your” is singular).

Rabbi Yose the son of Hanina added: The divine word came to each person in accord with that individual’s own capacity.

Taking Out the Torah

Ein kamokha va-elohim Adonai, v’ein k’ma-asekha.

Your sovereignty is eternal; Your dominion endures in every generation.

ADONAI is sovereign, ADONAI has always been sovereign, ADONAI will be sovereign forever and ever.

ADONAI, give strength to Your people; ADONAI, bless Your people with peace.

Compassionate creator, may it be Your will that Zion flourish; build the walls of Jerusalem, for in You alone do we put our trust, transcendent sovereign—master of all time.

Ki v’kha l’vad batahnu, melekh El ram v’nisa, adon olamim.

As the ark was carried forward, Moses would say:

ADONAI, rise up and scatter Your foes, so that Your enemies flee Your presence.

Va-y’hi binso-a ha-aron, va-yomer moshe:

Kumah Adonai v’yafutzu oyvekha, v’yanusu m’sanekha mi-panekha.

Torah shall go forth from Zion, and the word of ADONAI from Jerusalem.

Praised is the one who gave Torah to the people Israel in holiness.

his presence). In short, how we treat the Torah scroll combines the three “crowns” about which the ancient rabbis spoke: the crown of sovereignty, the crown of priesthood, and the crown of Torah (Pirkei Avot 4:17).

NONE COMPARES TO YOU אין כְּמוֹךָ. Psalm 86:8. As etiquette in Europe’s royal courts became more elaborate (12th–14th centuries), the Ashkenazic Torah service incorporated verses emphasizing God’s sovereignty, as if to say that God alone—and no earthly ruler—is the ultimate sovereign. The next verse, “Your sovereignty,” is Psalm 145:13; “Adonai, give strength” is Psalm 29:11.

ADONAI IS SOVEREIGN יהוה מְלֶךְ. This sentence is a compilation of biblical phrases about God’s sovereignty stitched together to form a creed: God has ruled the world since before creation and will continue to rule eternally.

COMPASSIONATE CREATOR אֵב הַרְחָמִים. This address, followed by a verse that calls for Jerusalem’s reconstruction (Psalm 51:20), is all that remains from prayers for forgiveness that were recited during the Torah service in an earlier era.

AS THE ARK WAS CARRIED FORWARD וַיְהִי בְנִסְעֵ הָאָרֶץ. Numbers 10:35 depicts the ark as the seat of divine protection, leading the march and warding off the fledgling nation’s enemies. One interpretation is that upon realizing that it is God whom they are fighting, enemies will flee and warfare will become unnecessary (Abraham ibn Ezra).

TORAH SHALL GO FORTH FROM ZION תֵּצֵא תוֹרָה. From Isaiah 2:3: “And many peoples shall come and say, ‘Let us go up to the mountain of Adonai, to the House of the God of Jacob, for Adonai shall teach us God’s ways, that we may walk in that path; for Torah shall go forth . . .’” As the ark is opened, we express our belief that Torah contains ideals of ethics, politics, and wisdom that affect all humanity.

The Zohar's Introduction to B'rikh Sh'meih

As soon as the Torah scroll is placed on the reading desk, the whole congregation below should assume an attitude of awe and fear, of trembling and quaking, as though they were at the moment of standing at Mount Sinai to receive the Torah, and they should pay attention and listen carefully; for it is not permitted then to open one's mouth, even for discussing the Torah, still less other subjects. All must be in awe and fear, as though they were speechless, as it is written: "And when he [Ezra] opened it, all the people stood up," and also "And the ears of all the people were attentive to the Torah scroll" (Nehemiah 8:5 and 8:3). Rabbi Shimon said: "When the Torah scroll is taken out to be read before the congregation, the heavenly gates of mercy are opened, the attribute of love is stirred up, and each one should then recite the following prayer: 'Ruler of the universe, praised be Your name and Your sovereignty . . .'"

A Mystical Prayer Before the Open Ark

Ruler of the universe, praised be Your name and Your sovereignty. May You desire Your people Israel forever, and may Your liberating power be revealed to them in Your sanctuary. Extend to us the goodness of Your light and with compassion accept our prayers. May it be Your will to grant us long life and well-being; may I be counted among the righteous, and in Your compassion protect me, my family, and all the people Israel. You are the one who nourishes and sustains all life. You rule over all, You have dominion over rulers, for true sovereignty is Yours.

I am a servant of the Holy One, whom I revere and whose precious Torah I revere in every time and place. Not on mortals, nor on angels do I rely, but rather on the God of heaven, the God of truth, whose Torah is truth and whose prophets are true and who abounds in deeds of goodness and truth.

► It is in God that I put my trust, and it is to Your holy and precious name that I utter praise. May it be Your will that You open my heart to Your Torah, and that You fulfill the desires of my heart and the hearts of all Your people Israel, for goodness, for life, and for peace. Amen.

PRaised BE YOUR NAME
ברוך שְׁמֵהּ. The mystic Isaac Luria (1534–1574, Safed) recommended that this prayer be recited before the open ark. It appears in printed editions of the Zohar (II:206a), where the passage that appears in the left-hand column of the facing page serves as an introduction, but it is not found in earlier manuscripts. One manuscript attributes it to the writings of Moses Nahmanides (1194–1270, Spain). Although its provenance is disputed, it has been cherished by many rites.

Procession of the Torah

We remove the Torah scroll from the ark and the leader faces the congregation.
The following two lines are recited by the leader and we then repeat them:

Hear, O Israel, ADONAI is our God, ADONAI is one.
Sh'ma yisrael, Adonai eloheinu, Adonai ehad.

Our God is one; great is our sovereign; holy is God's name.
Ehad eloheinu, gadol adoneinu, kadosh sh'mo.

Leader, facing the ark:

Join me in glorifying ADONAI; let us together acclaim God's name.

The Torah is carried in a circuit around the congregation.

Yours, ADONAI, is the greatness, the strength, the glory, the triumph, and the splendor—for everything in heaven and on earth is Yours.

Yours, ADONAI, is the sovereignty and the majesty above all.

Exalt ADONAI, our God; bow down before God, the Holy One.

Exalt ADONAI, our God, and bow down at God's holy mountain,
for ADONAI our God is holy.

A PRAYER FOR JEWISH COMMUNITIES IN DISTRESS

May the one who is the source of compassion recall the covenant with our ancestors and have compassion on this people borne by God. May the Divine rescue us in difficult times, remove the impulse to commit evil from those who bear it, and grant us enduring relief. May our requests be met with favor, deliverance, and compassion.

BEFORE THE FIRST ALIYAH

Leader:

May You help, shield, and save all who trust in You, and let us say: Amen.

Let us all declare the greatness of God and give honor to the Torah as [the first to be called to the Torah] comes forward. Praised is God, who gave Torah to the people Israel in holiness.

Congregation and Leader:

You who cling to ADONAI your God have all been sustained to this day.

V'attem ha-d'veikim badonai eloheikhem hayim kul'khem hayom.

We remove the Torah scroll from the ark and the leader faces the congregation.
The following two lines are recited by the leader and we then repeat them:

שמע ישראל, יהוה אלהינו, יהוה אחד.

אחד אלהינו, גדול אדוננו, קדוש שמו.

Leader, facing the ark:

גדלו ליהוה אתי, ונרוממה שמו יחדו.

The Torah is carried in a circuit around the congregation.

לך יהוה הגדלה והגבורה והתפארת והנצח וההוד, כי כל בשמים ובארץ, לך יהוה הממלכה והמתנשא
לכל לראש. רוממו יהוה אלהינו, והשתחוו להדם רגליו, קדוש הוא. רוממו יהוה אלהינו, והשתחוו להר קדשו,
כי קדוש יהוה אלהינו.

The Torah is placed on the reading table.

אב הרחמים, הוא ירחם עם עמוסים, ויזכר ברית איתנים,
ויציל נפשותינו מן השעות הרעות, ויגער ביצר הרע מן

Leader:

Congregation and Leader:

ואתם הדבקים ביהוה אלהיכם, חיים בלכם היום.

day, Yemenite Jews called to the Torah read their own aliyah.) The ancient rabbis instituted a practice of calling a kohen for the first aliyah and a levi for the second, in order to mitigate arguments about who deserved the opening honors. Some congregations retain this practice; others call congregants to aliyot without regard to status. It has become customary that each person called to the Torah uses either the corner of the tallit or the Torah binder to touch the scroll at the starting place (indicated by the reader) and then kisses the tallit or binder, reciting the b'rakhah while holding the wooden handles of the Torah rollers. When the reading is completed, this gesture is repeated.

YOU WHO CLING בְּדִבְקִים. Deuteronomy 4:4. From Moses' speech to Israel in the wilderness. In its context here, the verse is an assertion that it is through Torah that the fullness of life can be achieved.

ACCLAIM גדלו. Psalm 34:4. This verse, asking the congregation to acknowledge Adonai, and the following verses, which form the congregational response, mark the oldest section of the Torah service. Since Judaism avoids any iconic representations of God, the Torah represents the most concrete symbol of God's presence on earth. When we bow in the direction of the Torah, we are acknowledging God's presence among us. In this vein, the Torah procession concludes with verses that speak of bowing before God.

YOURS, ADONAI יהוה. 1 Chronicles 29:11. These verses are presented as part of David's last speech to the people Israel.

ALIYOT. A person called to the Torah is an oleh/olah la-torah, one who "goes up" to the Torah, since in the Middle Ages the reading table was on a raised platform. It is considered an honor to be called up to the Torah, to publicly recite the blessings over the reading. During the talmudic era, each person called to the Torah would chant the assigned passage directly from the scroll. Today, each person called to the Torah recites the b'rakhot and the Torah is chanted by a designated reader. (To this

Shabbat: Resting-Place on Our Journey

Each Shabbat is its own revelation, but each leads us further on the road to eternity. Each Shabbat is a resting place, an oasis on the journey that is the life of Torah. Each Shabbat's Torah reading looks forward to yet another week—another revelation.

Studying Torah

Once a young man who wanted to become a Ḥasid arrived at the court of Isaac Meir, the rebbe of Gur. The rabbi asked him if he had learned Torah. The young man didn't know what to answer. He had studied Torah but didn't want to appear too bold and answer "Yes," as if he knew all of Torah; nor could he say "No," for he would then be lying. So he responded, "I know a little." The rabbi replied, "Can anyone know more than a little?"

Blessings Recited by Those Called Up to the Torah

The person who is honored with an aliyah recites the following before the Torah is read:

Praise ADONAI, to whom all praise is directed.

Bar'khu et Adonai ha-m'vorakh.

The congregation responds:

Praise ADONAI, to whom all praise is directed forever and ever.

Barukh Adonai ha-m'vorakh l'olam va-ed.

The person who is honored repeats the above response, then continues: Barukh atah ADONAI, our God, sovereign of time and space, who has chosen us from among all peoples, giving us the Torah.

Barukh atah ADONAI, who gives the Torah.

Barukh atah Adonai eloheinu melekh ha-olam, asher baḥar banu mikol ha-amim, v'natan lanu et torato.

Barukh atah Adonai, noten ha-torah.

The person who is honored recites the following after the Torah is read:

Barukh atah ADONAI, our God, sovereign of time and space, who has given us a teaching of truth, planting eternal life in our midst.

Barukh atah ADONAI, who gives the Torah.

Barukh atah Adonai eloheinu melekh ha-olam, asher natan lanu torat emet, v'hayei olam nata b'tokheinu.

who has/have ascended today to honor God and the Torah and Shabbat.

May the blessed Holy One protect him/her/them and his/her/their entire family, bring blessing and success to all the works of his/her/their hands, together with all his/her/their fellow Jews, and let us say: Amen.

בְּרִכּוֹת הַתּוֹרָה

The person who is honored with an aliyah recites the following before the Torah is read:

בְּרַכּוּ אֶת־יְהוָה הַמְּבֹרָךְ.

The congregation responds:

בְּרוּךְ יְהוָה הַמְּבֹרָךְ לְעוֹלָם וָעֶד.

The person who is honored repeats the above response, then continues:

בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה יְהוָה אֱלֹהֵינוּ מֶלֶךְ הָעוֹלָם, אֲשֶׁר בָּחַר בָּנוּ מִכָּל־הָעַמִּים וְנָתַן לָנוּ אֶת־תּוֹרָתוֹ. בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה יְהוָה, נוֹתֵן הַתּוֹרָה.

The person who is honored recites the following after the Torah is read:

THE READING. In the Land of Israel in the 1st millennium, the Torah was read on a cycle of three-and-a-half years and divided into more than 150 portions. In Babylonia, the Torah was divided into larger portions, called parashiyot, which are read in sequence on Shabbat mornings throughout a single year. (The number of these portions was eventually fixed at 54.) Because some years are leap years and in some years festivals fall on Shabbat, certain parashiyot may be read together, so that the weekly readings remain coordinated with the calendar. Today, we follow the Babylonian custom, though some congregations read one-third of each parashah each week, thus completing a full Torah reading in three years.

The trope, the musical notation with which the Torah is chanted, is the oldest form of musical notation still in use; it dates at least to the end of the 1st millennium. Trope serve as syntactical signposts and provide interpretive meaning to the text.

WHO HAS CHOSEN US בָּחַר בָּנוּ. At the moment of approaching the Torah, one may feel especially chosen and may also experience the moment as being directly commanded.

HAS GIVEN US . . . WHO GIVES THE TORAH וְנָתַן לָנוּ אֶת־תּוֹרָתוֹ . . . נוֹתֵן הַתּוֹרָה. The Hebrew moves from the past tense to the present. The meaning of the words of Torah not only derive from the past, but each reading may offer a new revelation.

Moses' Prayer

אֵל נָא רַפָּא נָא
לָהּ לְלוֹ \ לָהֶם.

God, please heal
her/him/them.

El na r'fa na lah/lo/lahem.

— based on NUMBERS 12:13

Meaning of Healing

Healing may be different than “cure.” Healing is a process that concerns not only the physical aspect of our reality, but our mental, emotional, and spiritual states as well. We pray, in part, for inner peace, calm, a cessation of torment and suffering. The gift is to be able to deal with our fate, remain whole, and be at peace. This realization is important not only for the person who is ill but for caregivers as well, for they should know that they can be a source not only of cure but more especially of healing.

Mi Sheberakh: Prayer for Healing

May the one who blessed our ancestors Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, Sarah, Rebecca, Rachel, and Leah, bring blessing and healing to _____. May the Holy One mercifully restore him/her/them to health and vigor, granting him/her/them spiritual and physical well-being, together with all others who are ill, and may God grant strength to those who tend to them. Though Shabbat is a time to refrain from crying out, we yet hope and pray that healing is at hand. And let us say: Amen.

On Joyous Occasions

PRAYER FOR HEALING.
Traditionally, the prayer for healing is said in synagogue when the Torah is read. Ellen Frankel, a contemporary writer, remarks that through the recitation of this prayer, we summon support from all those who care about our welfare. Some follow the tradition of using only the mother's name, suggesting God's Shekhinah/In-dwelling "Feminine" aspect, which, according to our tradition, hovers over the bed of one who is ill and represents protection, care, and nurturing. (Simcha Weintraub)

ON JOYOUS OCCASIONS.
The rabbis of the Talmud insisted that recognizing the good in our lives was an important aspect of our worship of God and our own self-understanding and spiritual growth; they called this religious obligation hakarot hatov and formulated this blessing to be recited on these occasions (Mishnah Berakhot 9). Abaye (late 3rd century, Babylonia) insisted that the b'rakhah be said in the presence of a minyan. In this spirit, we have included a line (from Psalm 136) to be recited as a congregational response.

BIRKAT HA-GOMEL בְּרַפְּת הַגּוֹמֵל. In thanking God for having been saved from danger and calamity, we are conscious of the fragility of our lives and the gratitude with which we should meet each day of our lives.

SELAH סְלָה. The meaning of this biblical word is unclear. The ancient rabbis understood it to mean "forever."

Revealed and Concealed

The Torah may be compared to a beautiful maiden, beautiful in form and appearance, concealed secretly in her palace. She has a single lover unknown to anyone—except to her.... Knowing that her lover is constantly circling her gate, what does she do? She opens a little window in that secret palace where she resides, reveals her face to her lover, and quickly withdraws, concealing herself.... So it is with a word of Torah: she reveals herself only to her lover. Torah knows that one who is wise of heart circles her gate every day. What does she do? From the palace, she reveals her face to the one who longs for her and signals a hint, then swiftly withdraws to her place, hiding away.... Thus Torah reveals and conceals herself, approaching her lover, lovingly arousing her lover.

—ZOHAR

Hatzi Kaddish is recited before the maftir aliyah is called to the Torah.

Hatzi Kaddish

Leader:

May God's great name be exalted and hallowed throughout the created world, as is God's wish. May God's sovereignty soon be established, in your lifetime and in your days, and in the days of all the house of Israel. And we say: Amen.

Congregation and Leader:

May God's great name be acknowledged forever and ever!

Y'hei sh'meih raba m'varakh l'alam u-l'almei almaya.

Leader:

May the name of the Holy One be acknowledged and celebrated, lauded and worshipped, exalted and honored, extolled and acclaimed—though God, who is blessed, b'rikh hu, is truly [on Shabbat Shuvah we add: far] beyond all acknowledgment and praise, or any expressions of gratitude or consolation ever spoken in the world.

And we say: Amen.

Lifting the Torah

Two individuals are called to raise and tie the Sefer Torah after it is read. As the Torah is lifted, we rise and recite:

This is the Torah, God's word by Moses' hand, which Moses set before the people Israel.

V'zot ha-torah asher sam moshe lifnei b'nei yisrael al pi Adonai b'yad moshe.

Hatzi Kaddish is recited before the maftir aliyah is called to the Torah.

Congregation and Leader:

יְהֵא שְׁמֵהּ רַבָּא מְבָרַךְ לְעֵלָם וּלְעֵלְמֵי עֵלְמֵיָא.

Leader:

יִתְבָּרַךְ וְיִשְׁתַּבַּח וְיִתְפָּאֵר וְיִתְרוֹמַם וְיִתְנַשֵּׂא וְיִתְהַדָּר וְיִתְעַלֶּה וְיִתְהַלָּל שְׁמֵהּ דְקַדְשָׁא, בְּרִיף הוּא, לְעֵלְא מִן כָּל־ [לְעֵלְא לְעֵלְא מְכָל־] [on Shabbat Shuvah we substitute: בְּרַכְתָּא וְשִׁירְתָּא תִּשְׁבַּחְתָּא וְנַחְמְתָא דְאִמִּירָן בְּעֵלְמָא, וְאָמְרוּ אָמֵן.

הַגְּבָהַת הַתּוֹרָה

Two people are called up for Hagbah and Gelilah, lifting and tying the Sefer Torah. As the Torah is lifted, we rise and recite:

וְזֹאת הַתּוֹרָה אֲשֶׁר שָׂם מֹשֶׁה לִפְנֵי בְנֵי יִשְׂרָאֵל, עַל פִּי יְהוָה בְּיַד מֹשֶׁה.

is lifted here upon the conclusion of the reading. Out of respect, the congregation remains standing while the Torah is wrapped—a ceremony that imitates the practice of royalty.

THIS IS THE TORAH וְזֹאת הַתּוֹרָה. The liturgists combined Deuteronomy 4:44 and Numbers 9:23 in this line, underscoring that our entire Torah came from Moses as dictated by God. This theological claim is not made in the Bible itself. Since this passage conflates two biblical verses, the 20th-century Orthodox Jewish thinker Joseph B. Soloveitchik, for instance, did not recite it.

When reciting this passage, some people hold up or kiss the tzitzit of their tallit, to affirm their own active fulfillment of the Torah.

Priest and Prophet

Indeed, the sort of crimes and even the amount of delinquency that fill the prophets of Israel with dismay do not go beyond that which we regard as normal, as typical ingredients of social dynamics. To us a single act of injustice—cheating in business, exploitation of the poor—is slight; to the prophets, a disaster. To us injustice is injurious to the welfare of the people to the prophets it is a deathblow to existence: to us, an episode; to them, a catastrophe, a threat to the world.

—ABRAHAM JOSHUA HESCHEL

It is otherwise with the Priest. He appears on the scene at a time when prophecy has already succeeded in hewing out a path for its idea The Priest also fosters the idea and desires to perpetuate it; but he is not of the race of giants. He has not the strength to fight continually against necessity and actuality; his tendency is rather to bow to the one and come to terms with the other. . . . Not what ought to be, but what can be is what he seeks.

—AHAD HA-AM
(translated by Leon Simon)

B'rakhah Before the Haftarah

Barukh atah ADONAI, our God, sovereign of time and space, who chose worthy prophets and was pleased by their words, spoken in faithfulness.

Barukh atah ADONAI, who has chosen the Torah, Your servant Moses, Your people Israel, and the prophets of truth and justice.

B'rakhot After the Haftarah

Barukh atah ADONAI, our God, sovereign of time and space, eternal protector, righteous in all generations, the faithful God who fulfills what is promised, who accomplishes what is spoken, whose every word is true and just. Faithful are You, ADONAI, and Your words are trustworthy; not one of Your words will prove empty, for You are a faithful and compassionate sovereign.

Barukh atah ADONAI, God who faithfully fulfills all Your words.

Show compassion to Zion, our true home, and speedily, in our time, bring deliverance to those sad in spirit.

Barukh atah ADONAI, who makes Zion happy with her children.

Make us joyful, ADONAI our God, with Elijah the prophet, Your servant, and with the kingdom of David, Your anointed—may he soon come, making our hearts rejoice. May no stranger sit on his throne and may no other inherit his glory, for You have promised him, by Your holy name, that his light shall never be extinguished.

Barukh atah ADONAI, Shield of David.

For all this we thank You and praise You, ADONAI our God: for the Torah, for the ability to worship, for the prophets, for the Shabbat that You have given us, ADONAI our God, for holiness and for rest, for honor and for glory. May Your name be blessed by all that is living, always and forever, and may Your promise prove true and everlasting.

Barukh atah ADONAI, who makes Shabbat holy.

and to the left is another one containing the five scrolls read on festivals, Tishah B'Av, and Purim.
B'RAKHOT AFTER THE HAFTARAH. A series of b'rakhot concludes the reading from the Prophets. The earliest synagogue services probably centered on the public reading of biblical passages, and so the prayers concluding the haftarah reading may have constituted the core of the most ancient synagogue service. These prayers mention the sanctity of the day, express messianic longing, and speak of God's faithfulness in keeping the divine promise—themes also included in the Amidah for Shabbat.

HAFTARAH. The Hebrew Bible is composed of three divisions, in descending order of revelation: (1) the Five Books of Moses, known as the Torah; (2) the Prophets, both the historical books from Judges through Kings and the three major and twelve minor prophets; and (3) the Writings, including Psalms, the Five Megillot, Job, Proverbs, Daniel, and the late historical works of Ezra, Nehemiah, and Chronicles. In the ancient synagogue in the Land of Israel, passages were read from all three sections on each Shabbat. Probably because of time constraints, the custom of a third reading died away, and today we read only from the Torah and the Prophets. The latter reading is called the haftarah, meaning “the parting” or “the conclusion,” and it usually complements themes in the day's Torah reading. The custom of reading from the Writings remains on the festivals: on the intermediate Shabbat of Pesah we read the Song of Songs, on Shavuot we read the Scroll of Ruth, and on Sukkot we read Ecclesiastes.

The haftarah need not be read from a parchment scroll. Some older synagogues, though, have two smaller arks beside the main ark containing the Torah scrolls. To the right is a recess containing a scroll of the prophetic readings

An Alternate Prayer for the Community

May the one who blessed our ancestors Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, Sarah, Rebecca, Rachel and Leah, bless this holy congregation, men and women, sons and daughters, and all that is ours. May it be Your will to bless us, to hear our voices raised in prayer, and to protect us from any trouble and difficulty. Spread over us the divine canopy of peace and plant within us love and unity, peace and friendship; banish all hate among us. May the words of Torah be fulfilled: "Do not wrong one another, but fear your God . . . that you may dwell upon the land securely" (Leviticus 25:17-18). And so may it be Your will, and let us say: Amen.

Community

The individual . . . and group must learn to overcome those tendencies toward selfishness and antagonism, and re-orient their minds to see life not as a hunt for pleasure, but as an engagement for service; not as a race involving victories and defeat, but as a pursuit of goals that transcend the interests of single nations and generations.

—LOUIS FINKELSTEIN

A Prayer for the Congregation

May heaven bestow deliverance on this holy congregation, the adults and their children: may kindness, love, and compassion, a long life, abundant provision, and sustenance from heaven, bodily health, and spiritual enlightenment be their lot. May their children thrive, never ceasing to speak words of Torah nor ever neglecting them. May the sovereign of the universe bless you, accord you a full life, add to your days, and grant you a long life. May you be freed of all distress and difficult circumstance, now and always. May the master in heaven sustain you at all times and seasons, and let us say: Amen.

A Prayer for Those Who Serve the Community

May the one who blessed our ancestors, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, Sarah, Rebecca, Rachel, and Leah, bless this entire congregation, together with all other holy congregations: they, their families, and all that is theirs; along with those who devote themselves to establish synagogues for prayer, as well as those who enter them to pray, and those who provide for their maintenance, wine for Kiddush and Havdalah, food for guests, bread for the hungry, tzedakah for the poor, and shelter for the homeless; ► and all who faithfully devote themselves to the needs of this community and the Land of Israel. May the Holy One reward them, remove sickness from them, heal them, and forgive their sins. May God bless them by making all their worthy endeavors prosper, as well as those of the entire people Israel, their brothers and sisters. And let us say: Amen.

COMMUNITY CONCERNS. The Torah service became an occasion for expressing communal concerns. Y'kum Purkan is written in Aramaic, the common language of Jewish communities of the Eastern Mediterranean and Babylonia during much of the 1st millennium. It originated in Babylonia and the text has evolved over time. It petitions God on behalf of the local synagogue community, and is followed by a Hebrew prayer (Mi Sheberakh) of similar purpose. The first prayer expresses the hope that all may enjoy long, prosperous lives; the second singles out those who give of their means and time to support Jewish communal institutions and needy individuals.

Alternative Prayer for Our Country

Our God and God of our ancestors, grant to our country the will and wherewithal to fulfill its calling to justice, liberty, and equality.

May each of us fulfill our responsibilities of citizenship with care, generosity, and gratitude, ever conscious of the extraordinary blessing of freedom, ever mindful of our duties to one another. Bless those who volunteer to labor on behalf of us all; may they find the strength and courage to complete their tasks and fulfill their dreams.

May our judges, elected leaders, and all who hold public office exercise their responsibilities with wisdom, fairness, and justice for all. Fill them with love and kindness, and bless them that they may walk with integrity on the paths of peace and righteousness.

Creator and protector of all, watch over our armed forces and all those entrusted with our safety, as they daily put their lives at risk to protect us and our freedoms. Be with them in times of danger; give them courage to act with honor and dignity, as well as insight to do what is right in Your eyes.

Fill us all with the gifts of love and courage, that we may create a world that reflects Your glory. May we each respond to the charge of Your prophet, "For what does Adonai demand of You—but to act justly, to love kindness, and to walk humbly with Your God" (Micah 6:8). May the one who brings peace on high bring peace and prosperity to our world and keep us in safety. And let us say: Amen.

A Prayer for the Renewal of Creation

Master of the universe, in whose hand is the breath of all life and the soul of every person, grant us the gift of Shabbat, a day of rest from all our labors. With all of our senses may we perceive the glory of Your works. Fill us with Your goodness, that we may attest to Your great deeds. Strengthen us to become Your faithful partners, preserving the world for the sake of future generations. ► ADONAI our God and God of our ancestors, may it be Your will to renew Your blessing of the world in our day, as You have done from the beginning of time.

A Prayer for Our Country

Our God and God of our ancestors, with mercy accept our prayer on behalf of our country and its government. Pour out Your blessing upon this land, upon its inhabitants, upon its leaders, its judges, officers, and officials, who faithfully devote themselves to the needs of the public. Help them understand the rules of justice You have decreed, so that peace and security, happiness and freedom, will never depart from our land.

ADONAI, God whose spirit is in all creatures, we pray that Your spirit be awakened within all the inhabitants of our land. Uproot from our hearts hatred and malice, jealousy and strife. Plant love and companionship, peace and friendship, among the many peoples and faiths who dwell in our nation. Grant us the knowledge to judge justly, the wisdom to act with compassion, and the understanding and courage to root out poverty from our land.

May it be Your will that our land be a blessing to all who dwell on earth, and may You cause all peoples to dwell in friendship and freedom. Speedily fulfill the vision of Your prophets: "Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war anymore." "For all of them, from the least of them to the greatest, shall know Me." And let us say: Amen.

Whereas earlier prayers asked that the monarch be compassionate to the Jewish people, this prayer expresses the hope that the leaders of the country will be fair and just to all, helping to bring the world closer to a vision of peace and justice. The prayer ends with two prophetic verses: Isaiah 2:4 ("Nation shall not lift up sword...") and Jeremiah 31:33 ("For all of them . . .").

PRAYER FOR THE RENEWAL OF CREATION. Concerns about our environment are as much a part of our consciousness as are the issues that were historically raised in this part of the service. This prayer, written by Daniel Nevins, expresses the hope that by ceasing to labor on Shabbat, by being able to appreciate and be grateful for life and its gifts, we will increase our awareness of the need to be responsible caretakers of the natural world.

PRAYER FOR OUR COUNTRY. It has been customary since medieval times to include in the liturgy a prayer for the welfare of the government. Secure governments were seen as providing safety for the Jewish community, and a biblical warrant for such prayers was found in Jeremiah's instruction to Israel to "seek the welfare of the city to which I have exiled you and pray to Adonai on its behalf; for in its prosperity you shall prosper" (29:7). Early versions of this prayer referred to God as "the one who gives dominion to kings" and reflected the anxiety that Jews felt as a beleaguered minority. The text here is based on a prayer composed in the 1920s by Professor Louis Ginzberg, which transforms what had formerly been "A Prayer for the Government" into "A Prayer for Our Country" and for its people, the source of authority in a democracy.

A Prayer for the State of Israel

רבונו של עולם, קבל

מדינת ישראל.

Sovereign of the universe, accept in lovingkindness and with favor our prayers for the State of Israel, her government, and all who dwell within her boundaries and under her authority. Open our eyes and our hearts to the wonder of Israel, and strengthen our faith in Your power to work redemption in every human soul. Grant us also the fortitude to keep ever before us those ideals upon which the State of Israel was founded. Grant courage, wisdom, and strength to those entrusted with guiding Israel's destiny to do Your will. Be with those on whose shoulders Israel's safety depends and defend them from all harm. Spread over Israel and all the world Your shelter of peace, and may the vision of Your prophet soon be fulfilled: "Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war anymore" (Isaiah 2:4).

A Prayer for the State of Israel

Avinu she-ba-shamayim, stronghold and redeemer of the people Israel: Bless the State of Israel, [that it may be] the beginning of our redemption. Shield it with Your love; spread over it the shelter of Your peace. Guide its leaders and advisors with Your light and Your truth. Help them with Your good counsel. Strengthen the hands of those who defend our holy land. Deliver them; crown their efforts with triumph. Bless the land with peace and its inhabitants with lasting joy. And let us say: Amen.

A Prayer for Peace

May we see the day when war and bloodshed cease, when a great peace will embrace the whole world.

Then nation will not threaten nation, and the human family will not again know war.

For all who live on earth shall realize we have not come into being to hate or to destroy. We have come into being to praise, to labor, and to love.

Compassionate God, bless the leaders of all nations with the power of compassion.

Fulfill the promise conveyed in Scripture:

I will bring peace to the land,
and you shall lie down and no one shall terrify you.

I will rid the land of vicious beasts and it shall not be ravaged by war.

Let justice and righteousness flow like a mighty stream.

Let God's peace fill the earth as the waters fill the sea.

And let us say: Amen.

PRAYER FOR THE STATE OF ISRAEL. Upon Israel's independence in 1948, many prayers were circulated for the well-being of the new state. This one was composed by Israel's chief rabbis and was then slightly edited by the writer S.Y. Agnon.

THAT IT MAY BE. This Hebrew word was added by the Chief Rabbi of England, Immanuel Jakobovits, turning the phrase "the beginning of the redemption" into an expression of hope, rather than a statement of fact.

A PRAYER FOR PEACE. Rabbi Nathan Sternharz, a student of the Hasidic master Nahman of Bratzlav (1772-1810, Ukraine), recorded this prayer. The version here has been adapted and translated by Jules Harlow.

NATION WILL NOT THREATEN. לא ישא גוי. Isaiah 2:4.

I WILL BRING PEACE. ונתתי שלום. Leviticus 26:6.

LET JUSTICE AND RIGHTEOUSNESS FLOW. ויגל במים משפט. Amos 5:24.

FILL THE EARTH. כי מלאה הארץ דעה אתיהוה במים לים מכסים. Isaiah 11:9.

Prayer for the New Month

May the new month bring renewal to our lives: a renewal of wonder a renewal of freedom a renewal of love a renewal of justice a renewal of friendship a renewal of holiness. Amen.

Renewal

The midrash teaches that while the Israelites were still in Egypt, God showed Moses the new moon, saying, "When the moon renews itself like this, it will be the beginning of the month for you." The German Orthodox thinker Samson Raphael Hirsch understood this as a sign that the Jewish people would continually renew itself. Just as the rainbow was a sign to Noah that humanity would have a new future, in the same way, in Egypt, at the threshold of the new Jewish future, God called Moses and Aaron into the open, showed them the silver crescent of the new moon, and said, "The renewal of this moon is a sign of the call to continuous renewal."

Announcing the New Month

Recited on the Shabbat before Rosh Hodesh (except Tishrei). We rise.

May it be Your will, ADONAI our God and God of our ancestors, grant that this coming month bring us goodness and blessing, and bestow on us a long life, a life that is peaceful, a life that is good, a life that is blessed, a life with proper sustenance, a life with physical vitality, a life conscious of heaven's demands and wary of sin, a life free of shame and reproach, a life of abundance and honor, a life of love of Torah, conscious of heaven's demands, a life in which the worthy desires of our hearts are fulfilled. Amen.

The Sefer Torah is brought forward, and the leader holds it while announcing the new month:

May God who wrought miracles for our ancestors, redeeming them from slavery to freedom, redeem us soon and gather our dispersed from the four corners of the earth. May the entire people Israel be united in friendship, and let us say: Amen.

The new month of _____ will begin on _____. May it hold blessing for us and for all the people Israel.

Rosh Hodesh _____ yihyeh b'yom _____ haba aleinu v'al kol yisrael l'tovah.

The congregation repeats the announcement of the month, and the leader then continues:

May the Holy One bless this new month for us and for the entire people, the house of Israel, with life and peace, Amen joy and gladness, Amen deliverance and consolation. And let us say: Amen.

Y'hadsheihu ha-kadosh barukh hu aleinu v'al kol amo beit yisrael, l'hayim u-l'shalom, (amen,) l'sason u-l'simhah, (amen,) lishuah u-l'nehamah, v'nomar: amen.

ברכת החדש

Recited on the Shabbat before Rosh Hodesh (except Tishrei). We rise.

The Sefer Torah is brought forward, and the leader holds it while announcing the new month:

מי שעשה נסים לאבותינו [ולאמותינו], וגאל אותם מעבדות לחרות, הוא יגאל אותנו בקרוב, ויקבץ נדחינו מארבע פנות הארץ, חברים כלי ישראל, ונאמר: אמן.

ראש חדש _____ יהיה ביום _____ הבא עלינו ועל כלי ישראל לטובה.

The congregation repeats the announcement of the month, and the leader then continues:

יחדשהו הקדוש ברוך הוא עלינו ועל כל עמו בית ישראל, לחיים ולשלום, אמן, לששון ולשמחה, אמן, לישועה ולנחמה, ונאמר: אמן.

THE HEBREW CALENDAR. Since biblical times the Hebrew calendar has been based on the lunar year. Months were declared by the sighting of the new moon. The Mishnah describes an elaborate system of communication whereby the sighting of the new moon was announced from hilltop to hilltop by lighting signal fires (Rosh Hashanah 2:2-4). In the middle of the 1st millennium a perpetual calendar was instituted and the declaration of the month was no longer made on the basis of visual sighting. The time of the new month could then be announced in advance, in the synagogue. The Hebrew calendar runs on a nineteen-year cycle. Lunar months are actually 29 1/2 days, so some months are 29 and others 30 days. The lunar year is 354 days, and in order to keep the lunar calendar in sync with the solar year, an extra lunar month—a second Adar—is added in the spring, seven times during the nineteen-year cycle.

BESTOW ON US שתחדש עלינו. The Babylonian Talmud (Berakhot 16b) mentions that this prayer was recited by Rav (3rd century) as a conclusion to the Amidah. Later liturgists incorporated it as a prayer for the new moon.

CONSCIOUS OF HEAVEN'S DEMANDS יראת שמים. Literally, "the fear of heaven." This common rabbinic phrase has many shades of meaning. It implies a consciousness of God's presence in one's life, so that one does that which is right in the eyes of God.

After reading the Torah, we recite the line “joyous are they who dwell in Your house,” inviting us to ponder what truly makes God—and us—feel at home.

Dreaming of Home

We want so much to be in that place where we are respected and cherished, protected, acknowledged, nurtured, encouraged, heard.

And seen, seen in all our loveliness, in all our fragile strength.

And safe, safe in all our trembling vulnerability. Where we are known and safe, safe and known—is it possible?

ASHREI

Joyous are they who dwell in Your house; they shall praise You forever.

*Joyous the people who are so favored;
joyous the people whose God is ADONAI.*

A SONG OF PRAISE, OF DAVID

I exalt You, my God, my sovereign; I praise Your name, always.

Every day I praise You, glorifying Your name, always.

Great is ADONAI, greatly to be praised, though Your greatness is unfathomable.

One generation praises Your works to the next, telling of Your mighty deeds.

I would speak of Your majestic glory and of Your wondrous acts.

*Generations speak of Your awe-inspiring deeds;
I, too, shall recount Your greatness.*

They recount Your great goodness, and sing of Your righteousness.

ADONAI is merciful and compassionate, patient, and abounding in love.

ADONAI is good to all, and God’s mercy embraces all of creation.

All of creation acknowledges You, and the faithful bless You.

ASHREI. According to Rabbi Eleazar (3rd century, Land of Israel) speaking in the name of his teacher, Abina, the daily recitation of Psalm 145 opens a pathway to eternity. The Babylonian Talmud explains that it is an alphabetical acrostic (although it is missing one letter, nun) that symbolically encompasses the variety of praises of God, and that it contains an especially appropriate description of the thankfulness with which we are to approach God: “You open Your hand, satisfying all the living with contentment” (Berakhot 4b).

An additional reason for its frequent use in the liturgy is that the psalm expresses a dual posture of faithfulness. “I” express my faithfulness to God, and the psalm then describes that God faithfully cares for those devoted to God. The two themes are interwoven throughout the psalm, which then concludes with a final assertion that not only “I” but “all that is mortal” will praise God. It is this expression of a covenantal relationship, in which God and humanity respond to each other, that makes Ashrei both an appropriate introduction to prayer (as it is in Minhah), and an appropriate conclusion to prayer (as it is in the weekday Shaḥarit service). Here, it serves in both of those roles: concluding Shaḥarit and the Torah service, and simultaneously introducing Musaf. For synagogue use, two verses were added to the beginning of Psalm 145, both of which begin with the word ashrei, “joyous” (Psalms 84:5 and 144:15), and it was these additional verses that gave the name “Ashrei” to this prayer. The first verse, which speaks of those who “dwell in Your house,” is especially appropriate in the context of synagogue prayer. Similarly, at the end, the verse “we shall praise Adonai now and always” was appended from Psalm 115:18.

God's Voice

What would it mean for us to hear God's voice?

The Bible offers two different scenes of revelation. The people Israel hear God's voice on Sinai amidst thunder and lightning (Exodus 19). Yet, pointedly, Elijah, the only prophet (other than Moses) who also experiences a revelation at Sinai, comes to understand that God is not in the thunder and lightning, but in the "still small voice"—or, as in the current Jewish Publication Society translation, "a soft murmuring sound," or perhaps as an alternate translation would have it, in "the thin sound of silence" (1 Kings 19:12)—the profusion of translations indicating in themselves the plurality of ways we each may hear what impels us from within, or without.

The voice we hear may come to us as a surprise—in moments of distress, at times when we are still and alone, when we are on a journey. Or we may hear the voice when we have engaged in extensive preparations, meditating, thinking, praying, or fasting. We may hardly hear it, yet it can be shattering, thunderous—sending us on our way, impelling us, allowing us to see clearly what we had not seen before at all.

Returning the Torah

We rise as the ark is opened.

Acclaim ADONAI, with the honor due God's name; bow before ADONAI in the splendor of the sanctuary.

The voice of ADONAI thunders over the waters;

God, glorious, thunders—ADONAI, over the great sea.

The voice of ADONAI, with all its power; the voice of ADONAI, with all its majesty; the voice of ADONAI shatters the cedars.

ADONAI shatters the cedars of Lebanon—making the trees dance like calves, the mountains of Lebanon and Sirion like wild bulls.

The voice of ADONAI forms flames of fire; the voice of ADONAI convulses the wilderness, ADONAI convulses the wilderness of Kadesh.

The voice of ADONAI makes hinds calve and strips forests bare, and in God's sanctuary all acknowledge the glory of God.

ADONAI was enthroned above the flood waters: enthroned,

ADONAI is eternally sovereign.

ADONAI will grant strength to God's people; ADONAI will bless them with peace.

תהלים כט

EXTOL יהללו. Psalm 148:13–14. The practice of reciting these verses while returning the Torah to the ark is mentioned in the earliest prayerbooks.

PSALM 29. Psalm 29 was chosen to accompany the procession of the Torah as it is returned to the ark on Shabbat morning because of the predominant image of the voice of God. The phrase kol Adonai ("the voice of God")—which was identified by the ancient rabbis with the revelation of God's word on Sinai—is repeated seven times in this psalm. The thunder and lightning described here evoke the scene of the revelation at Sinai in Exodus 19; the Bible identifies Kadesh with the Sinai desert.

Biblical scholars see the psalm as a depiction of a storm coming in from the Mediterranean, passing over the mountains of Lebanon—cedars top those high mountains and are among the world's sturdiest and longest-lived trees—and moving over the fertile land and then through the desert.

The psalm begins with reference to the waters of the Mediterranean Sea and ends with God enthroned above the primal waters of creation. It also begins with an angelic chorus praising God and toward the end mentions the human chorus praising God in the Temple. Thus earth and heaven, the human and the Divine, are joined.

We began the Torah service with verses marking a royal procession and now, as the Torah is returned to the ark after it has been read to the congregation, we end with verses depicting God as enthroned as the "eternal sovereign."

Returning the Torah

Returning the Torah to the ark may be a bittersweet moment. On the one hand, we may feel satisfaction that we have been instructed through the Torah service, that we have read its teaching and engaged with it; on the other hand, we may feel that we have not had enough, that a friend is leaving us, as if returning home after having spent just an hour with us. Perhaps that is why so many of the verses chosen for this moment are those of longing—longing for redemption, longing for a time gone by. Equally, there is the knowledge that the Torah is a scroll, that there are chapters now hidden that have yet to be unrolled. What we have glimpsed is only a partial view of the Teaching; more is yet to be revealed.

The Torah scroll is placed in the ark. Personal meditations, such as those found on page 169, may also be recited here.

Whenever the ark was set down, Moses would say:

ADONAI, may You dwell among the myriad families of the people Israel.

Return, ADONAI, to Your sanctuary, You and Your glorious ark.

Let Your priests be robed in righteousness, and Your faithful sing for joy.

For the sake of David, Your servant,

do not turn away from Your anointed.

► I have given you a precious inheritance:
do not forsake My teaching.

It is a tree of life for those who grasp it,

and all who hold onto it are blessed.

Its ways are pleasant, and all its paths are peace.

Turn us toward You, ADONAI, and we will return to You;

make our days seem fresh, as they once were.

► Ki lekah tov natati lakhem, torati al ta-azovu.

Etz hayim hi la-mahazikim bah, v'tom'kheha me'ushar.

D'rakheha darkhei no-am, v'khol n'tivoteha shalom.

Hashiveinu Adonai eilekha v'nashuvah, hadesh yameinu k'kedem.

The ark is closed.

Leader:

Congregation and Leader:

May God's great name be acknowledged forever and ever!

Y'hei sh'meih raba m'varakh l'alam u-l'almei almaya.

Leader:

May the name of the Holy One be acknowledged and celebrated, lauded and worshipped, exalted and honored, extolled and acclaimed—though God, who is blessed, b'rikh hu, is truly [on Shabbat Shuvah we add: far] beyond all acknowledgment and praise, or any expressions of gratitude or consolation ever spoken in the world.

And we say: Amen.

The Torah scroll is placed in the ark. Personal meditations, such as those found on page 169, may also be recited here.

WHENEVER THE ARK WAS SET DOWN יאמר ובנחה Numbers 10:36. As the Torah completes its circuit through the synagogue, we recall Moses' words when the people finished a stage in their journey through the wilderness and came to rest in a new camp. This verse and the ones that follow (Psalm 132:8–10 and Proverbs 4:2) can also serve to refer to our own inner journey: we are accompanied now by Torah.

Only the first and last verse are recited in all rites; the others were added in many communities in the late Middle Ages.

IT IS A TREE OF LIFE FOR THOSE WHO GRASP IT עץ חיים היא למחזיקים בה Proverbs 3:18. The Torah handles are called atzei hayim, "trees of life," and this verse is the source of the custom of holding on to them as we recite the b'rakhot over the Torah. Thus, by studying Torah and by physically holding on to it, we both figuratively and literally "grasp" the tree of life.

ITS WAYS ARE PLEASANT, AND ALL ITS PATHS ARE PEACE דרכיה דרכי נעם וכל נתיבותיה שלום Proverbs 3:17. In their context, these two verses from Proverbs refer to wisdom, hokhmah. The ancient rabbis associated wisdom with Torah. As we put away the Torah, we pray that our study of Torah should provide us with the wisdom to promote a life characterized by pleasantness and the pursuit of peace.

TURN US TOWARD YOU, ADONAI יהוה אליך. Significantly, this final verse is taken from Lamentations (5:21), the book of mourning for the destruction of Jerusalem. We end the Torah service with a prayer for the reconciliation of God and Israel.

The Musaf Amidah for Shabbat

God of Our Ancestors

God can be perceived in almost infinite ways. Certainly each of our biblical ancestors experienced God differently, and the Kabbalists understood their personal stories as reflecting different understandings of the Divine. In their thinking, Abraham's kindly love and compassion, demonstrated by his welcoming of strangers and his defense of the righteous who may have been living in Sodom, came to personify God's love and kindness. Isaac's binding personifies the perception of an aspect of God as awe-inspiring and as placing limits on existence. Jacob was able to achieve balance: he led a troubled life yet survived, and was able to experience joy and fulfillment at the end of his life. In Kabbalah, that balance was understood to be at the very center of the nature of the Divine.

Added to these, we might imagine other human traits that are also Godly. We can picture Sarah as someone who perseveres and then appreciates her blessing and guards it carefully—emulating the God who is a protector and redeemer; Rebecca as one who takes the lead, knowing what needs to be done—the mover of history; Leah as a woman who suffers in life yet sustains a family—symbolizing the God who is with us in our suffering; and Rachel as one who has a short but passionate life—reflecting the God who loves deeply. Each of us experiences the universe and the presence of God differently. Our biblical ancestors reflect different ways of walking with God—and provide us with different models for our own journeys.

A transliteration of the opening b'rakhot of the Amidah may be found on page 466. When a minyan is present, some communities repeat the Amidah after it is recited silently; in others, the leader recites the first three blessings (including the Kedushah) aloud and the Amidah is then recited silently (a practice called "heicha kedushah" in Yiddish). The sign ¶ indicates the places to bow. The Amidah concludes on page 192.

[Leader: As I proclaim the name ADONAI, give glory to our God.]
ADONAI, open my lips that my mouth may speak Your praise.

First B'rakhah: Our Ancestors

With Patriarchs:

¶ Barukh atah ADONAI,
our God and God of our ancestors,
God of Abraham, God of Isaac, and God of Jacob,
great, mighty, awe-inspiring,
transcendent God,
who acts with kindness
and love, and creates all,
who remembers the loving
deeds of our ancestors,
and who will lovingly bring a redeemer to their children's children for the sake of divine honor.

On Shabbat Shuvah we add:

Remember us for life, Sovereign who delights in life, and inscribe us in the Book of Life, for Your sake, God of life.

With Patriarchs and Matriarchs:

¶ Barukh atah ADONAI,
our God and God of our ancestors,
God of Abraham, God of Isaac, and God of Jacob,
God of Sarah, God of Rebecca, God of Rachel,
and God of Leah,
great, mighty, awe-inspiring,
transcendent God,
who acts with kindness
and love, and creates all,
who remembers the loving
deeds of our ancestors,
and who will lovingly bring a redeemer to their children's children for the sake of divine honor.

With Patriarchs:

׀ בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה יְהוָה,
אֱלֹהֵינוּ וְאֱלֹהֵי אֲבוֹתֵינוּ, אֱלֹהֵי אַבְרָהָם, אֱלֹהֵי

וְזוֹכֵר חֲסָדֵי אֲבוֹת, וּמְבִיא גּוֹאֵל לְבְנֵי בְנֵיהֶם
לְמַעַן שְׁמוֹ בְּאַהֲבָה.

On Shabbat Shuvah we add:

זְכַרְנוּ לְחַיִּים, מְלַךְ הַפֶּץ בְּחַיִּים,
וְכַתְּבֵנוּ בְּסֵפֶר הַחַיִּים, לְמַעַן אֱלֹהִים חַיִּים.

הָאֵל הַגָּדוֹל הַגִּבּוֹר וְהַנּוֹרָא. This phrase is a quotation from Deuteronomy 10:17–18, where God is described as impartial, not favoring anyone.

אֵל עֲלִיּוֹן. This name for God, El Elyon, is first used in the Torah (Genesis 14:18–19) by Melchizedek, the King of Salem, which classical Jewish commentators identified with Jerusalem. Including his words in our prayer thus hints at a vision of a restored Jerusalem, welcoming all who call upon God by whatever name.

בְּאַהֲבָה. So much of this blessing has been about love: God's love and kindness for all, our ancestors' acts of love and kindness, and the redemption that will be achieved through love. To emphasize this idea, the Hebrew text places the word ahavah, "love," as the very last word of this opening sentence.

THE MUSAF AMIDAH. On Shabbat and festivals, an extra sacrifice was offered in the Temple. Since the destruction of the Temple, we offer a gift of prayer to mark the specialness of the day: an additional service called Musaf, which consists entirely of an Amidah, a personal moment of prayer. The Amidah always contains three introductory b'rakhot and three concluding b'rakhot. On Shabbat, a middle b'rakhah celebrates the specialness and sanctity of the day.

כִּי שָׁם יְהוָה אֶקְרָא. Deuteronomy 32:3. Most likely, this verse was originally inserted into the Amidah as an instructional phrase to be recited by the leader, asking the congregation to respond with "Amen" to the b'rakhot that follow. Thus it means: "When I proclaim God's name, 'Adonai,' you should respond by acknowledging God as well"—that is, by answering "Amen" to each b'rakhah and by responding when God's personal name (Adonai) is mentioned: barukh hu u-varukh sh'mo ("Blessed be God and blessed be God's name").

The First and Second B'rakhot

The 20th-century talmudist Joseph B. Soloveitchik notes that the first two blessings of the Amidah evoke distinctly different ways of relating to the Divine. In the first blessing (Avot/Our Ancestors), we see ourselves as heirs. We address God with the dignity and confidence—as well as responsibility—of a covenantal partner. God blessed our ancestors and will continue to bless us, for we inherit what they wrought. In the second blessing, our situation is radically altered: we experience our human vulnerability and our dependence on God; we call upon God for help. Our service to God emerges from both ways of deliberating on the human condition—our own inner sense of dignity and confidence, and the consciousness of our vulnerability and finitude—often experienced at the same time.

With Patriarchs:

You are the sovereign who helps and saves and shields.

† Barukh atah ADONAI, Shield of Abraham.

With Patriarchs and Matriarchs:

You are the sovereign who helps and guards, saves and shields.

† Barukh atah ADONAI, Shield of Abraham and Guardian of Sarah.

Second B'rakhah: God's Saving Care

You are ever mighty, ADONAI—
You give life to the dead—
great is Your saving power:

From Sh'mini Atzeret until Pesah:

You cause the wind to blow and the rain to fall,

[From Pesah until Sh'mini Atzeret, some add:

You cause the dew to fall,]

You sustain the living through kindness and love, and with great mercy give life to the dead, You support the falling, heal the sick, loosen the chains of the bound, and keep faith with those who sleep in the dust. Who is like You, Almighty, and who can be compared to You? The sovereign who brings death and life and causes redemption to flourish.

M'khalkel hayim b'hesed, m'hayeih meitim b'rahimim rabim, somekh noflim v'rofei holim u-matir asurim, u-m'kayem emunato lisheinei afar. Mi khamokha ba'al g'vurot umi domeh lakh, melekh meimit u-m'hayeh u-matzmiah y'shuah.

On Shabbat Shuvah we add:

Who is like You, source of compassion, who remembers with compassion Your creatures for life?

You are faithful in bringing life to the dead. Barukh atah ADONAI, who gives life to the dead.

When the Amidah is recited silently, continue on page 188a with "Holy are You."

With Patriarchs and Matriarchs:

מְלַךְ עֹזֵר וּפּוֹקֵד וּמוֹשִׁיעַ וּמַגֵּן.
† בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה יְהוָה,
מְגִן אַבְרָהָם וּפּוֹקֵד שָׂרָה.

With Patriarchs:

מְלַךְ עֹזֵר וּמוֹשִׁיעַ וּמַגֵּן.
† בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה יְהוָה,
מְגִן אַבְרָהָם.

אַתָּה גִבּוֹר לְעוֹלָם אֲדֹנָי,
מַחִיָּה מֵתִים אַתָּה,
רַב לְהוֹשִׁיעַ.

From Sh'mini Atzeret until Pesah: מוֹשִׁיב הַרוּחַ וּמוֹרִיד הַגֶּשֶׁם,
[From Pesah until Sh'mini Atzeret, some add: מוֹרִיד הַטֶּל,

מְכַלְכֵּל חַיִּים בְּחַסֵּד,
מַחִיָּה מֵתִים בְּרַחֲמִים רַבִּים,
סוֹמֵךְ נוֹפְלִים, וְרוֹפֵא חוֹלִים, וּמַתִּיר אֲסוּרִים,

מִי כְמוֹךָ בַּעַל גְּבוּרוֹת וּמִי דוֹמֶה לָךְ,
מְלַךְ מֵמִית וּמַחֲיֶה וּמְצַמִּיחַ יְשׁוּעָה.

On Shabbat Shuvah we add:

מִי כְמוֹךָ אֵב הַרְחָמִים, זוֹכֵר יְצוּרָיו לְחַיִּים בְּרַחֲמִים.
וְנִצְאָמֵן אַתָּה לְהַחְיֹת מֵתִים.
בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה יְהוָה, מַחֲיֶה הַמֵּתִים.

When the Amidah is recited silently, continue on page 188a with קְדוּשַׁת יְהוָה.

SHIELD OF ABRAHAM מְגִן אַבְרָהָם. After Genesis 15:1.

GUARDIAN OF SARAH וּפּוֹקֵד שָׂרָה. After Genesis 21:1.

YOU ARE MIGHTY אַתָּה גִבּוֹר. This second b'rakhah describes God's presence and activity in the world, centering on God's kindness and care for the vulnerable and powerless. It first describes God as nurturing all of life, then more specifically as concerned with injustice. The b'rakhah concludes with mention of the dead, for even they—the most powerless—are in God's care.

GIVE LIFE TO THE DEAD מַחֲיֶה מֵתִים. To be sure, the primary use of this phrase was in reference to the afterlife, but the rabbis of the Talmud also understood it to refer to a spiritual revival in this world. Thus, the b'rakhah recited upon greeting a friend whom one has not seen for a year utilizes this phrase, "who gives life to the dead" (Babylonian Talmud, Berakhot 58b). Similarly, Hasidic texts speak of reviving the parts of ourselves that have lost their vitality, as bringing life to that which has been deadened.

SHABBAT SHUVAH. On the Shabbat between Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, we add prayers asking that we may be granted a good and long life.

Where Is the Place of God's Glory?

Once, the Hasidic master Menaḥem Mendel of Kotzk startled his Hasidim by asking, "Where is God's dwelling place?" Some answered that it is in heaven. Some simply said that no human can know. Menaḥem Mendel then said, "It is wherever we will let God in."

Return, O My Soul

Return, O my soul, to your resting place, sit beside the divine throne, always, spurn earthly places, ascend on high, take what you can from there, bow to God, honor the Divine, supplant the angels giving praise.

—YEHUDAH HALEVI

Third B'rakhah: God's Holiness

THE KEDUSHAH

The Kedushah is recited standing. Indeed, since we imitate the song of the angels, the tradition recommends standing like angels, with feet together. It is recited only with a minyan.

We revere and sanctify You on earth as Your name is sanctified in heaven, as Your prophet Isaiah described:

Each cried out to the other:

"Holy, holy, holy is ADONAI Tz'va-ot, the whole world is filled with God's glory!"

Kadosh, kadosh, kadosh Adonai Tz'va-ot, m'lo khol ha-aretz k'vodo.

God's glory fills the universe. One angelic chorus asks, "Where is the place of God's glory?" Another responds:

"Praised is ADONAI's glory wherever God dwells."

Barukh k'vod Adonai mimkomo.

From where God dwells, may God turn with compassion toward the people who twice each day, evening and morning, lovingly proclaim God's oneness, reciting the Sh'ma:

"Hear, O Israel, ADONAI is our God, ADONAI is one."

Sh'ma yisrael, Adonai eloheinu, Adonai ehad.

The Holy One is our God, our creator, our sovereign, our redeemer. Yet again, God will in mercy proclaim to us before all that lives: "I, ADONAI, am your God."

Hu eloheinu, hu avinu, hu malkeinu, hu moshi-einu, v'hu yashmi-einu b'rahmav sheinit le'inei kol hai, lihyot lakhem leilohim. Ani Adonai eloheikhem.

As the psalmist sang: "ADONAI will reign forever; your God, O Zion, from generation to generation. Halleluyah!"

Yimlokh Adonai l'olam, elohayikh tziyon l'dor vador, hal'luyah.

From generation to generation we will declare Your greatness, and forever sanctify You with words of holiness. Your praise will never leave our lips, for You are God and Sovereign, great and holy.

L'dor vador nagid godlekha, u-l'netzah n'tzahim k'dushat'kha nakdish, v'shivhakha eloheinu mi-pinu lo yamush l'olam va-ed, ki El melekh gadol v'kadosh atah.

Barukh atah ADONAI, the Holy God.

On Shabbat Shuvah we substitute: Barukh atah ADONAI, the Holy Sovereign.

We continue on the next page with the Fourth B'rakhah, "You established Shabbat."

The Kedushah is recited standing. Indeed, since we imitate the song of the angels, the tradition recommends standing like angels, with feet together. It is recited only with a minyan.

acknowledges both God's immanence, a palpable presence, and God's transcendence, the knowledge that the Divine is beyond our understanding. Thus, we say "The whole world is filled with God's glory," and we then immediately praise God "wherever God dwells."

WILL . . . PROCLAIM וְהוּא יִשְׁמִיעֵנוּ. The relationship of God and humanity is manifested by a reciprocal call and response. On the one hand, God calls to us and we respond to that calling. At the same time, we call to God and God responds by bringing redemption.

YET AGAIN שְׂגִית. Literally, "a second time." The first redemption was the exodus from Egypt. Much of Jewish theology maintains the perspective that we exist between the promise of freedom announced in the exodus and its eventual fulfillment in the messianic era.

THE KEDUSHAH is composed of an interweaving of two prophetic visions: that of Isaiah, who witnessed the angels singing "Holy, holy, holy," and that of Ezekiel, who heard the angels cry "Praised is Adonai's glory wherever God dwells." In heaven, one chorus of angels responds to another; on earth, leader and congregation respond to each other. Additionally, in the version of the Kedushah recited at each Musaf service, Israel's recitation of the Sh'ma is offered as a counterpoint to the angelic praise. Ultimately, our prayer brings heaven and earth into a momentary unity, when we recite the angelic prayer while proclaiming Israel's credo of one God. The quotation from Isaiah, remarking that "each cries out to the other," thus has a dual meaning in the liturgy: one chorus of angels responds to the other in agreement, and heaven and earth stand in agreement with each other, both acknowledging God's presence.

WHEREVER GOD DWELLS מִמְקוֹמוֹ. As noted above, the Kedushah combines two different prophetic visions: that of Isaiah and that of Ezekiel. By placing these biblical verses side by side, the Kedushah

A Meditation

Our God and God of our ancestors, may You call to mind our ancestors as they appeared in Your holy Temple, in ancient times: how deep their love of You as they brought their offerings to You each Shabbat. Please, Adonai our God, grant us a similar spirit to be in relation to You and in awe of You. May we fulfill our duty toward the rebuilding of Your holy land, renewing the wellsprings of our lives, that we may ever be a blessing to all the peoples of the earth.

The Meaning of Sacrifices for the Contemporary Believer

Most contemporaries understand the demand for the return of sacrifice metaphorically. It may mean, as William James offered, “the sacrifice of the heart, the sacrifice of the inner ego.” Even traditionalists who believe in the efficacy of sacrifice might say that atonement for sin and the soul’s purification, the aim of sacrifice, can be achieved through the overcoming of arrogance and the diminution of the ego. As Martin Buber expressed it, “Truly there is no cosmos for the human being except when the totality is made home, a temple in which one offers one’s sacrifice.”

—ADMIEL KOSMAN

The following paragraph is said only when the entire Amidah is recited silently:

Holy are You and holy is Your name;
holy ones praise You each day.
Barukh atah ADONAI, the Holy God.

Barukh atah ADONAI, the Holy Sovereign.*

Fourth B'rakhah: The Celebration of Shabbat

SHABBAT AND THE TEMPLE SERVICE

You established Shabbat and desired its offerings. You prescribed the details of its service and the order of the libations. Those who take pleasure in Shabbat inherit eternal glory. Those who savor Shabbat truly merit life; those who love its teachings have chosen to join in its greatness. ADONAI our God, it was at Sinai that You commanded its observance and commanded our ancestors to offer an additional appropriate sacrifice on Shabbat.

May it be Your will, ADONAI our God and God of our ancestors, who restores their descendants to their land, to lead us there in joy and to plant us in our borders, where our ancestors once offered to You their sacrifices: the daily sacrifices in their proper order, as well as the additional offerings prescribed for holy days. Lovingly, the additional Shabbat sacrifices were offered there as You commanded, fulfilling the words spoken in revelation and written down by Moses, your servant, in Your Torah:

On Shabbat: two yearling lambs without blemish, together with two-tenths of a measure of choice flour with oil mixed in as a meal offering and with the proper libation—a burnt offering for every Shabbat, in addition to the daily burnt offering and its libation.

YOU ESTABLISHED SHABBAT תִּכְנַנְתָּ שַׁבָּת. A reverse alphabetical acrostic celebrating Shabbat. In one version it concludes with the words אֲז מְסִינֵי נִצְטוּוּ צוּיַי פְּעִלְיָהּ בְּרָאוּי, “it was at Sinai that You commanded its proper service”—thus incorporating into the acrostic not only the twenty-two letters of the Hebrew alphabet, but also the five “final” letters—the ones that have a distinct shape when they appear as the last letter of a word.

DESIRED ITS OFFERINGS צְוִיַת קִרְבָּנוֹתֶיהָ. Although slaughter and sacrifice would normally be considered a violation of the laws of Shabbat, God is pleased with this offering on Shabbat—for the sacrifices are offered in the service of God. (Jacob Emden)

THOSE WHO TAKE PLEASURE IN SHABBAT מְעַנְגֶיהָ. The language of this paragraph is based on midrashim interpreting the verse from Isaiah: “If you call Shabbat a delight (oneg), Adonai’s holy day honored . . . then you shall rejoice with Adonai . . .” (58:13–14).

SPOKEN IN REVELATION מִפִּי כְבוֹדְךָ. More literally, “spoken by Your glory.” The Book of Exodus describes God’s “glory” (kavod), perhaps imagined as a dense cloud, descending on Mount Sinai. A voice is heard through the cloud but God is not seen. The liturgy follows the biblical text in putting a veil between God’s revelation and human understanding.

Fourth B'rakhah: The Celebration of Shabbat

THE DREAM OF REDEMPTION

You established Shabbat, exalted its holiness, prescribed its observance, bestowed it as Your treasured delight.

Those who take pleasure in Shabbat inherit eternal glory;
those who savor Shabbat truly merit life;
those who love its teaching have chosen to join in its greatness.

For at Sinai the shoot of redemption was planted for us and for the world.

May it be Your will, ADONAI our God and God of our ancestors, that we may be led to our land,
and planted within our borders, in wholeness and in peace, singing joyfully with voices of gladness, filled with love and friendship.

May we walk together by the light of Your countenance, all of us living lives of righteousness and justice,
love and compassion,
as Your prophet Isaiah proclaimed:

“There shall not be evil or destruction on My holy mountain, for the world shall be filled with the knowledge of God,
as the waters fill the sea.”

“Thus shall ADONAI be an eternal light for us, and your God shall be your glory.”

AN ALTERNATE

תְּכַנֵּן שַׁבָּת, רוּמְמֵת קִדְשָׁתָהּ, צְוִית פְּקוּדֶיהָ, עֵדֶן סִגְלָתְךָ נָתַתָּ. מְעַנְגִּיָּה לְעוֹלָם כְּבוֹד יִגְחַלּוּ, טוֹעֲמֵיהָ חַיִּים זְכוּ, וְגַם הָאוֹהֲבִים דְּבָרֶיהָ גְּדֹלָה בְּחָרוּ.
אִזּוּ מְסִינֵי גִטְעַ צִיץ פְּדוּת לָנוּ וּלְעוֹלָמֵיךָ.

יְהִי רְצוֹן מְלַפְנֶיךָ, יְהוּוה אֱלֹהֵינוּ וְאֱלֹהֵי אֲבוֹתֵינוּ
[וְאִמּוֹתֵינוּ], שְׁתוֹלִיכְנוּ לְאַרְצֵנוּ וְתַטְעֵנוּ בְּגְבוּלָנוּ, בְּתַמִּימוֹת וּבְשָׁלוֹם בְּרִנְנָה וּבְקוֹל שְׂמֵחָה,
מְלֵאִים אַחֲוָה וְאַהֲבָה.
גִּלְךָ יַחַד בְּאוֹר פְּנִיךָ,
וּנְחִיָּה כְּלָנוּ בְּצֶדֶק וּבְמִשְׁפָּט,
בְּחֶסֶד וּבְרַחֲמִים,
וְכֵן כְּתוּב עַל יַד נְבִיאֶיךָ:
לֹא יִרְעוּ וְלֹא יִשְׁחִיתוּ בְּכָל־הָר קִדְשֵׁי,
כִּי מְלֵאָה הָאָרֶץ דְּעָה אֶת־יְהוּוה, כְּמִים לַיָּם מְכֻסִּים.
וְהָיָה לְךָ יְהוּוה לְאוֹר עוֹלָם וְאֱלֹהֶיךָ לְתַפְאֲרָתְךָ.

The fullness of life is only experienced when we develop our spiritual capacities. It is on Shabbat that we come to understand what this fullness might contain, for on Shabbat we stand back to ponder, study, and pray; our community gathers; we meet with friends and family; and we feel rested and sated.

MAY IT BE YOUR WILL יהי רצון מלפניך Musaf is recited at the height of the day, when we experience ourselves as fully encompassed by Shabbat. Classically this was a time that stirred messianic yearnings, for the peacefulness of this moment evoked dreams of a more permanent peace. Based on prophetic visions of the future, this alternate b'rakhah expresses our own yearnings for a time when justice and compassion will reign, when the people Israel will be reconciled with one another and with the world, and when peace will be established—a lasting peace that is not merely a cessation of war and armed conflict, but a peace that brings joy to every inhabitant of the world and reflects the light of God shining on earth. According to Rav (3rd century, Babylonia), one should include in the Musaf Amidah some thought that was not expressed earlier in the Arvit or Shaharit Amidah (Talmud of the Land of Israel, Berakhot 4:6).

SINGING JOYFULLY WITH VOICES OF GLADNESS בְּרִנְנָה וּבְקוֹל שְׂמֵחָה. The prophets announce that the return to Zion will be accompanied with song and shouts of joy. The language here resonates with Isaiah 51:3, “gladness and joy shall abide there . . . and the sound of music.”

RIGHTEOUSNESS AND JUSTICE יְהוּוה יִרְעוּ וְלֹא יִשְׁחִיתוּ. From Hosea 2:21. Hosea further declares (6:6): “For it is kindly love that I desire, not sacrifice; the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.”

THERE SHALL NOT BE EVIL יְהוּוה יִרְעוּ. From Isaiah 11:9.

THUS SHALL ADONAI יְהוּוה לְךָ יְהוּוה. From Isaiah 60:19.

ALTERNATE BLESSING. Both the Rabbinical Assembly's Siddur Sim Shalom and the Israeli Masorti Siddur Va'ani Tefillati have offered revisions of this b'rakhah emphasizing elements of universal redemption rather than the restoration of Temple offerings. The accompanying prayers written by Simcha Roth and Ze'ev Kainan, under the direction of the editors of this volume, follow in that tradition.

This alternate rendering emphasizes Shabbat as a taste of redemption, and it sees the return to the land as an opportunity to fulfill the prophetic vision of redemption, in which the world will be characterized by peace and justice.

YOU ESTABLISHED SHABBAT תְּכַנֵּן שַׁבָּת. A reverse alphabetical acrostic celebrating Shabbat, which concludes with four of the five Hebrew letters that are written differently when they occur at the end of a word.

What We Strive For

The realm of mystery tells us, You live in a world full of light and life.

Know the great reality, the richness of existence that you always encounter. Contemplate its grandeur, its beauty, its precision and its harmony . . .

The perception that dawns on a person to see the world not as finished, but as in the process of continued becoming, ascending, developing—this changes him from being “under the sun” to being “above the sun,” from the place where there is nothing new to the place where there is nothing old, where everything takes on new form. The joy of heaven and earth abides in him as on the day they were created . . .

In every corner where you turn, you are dealing with realities that have life; you always perform consequential acts, abounding with meaning and with the preciousness of vibrant life. In everything you do, you encounter sparks full of life and light, aspiring to rise toward the heights. You help them and they help you . . .

The time that is an uninterrupted Sabbath on which eternal peace shines, is the day when, by the nature of its creation, there pulsates a continued thrust for newness. It needs no end, no termination. It is the choicest of days, an ornament of beauty, the source of all blessings.

—ABRAHAM ISAAC KOOK
(translated by Ben Zion Bokser)

All services continue here:

Those who observe Shabbat and call it a delight shall rejoice in Your sovereignty. The people who sanctify the seventh day shall all be fulfilled and shall delight in Your abundant goodness. Barukh atah ADONAI, who makes Shabbat holy.

Fifth B'rakhah: The Restoration of Zion

ADONAI our God, embrace Your people Israel and their prayer. Restore worship to Your sanctuary. May the prayers of the people Israel be lovingly accepted by You, and may our service always be pleasing. May our eyes behold Your compassionate return to Zion.

THOSE WHO OBSERVE SHABBAT SHALL REJOICE יְשֻׁמְחוּ בְּמַלְכוּתְךָ. The Musaf liturgy here conceives of Shabbat as a symbol of the world we hope to achieve: a world at peace, in which we feel fulfilled and satiated with goodness.

OUR GOD AND GOD OF OUR ANCESTORS אֱלֹהֵינוּ וְאֱלֹהֵי [וְאִמּוֹתֵינוּ]. The blessing culminates in a series of requests, all of a spiritual nature.

GLADDEN US WITH YOUR DELIVERANCE שְׂמַחְנוּ בִּישׁוּעָתְךָ. In the Sephardic version of this prayer, we ask that God “gladden our soul” (וְשִׂמַח נַפְשֵׁנוּ). Similarly, Rav Amram’s siddur (9th century) has the word “heart.” God’s deliverance is seen as a spiritual victory.

GRANT THAT WE INHERIT וְהִנְחִילֵנוּ. Shabbat is seen as a gift.

EMBRACE רְצֵה. Intimacy with God, a sense of God’s closeness and embrace, an existential realization that we are not alone—these are the answers to our prayers, not the specific fulfillment of a verbal request. (Bradley Shavit Artson)

RESTORE WORSHIP TO YOUR SANCTUARY וְהִשֵּׁב אֶת־הָעֲבוּדָה לְדָבִיר בֵּיתְךָ. In exile, our relationship with God cannot be fulfilled. Yearning for the restoration of the Temple expresses the wish for a more direct relationship with God.

Thanksgiving

How great my joy that I dwell with You—and thinking of You, my troubles flee.
 For Your love and kindness I owe so much, but all I can offer are prayers recited thankfully.
 Heavens cannot contain You; how could my ideas? Teach me what may please You, that I may do what to You is dear.
 Take my praise as a rightful offering, consider it as sacrifices of old.
 Pure of Vision, open Your eyes to my suffering, let Your light illumine what I fail to see.
 Let Your kindness and love favor me.
 Let them cover my sins, that they not be seen.
 And as Your name is held in my heart, may my spirit in Your hands be.

—SOLOMON IBN GABIROL

Thanksgiving

The older we get, the greater becomes our inclination to give thanks, especially heavenwards. We feel more strongly than we could possibly have ever felt before that life is a gift. . . .
 But we also feel, again and again, an urge to thank our fellow, even if he or she has not done anything special for us. For what, then? For being truly present when we are together; for opening his eyes, and not mistaking me for someone else; for opening her ears, and listening carefully to what I had to say to her; indeed, for opening up to me what I really wanted to address—a securely locked heart.

—MARTIN BUBER (adapted)

Sixth B'rakhah: Gratitude for Life and Its Blessings

*When the Amidah is recited silently, we read the following paragraph.
 When the Amidah is chanted aloud, the leader reads this paragraph as the congregation reads the next passage.*

† We thank You, for You are ever our God and the God of our ancestors; You are the bedrock of our lives, the shield that protects us in every generation. We thank You and sing Your praises—for our lives that are in Your hands, for our souls that are under Your care, for Your miracles that accompany us each day, and for Your wonders and Your gifts that are with us each moment—evening, morning, and noon.

▶ You are the one who is good, whose mercy is never-ending; the one who is compassionate, whose love is unceasing. We have always placed our hope in You.

This paragraph is recited by the congregation when the full Amidah is repeated by the service leader, by custom remaining seated and bowing slightly.

† We thank You for the ability to acknowledge You. You are our God and the God of our ancestors, the God of all flesh, our creator, and the creator of all. We offer praise and blessing to Your holy and great name, for granting us life and for sustaining us. May You continue to grant us life and sustenance. Gather our dispersed to Your holy courtyards, that we may fulfill Your mitzvot and serve You wholeheartedly, carrying out Your will. May God, the source of gratitude, be praised.

On Hanukkah we add Al Hanissim on page 430.

For all these blessings may Your name be praised and exalted, our sovereign, always and forever.

On Shabbat Shuvah we add:

And inscribe all the people of Your covenant for a good life.

May all that lives thank You always, and faithfully praise Your name forever, God of our deliverance and help.

† Barukh atah ADONAI, Your name is goodness and praise of You is fitting.

*When the Amidah is recited silently, we read the following paragraph.
 When the Amidah is chanted aloud, the leader reads this paragraph as the congregation reads the next passage.*

† מוֹדִים אֲנַחְנוּ לָךְ, שְׂאֵתָהּ הוּא יְהוָה אֱלֹהֵינוּ וְאַלֹהֵי אֲבוֹתֵינוּ [וְאַמּוֹתֵינוּ] לְעוֹלָם וָעֶד. צוּר חַיֵּינוּ מִגֵּן יִשְׁעֵנוּ אֵתָהּ הוּא לְדוֹר וָדוֹר. נוֹדָה לְךָ וְנִסְפָּר תְּהִלָּתְךָ, עַל חַיֵּינוּ הַמְּסוּרִים בְּיָדְךָ וְעַל נְשְׁמוֹתֵינוּ הַפְּקוּדוֹת לָךְ, וְעַל נְסִיךְ שְׂבָכָל־יּוֹם עִמָּנוּ, וְעַל נִפְלְאוֹתֶיךָ וְטוֹבוֹתֶיךָ שְׂבָכָל־עֵת, עֶרֶב וּבֹקֶר וְצָהֳרָיִם. ◀ הַטּוֹב, כִּי לֹא כָלוּ רַחֲמֶיךָ, וְהִמְרָחֵם, כִּי לֹא תָמוּ חַסְדֶיךָ מֵעוֹלָם קוּיְנוּ לָךְ.

On Hanukkah we add Al Hanissim on page 430.

וְעַל כָּלֵם יִתְבָּרַךְ וְיִתְרוֹמַם שְׁמֶךָ מִלְּפָנֵינוּ תָּמִיד לְעוֹלָם וָעֶד.

On Shabbat Shuvah we add: וְכָתוּב לְחַיִּים טוֹבִים כָּל־בְּנֵי בְרִיתְךָ.

וְכָל הַחַיִּים יוֹדוּךָ סֵלָה,

the rhythm of the seasons, the resurgence of life. We may come to realize that gratitude is a self-creating blessing: the more we cultivate gratitude, the more we are aware of all that we receive for which we may be grateful, the more we blossom as human beings. (Bradley Shavit Artson)

THE SIXTH B'RAKHAH. The penultimate b'rakhah of the Amidah has two versions. The first is recited during the silent Amidah, or by the leader when the Amidah is recited aloud by the leader. This version reflects on the miracles of daily life. When the Amidah is recited out loud, the congregation accompanies the leader with a different version of the blessing, one that remarks on the very ability to give thanks. The central idea it expresses is modim anahnu lakh . . . al she-anahnu modim lakh, "we thank You for the ability to thank You." The prayer may be understood as an expression of appreciation for being part of a religious tradition that values gratitude. More radically, this prayer may be understood as expressing the thought that our prayers may be addressed to God, but God is the Source of All—even the prayers we speak. The very ability to thank is thus a manifestation of the presence of God within us.

WE THANK YOU מוֹדִים. Our gratitude is expressed in universal terms, without reference to Jewish particularity. Here we reflect on the very basis of life itself. God's wonders are found in the cycles of the planets,

Seventh B'rakhah: Prayer for Peace

During the silent Amidah, we continue with "Grant Peace," below.
When the Amidah is repeated, the leader recites the Priestly Blessing.

Our God and God of our ancestors, bless us with the threefold blessing of the Torah written by Moses Your servant, recited by Aaron and his descendants, the kohanim, the consecrated priests of Your people:

May ADONAI bless and protect you.
So may it be God's will. Ken y'hi ratzon.
May ADONAI's countenance shine upon you
and may ADONAI bestow kindness upon you.
So may it be God's will. Ken y'hi ratzon.
May ADONAI's countenance be lifted toward you
and may ADONAI grant you peace.
So may it be God's will. Ken y'hi ratzon.

Grant peace to the world, goodness and blessing, grace, love, and compassion, for us and for all the people Israel. Bless us, our creator, united as one with the light of Your presence; by that light, ADONAI our God, You have given us a guide to life, the love of kindness, generosity, blessing, compassion, life, and peace. May it please You to bless Your people Israel at every season and at all times with Your gift of peace.

Sim shalom ba-olam tovah u-v'rakahah, ḥen va-ḥesed v'raḥamim, aleinu v'al kol yisrael amekha. Bar'kheinu avinu kulanu k'eḥad b'or panekha, ki v'or panekha natata lanu, Adonai eloheinu, torat ḥayim v'ahavat ḥesed, u-tzedakah u-v'rakhah v'raḥamim v'ḥayim v'shalom. V'tov b'einekha l'varekh et am'kha yisrael b'khol eit u-v'khol sha-ah bishlomekha.

On Shabbat Shuvah we recite the following paragraph, in place of the line that follows it:
May we and the entire house of Israel be called to mind and inscribed for life, blessing, sustenance, and peace in the Book of Life.
Barukh atah ADONAI, who brings peace.

Barukh atah ADONAI, who blesses Your people Israel with peace.

When the Amidah is recited aloud by the leader, we continue with Kaddish Shalem on page 203.

During the silent Amidah, we continue with שִׁים שְׁלוֹם below.
When the Amidah is repeated, the leader recites the Birkat Kohanim.

אֱלֹהֵינוּ וְאֱלֹהֵי אֲבוֹתֵינוּ [וְאִמּוֹתֵינוּ],
בְּרַכְנוּ בְּבִרְכַּהּ הַמְּשֻׁלֶּשֶׁת
בַּתּוֹרָה הַכְּתוּבָה עַל יְדֵי מֹשֶׁה עֶבְדְּךָ,
הָאֲמוּרָה מִפִּי אֶהְרֵן וּבְנָיו, בְּהַגִּים, עִם קְדוּשָׁה, בְּאָמוֹר:
יְבָרְכֶךָ יְהוָה וְיִשְׁמְרֶךָ.
יָאֵר יְהוָה פְּנֵינוּ אֲלֵיךָ וַיְחַנְּךָ.
יִשָּׂא יְהוָה פְּנֵינוּ אֲלֵיךָ וְיִשֶׂם לָךְ שְׁלוֹם.

שִׁים שְׁלוֹם בְּעוֹלָם טוֹבָה וּבִרְכָה,
חַן וְחֶסֶד וְרַחֲמִים עָלֵינוּ וְעַל כָּל-יִשְׂרָאֵל עַמְּךָ.
בְּרַכְנוּ אֲבִינוּ בְּלִנּוּ בְּאֶחָד בְּאוֹר פְּנֵיךָ,
כִּי בְּאוֹר פְּנֵיךָ נִתְּתָ לָנוּ, יְהוָה אֱלֹהֵינוּ,
תּוֹרַת חַיִּים וְאַהֲבַת חֶסֶד,
וְצַדִּיקָה וּבִרְכָה וְרַחֲמִים וְחַיִּים וְשְׁלוֹם.
וְטוֹב בְּעֵינֶיךָ לְבָרְךָ אֶת-עַמְּךָ יִשְׂרָאֵל
בְּכָל-עֵת וּבְכָל-שָׁעָה בְּשְׁלוֹמָהּ.

On Shabbat Shuvah we recite the following paragraph, in place of the line that follows it:
בְּסִפּוּר חַיִּים, בְּרַכָּה, וְשְׁלוֹם, וּפְרִיָּסָה טוֹבָה, נִבְרַח וְנִבְתַּב לְפָנֶיךָ, אֲנַחְנוּ וְכָל-עַמְּךָ בֵּית יִשְׂרָאֵל, לְחַיִּים טוֹבִים וְלְשְׁלוֹם.
בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה יְהוָה, עוֹשֵׂה הַשְּׁלוֹם.
בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה יְהוָה, הַמְּבָרֵךְ אֶת-עַמּוֹ יִשְׂרָאֵל בְּשְׁלוֹם.

When the Amidah is recited aloud by the leader, we continue with Kaddish Shalem on page 203.

traditionally ascended the bimah to bless the congregation. The words sim shalom, "grant peace," are related directly to the conclusion of Birkat Kohanim, the Priestly Blessing: "May God grant you peace." Additionally, the paragraph speaks of the light of God's face as bestowing blessing, a metaphor taken directly from the Priestly Blessing. The midrash says that God's name is peace (Sifrei Numbers 42), and the Priestly Blessing looks to God bestowing on us the almost-divine ability to extend peace and kindly love to others.

THE PRIESTLY BLESSING (Numbers 6:24–26) was recited by the priests at the conclusion of every Temple service at which the people assembled. In the Hebrew, it begins with the word for blessing (y'varekh'kha) and ends with the word for peace (shalom). The style of the blessing is expansive, spreading outward: the first line contains three words; the second line, five; and the last line, seven. The text of the Priestly Blessing has been found on silver amulets in Jerusalem that date from the 7th century B.C.E., the only known inscription of a biblical text predating the Babylonian exile.

וַיְחַנְּךָ BESTOW KINDNESS. This phrase is open to at least two interpretations: that God be kind to you, or that God grant you the capacity for kindness. The latter interpretation is attested to by the midrash: "May God grant you the understanding to be kind to one another" (Numbers Rabbah 11:6).

שִׁים שְׁלוֹם GRANT PEACE. The final blessing of the Amidah is a prayer for peace. There are, however, two versions of this blessing; this particular version is recited only when the kohanim would have

The Way to God

There are three starting points of contemplation about God; three trails that lead to God. The first is the way of sensing the presence of God in the world, in things; the second is the way of sensing God's presence in the Bible; the third is the way of sensing God's presence in sacred deeds. These three ways are intimated in three Biblical passages:

“Lift up your eyes on high and see, Who created these?” (Isaiah 40:26)

“I am the Lord thy God.” (Exodus 20:2)

“We shall do and we shall hear.” (Exodus 24:7)

These three ways correspond in our tradition to the main aspects of religious existence: worship, learning, and action. The three are one, and we must go all three ways to reach the one destination. For this is what Israel discovered: the God of nature is the God of history, and the way to know God is to do God's will.

—ABRAHAM JOSHUA HESCHEL

The silent recitation of the Amidah concludes with a personal prayer or one of the following:

א

My God, keep my tongue from evil, my lips from deceit.

Help me ignore those who would slander me.

Let me be humble before all.

Open my heart to Your Torah, that I may pursue Your mitzvot.

Frustrate the designs of those who plot evil against me; nullify their schemes.

Act for the sake of Your name, act for the sake of Your triumph, act for the sake of Your holiness, act for the sake of Your Torah.

Answer my prayer for the deliverance of Your people.

May the words of my mouth and the meditations of my heart be acceptable to You, ADONAI, my rock and my redeemer.

Some have the custom of taking three steps backward and bowing at the conclusion of the Amidah, as if exiting the court of a sovereign.

May the one who creates peace on high bring peace to us and to all Israel [and to all who dwell on earth]. And we say: Amen.

ב

Grant me the liberating joy of Shabbat, the ability to truly taste its delights. May my heart not be weighed down by sorrow on this holy Shabbat. Fill the soul of Your servant with gladness—for to You, ADONAI, I offer my entire being. Help me to increase the joys of Shabbat and to extend its joyful spirit to the other six days of the week. Show me the path of life, that I may be filled with the joy of being in Your presence, the delight of being close to You forever.

May the words of my mouth and the meditations of my heart be acceptable to You, ADONAI, my rock and my redeemer.

Some have the custom of taking three steps backward and bowing at the conclusion of the Amidah, as if exiting the court of a sovereign.

May the one who creates peace on high bring peace to us and to all Israel [and to all who dwell on earth]. And we say: Amen.

MY GOD אֱלֹהֵי. One opinion voiced in the Babylonian Talmud states that every Amidah must be accompanied by a personal prayer (Berakhot 29b). This prayer is offered by the Babylonian Talmud (Berakhot 17a) as an example; it is attributed to Mar son of Ravina (4th century).

MAY THE WORDS יְהִי לְרָצוֹן. Psalm 19:15. Rabbi Yohanan (3rd century, the Land of Israel) recommended that the Amidah conclude with this verse (Talmud of the Land of Israel, Berakhot 4:4).

GRANT יְיֹשְׁבֵי תִבְל. A prayer of Nahman of Bratzlav, translated by Jules Harlow.

The Greatness of God and the Greatness of the Human Soul

Just as the Divine suffuses the entire world, so the soul suffuses the entire body.

Just as the Divine sees but is not seen, so the soul sees but is not seen.

Just as the Divine sustains the whole world, so the soul sustains our existence.

Just as the Divine is pure,
so the soul is pure.

Just as Divinity dwells in the innermost sanctuary of the universe, so the soul dwells in the innermost sanctuary of human beings.

Let that which has these five qualities praise the one who has these five qualities.

May God's great name be exalted and hallowed throughout the created world, as is God's wish. May God's sovereignty soon be established, in your lifetime and in your days, and in

Congregation and Leader:

May God's great name be acknowledged forever and ever!

Y'hei sh'meih raba m'varakh l'alam u-l'almei almaya.

Leader:

May the name of the Holy One be acknowledged and extolled and acclaimed—though God, who is blessed, b'rikk hu, is truly [on Shabbat Shuvah we add: far] beyond all acknowledgment and praise, or any expressions of gratitude or consolation ever spoken in the world.

And we say: Amen.

May the prayers and pleas of all Israel be accepted by their creator in heaven. And we say: Amen.

May heaven bestow on us, and on all Israel, life and abundant

A Final Teaching

Rabbi Eleazar said in the name of Rabbi Hanina: Students of Torah increase peace in the world, as the prophet Isaiah said: "All your children shall be taught by ADONAI, and your children shall increase peace." Do not read the word as banayikh, "your children," but rather as bonayikh, "your builders."

May those who love your Torah find great peace; may they not stumble.
May there be peace within your walls, tranquility in your citadels.
For the sake of my brothers and friends, pray for peace in your midst.
For the sake of the house of ADONAI our God, I seek your welfare.
May God grant strength to God's people; may God grant God's people peace.

In some congregations, the service continues with Kaddish D'Rabbanan, page 111.

NONE COMPARES TO OUR GOD אין פֿאלהיננו. This 1st-millennium prayer was originally composed as a mystical meditation: the repetitions served to bring the devotee to an ecstatic visionary state. Because of its simplicity and ease of recall, it became a favorite prayer with which to conclude a service and, in the Sephardic liturgy, it forms part of the conclusion of every morning service. The first three stanzas spell out the acrostic amen and the next two begin with the first two words of every blessing: barukh atah.

RABBI ELEAZAR SAID אָמַר רַבִּי אֶלְעָזָר. In the ancient synagogue, prayer services concluded with Torah study. This passage is a remnant of that tradition; it is a passage quoted extensively in the Talmud. In reciting it, we express the hope that the teaching and learning we have experienced today will help create a world of peace. It is through the teaching of the values that Torah represents that we ultimately achieve security.

אָמַר רַבִּי אֶלְעָזָר אָמַר רַבִּי חַנִּינָא: תַּלְמִידֵי חֻכְמִים
מְרַבִּים שְׁלוֹם בְּעוֹלָם, שְׁנֵאמַר: וְכַל־בְּנֵיךָ לְמוֹדֵי יְהוָה, וְרַב שְׁלוֹם בְּנֵיךָ. אֵל תִּקְרָא בְּנֵיךָ אֶלָּא בּוֹנֵיךָ.

In some congregations, the service continues with Kaddish D'Rabbanan, page 111.

ALL YOUR CHILDREN SHALL BE TAUGHT BY ADONAI וְכַל־בְּנֵיךָ לְמוֹדֵי יְהוָה. Isaiah 54:13. The rabbis see the teachers of Torah as "builders" and their disciples as their children.

MAY THOSE WHO LOVE YOUR TORAH FIND GREAT PEACE שְׁלוֹם רַב לְאַהֲבֵי תוֹרָתְךָ. Psalm 119:165. This verse begins a series of verses, all of which contain a prayer for peace—thus offering for study a fitting conclusion to the service.

MAY THERE BE PEACE WITHIN YOUR WALLS יְהִי שְׁלוֹם בְּחֵילְךָ. Psalm 122:7
FOR THE SAKE OF MY BROTHERS . . . FOR THE SAKE OF THE HOUSE OF ADONAI לְמַעַן אַחֵי . . . לְמַעַן בֵּית יְהוָה. Psalm 122:8–9. These verses seek the peace and welfare of Jerusalem.

I Spread Out God's Names in Front of Me

I spread out God's names in front of me
on the floor of my chilly
room.

The name by which I called him when his spirit breathed in me.

And the name by which I called him when I was a young girl.

The name by which I called him when I was given to a man.

And the name when I was again permitted to all.

The name by which I called him when my parents were a roof over me. And the name when I had no ceiling.

The name by which I called him so that I would fear him. And the name by which I called him so that I would not be afraid.

The name by which I called him so that he would remember me.
And the name so that he would refrain from remembering.

In the heat of day I will prostrate myself
on the floor of my chilly
room.

We rise:

It is for us to praise the ruler of all,
to acclaim the Creator,
who has not made us merely a nation,
nor formed us as all earthly families,
nor given us an ordinary destiny.

the Holy One, who is praised—who spreads out the heavens and establishes the earth, whose glory abides in the highest heavens,
and whose powerful presence resides in the highest heights.

that ADONAI is God in heaven above and on earth below;
there is no other.”

We rise:

עֲלֵינוּ לְשַׁבַּח לְאֲדוֹן הַכֹּל,
לְתַת גְּדֻלָּה לְיוֹצֵר בְּרֵאשִׁית,
שֶׁלֹא עָשָׂנוּ כְּגוֹיֵי הָאָרְצוֹת, וְלֹא שָׁמְנוּ כְּמִשְׁפָּחוֹת הָאֲדָמָה,
שֶׁלֹא שָׂם חֶלְקֵנוּ בָהֶם,
וְגָרְלָנוּ כְּכָל־הַמוֹנָם.
† וְאֲנַחְנוּ כּוֹרְעִים וּמִשְׁתַּחֲוִים וּמוֹדִים,
לְפָנֵי מֶלֶךְ מַלְכֵי הַמַּלְכִּים, הַקָּדוֹשׁ בְּרוּךְ הוּא.
שֶׁהוּא נוֹטֵה שָׁמַיִם וְיִסַּד אֶרֶץ,
וּמוֹשֵׁב יְקָרוֹ בְּשָׁמַיִם מִמַּעַל,
וּשְׁכִינֵת עִזּוֹ בְּגִבְהֵי מְרוֹמִים,
הוּא אֱלֹהֵינוּ אִין עוֹד.
אֱמֶת מְלַפְּנוּ אָפֶס זוֹלָתוֹ,
כְּפַתּוֹב בְּתוֹרָתוֹ:
וְיִדְעֵת הַיּוֹם וְהַשַּׁבָּת אֶל לְבָבָהּ,
כִּי יְהוּה הוּא הָאֱלֹהִים בְּשָׁמַיִם מִמַּעַל
וְעַל הָאָרֶץ מִתַּחַת, אִין עוֹד.

עֲלֵינוּ. Since the 12th or 13th century, the Aleinu prayer has acquired a special pride of place in Ashkenazic liturgy and is recited at the conclusion of every service; it does not play the same role in the Sephardic liturgy.

The origin of this popular prayer is a matter of debate. Some medieval sources (e.g. Rokeah, early 13th century, Germany) ascribed it to Joshua. The liturgical scholar Joseph Heinemann thought that it dates back to the time of the Temple service. Other scholars have argued that it originated in 2nd- or 3rd-century mystical circles. Its first known use in the formal liturgy is as an introduction to the Malkhuyot (“Sovereignty”) section of the Rosh Hashanah Musaf service.

Aleinu articulates a progression of ideas. In the first paragraph, we are asked to express our gratitude for the special fate and role of the Jewish people in history. In the second, we look forward to the day when differences among peoples will be harmonized and there will be a common recognition that all of humanity is embraced by God. This vision recognizes that God is not exclusively the God of Israel, but that God rules over all of us. On that day, when justice, morality, and common spiritual affinity will reign on earth, God's name will truly be one.

Some have objected to what may sound like exclusivist language in this prayer, in particular the phrases describing the uniqueness of the people Israel: “who has not made us merely a nation, nor formed us as all earthly families, nor given us an ordinary destiny.” The Israeli Masorti Movement offers an alternative formulation quoting Micah 4:5: “For the people of every nation shall walk in the name of their god, but we shall walk in the name of Adonai, our God, forever.” Whether articulated with this wording or the standard text, Aleinu both asserts a pride in Jewish destiny and challenges us to go out to the world committed to Jewish spiritual values.

AND SO WE BOW וְאֲנַחְנוּ כּוֹרְעִים. The prayer mentions a variety of forms of bowing. In ancient times, korim meant touching the floor with one's knees, and mishta'avim meant bending at the waist. However, the ancient rabbis minimized the bowing that takes place in the service, and so today it is customary to simply bow one's head or slightly bend one's body at this point in the prayer.

In the Days to Come

In the days to come,
the Mount of Adonai's house shall stand firm above the mountains, and it shall tower over the hills.
The peoples shall gaze on it with joy,
and many nations shall go and shall say,
"Come, let us go up to the Mount of Adonai, to the House of the God of Jacob;
that God may instruct us in God's ways, and that we may walk in God's paths."
For instruction shall come forth from Zion, and the word of Adonai
from Jerusalem.
Thus God will judge
among the many peoples, and arbitrate for the multitude of nations, however distant.
They shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks.
Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war anymore;
but everyone shall sit under their grapevine or fig tree with no one to disturb them.
For it was Adonai of Hosts who has spoken.
For the people of every nation shall walk in the name of their god, but we shall walk in the name of Adonai, our God, forever.

—MICAH 4:1-5

And so, ADONAI our God, we await You, that soon we may behold Your strength revealed in full glory, sweeping away the abominations of the earth,
obliterating idols,
establishing in the world the sovereignty of the Almighty.
All flesh will call out Your name—
even the wicked will turn toward You.
Then all who live on earth will understand and know that to You alone every knee must bend, all allegiance be sworn.
They will bow down and prostrate themselves before You, ADONAI our God,
treasure Your glorious name,
and accept the obligation of Your sovereignty.
May You soon rule over them forever and ever,
for true dominion is Yours;
and You will rule in glory until the end of time.

► As is written in Your Torah:
"ADONAI will reign forever and ever."
And as the prophet said:
"ADONAI shall be acknowledged sovereign of all the earth.
On that day ADONAI shall be one, and the name of God, one."

ESTABLISHING IN THE WORLD THE SOVEREIGNTY
OF THE ALMIGHTY לְתַקֵּן עוֹלָם בְּמַלְכוּת שְׂדֵי. Beginning in the 19th century, this phrase came to be seen as similar to Isaiah's call to be a "light unto the nations," and it was thus interpreted as a call to universal justice. In this vein, the phrase l'takken olam
was understood to mean
"to repair the world"—that is, to be partners with God in achieving a time of peace and righteousness. Even earlier, Maimonides (12th century) had argued that the single most important characteristic of messianic times would be an end to one people dominating another (Mishneh Torah, Hilkhot Melakhim 12:2).

ADONAI WILL REIGN FOR-EVER AND EVER יְהוָה יִמְלֹךְ לְעוֹלָם וָעֶד. Exodus 15:18.

ON THAT DAY ADONAI
SHALL BE ONE הַיּוֹם הַהוּא
יְהִיָּה יְהוָה אֶחָד. Zechariah 14:9. In reciting the Sh'ma, we declare that God is
one. Through our prayer, we hope to make God one with the world. As this prayer marks the conclusion of the service, it ends with a vision of the future.

Kaddish: The Year

Loss steals language; you have nothing to say.

A loving community buttresses you, feeding you, telling you when to stand and sit, thrusting into your slack hand the prayer book containing the chanted words that, until now, only other people knew by heart.

Yahrzeit: The Years

To my astonishment, my father returns, sometimes daily, with a power that is revelatory. In the immediacy of grief, the idea that he would be “only a thought away” or “always with me” seemed a not-believable comfort. Now, four years later, my sisters and I are amazed by his presence. We use his expressions; we laugh at his voice in our heads, for we can hear exactly what he would say.

May God's great name be acknowledged forever and ever!

Mourners:

And we say: Amen.

May heaven bestow on us, and on all Israel, life and abundant and lasting peace. And we say: Amen.

A Song of Glory: Anim Z'mirot

I shall chant melodies and weave together verses,
for my soul thirsts for You.

My soul longs to live in the shadow of Your hand, that I might learn the secrets of Your mysterious being.

Even before speaking any words describing Your glory, already my heart sings of Your love.

*I would, therefore, ever glorify You,
and honor Your name with songs of love.*

Though I have never seen You, I would tell of Your glory:
I imagine You, I describe You, but I know You not.

*In the words of Your prophets and mysteries revealed to the faithful,
You provided images of glorious majesty.*

Your greatness and Your power were pictured in accord with Your deeds.

*They portrayed You not as You truly are,
but imagined You from what You had created.*

In endless visions and countless metaphors they described You, but through it all, You are the singular one.

*They represented You as old and as young,
with graying hair and in the prime of youth:*

as an elder on the Day of Judgment, and as a youth in time of war, as a soldier who was fully armed,

and with a victory helmet on Your head, having won battles with Your right hand and holy arm—

by an enumeration of images in verses arranged in an alphabetic acrostic. The concluding verses of the poem are a personal plea that God hear our prayers. Some recite Shir Hakavod on each Shabbat; others include it only on festivals. Some recite it here, others at the conclusion of Shaḥarit, and many others at the beginning of the entire service.

YOUR GLORY בְּכְבוֹדְךָ. As noted above, God's "glory" frequently has a technical meaning in medieval Jewish mystical thought: it is that aspect of God which is accessible to humans. The Bible reports that at Sinai God's "glory" descended on the mountain (Exodus 24:15), and similarly Moses asks to see God's "glory" (Exodus 33:18).

YOUR PROPHETS נְבִיאֶיךָ. The poet will use only metaphors previously offered by prophets and sages—that is, those that were adduced by divine inspiration.

IN ACCORD WITH YOUR DEEDS כִּנּוּ לְתַקְּךָ פְּעֻלֹתֶךָ. No human being can have a direct encounter with God's essence (God's "face"), but we can experience God's impact in the world (God's "back").

YOU ARE THE SINGULAR ONE אֶחָד. The word ehad (literally "one") references the Sh'ma. Jewish mystics, while eloquently describing the myriad manifestations of God, insist that God is ultimately "one."

AS OLD AND AS YOUNG זְקֵנָה וּבַחֲרוֹת. In commenting on the first words of the Decalogue, "I am Adonai, your God, who took you out of the land of Egypt," Rashi (1040–1105, northern France), reprising the midrash, writes: "Do not think that because I appear to you in different guises—at Sinai as an elder and at the Sea as a young warrior—there are multiple deities; it is I who took you out."

THE PRIME OF YOUTH וְשַׁחֲרוֹת. As vocalized, the Hebrew means "youthful." However, the word also contains the same letters as the word for "black" (shahor), as opposed to gray hair as a sign of age.

A VICTORY HELMET חֲבֵשׁ יִשׁוּעָה. The image is taken from the language of Isaiah: "God donned righteousness like a coat of mail, with a helmet of victory on God's head" (59:17).

A SONG OF GLORY שִׁיר הַכְּבוֹד. Sometimes called by its first two words, Anim Z'mirot is ascribed to Judah the Pious of Regensburg (d. 1217), one of the most important figures of Hasidei Ashkenaz, the 13th-century German pietist movement. The poem asserts that human beings cannot grasp God's mysterious nature, but that prophetic metaphors and rabbinic allusions allow us to imagine God's glory, kavod, and to see a "shadow" of the Divine. Many of these images were significant for the spiritual vocabulary of Hasidei Ashkenaz. For instance, the light emanating from God's head and God's crown were important images of mystic contemplation.

The first four verses of the poem constitute an introduction. This is followed

WITH LONG BLACK CURLS תלתלים שחורות. This is the way the male lover is depicted in the Song of Songs (5:11).

THE ABODE OF RIGHTEOUSNESS נוה הצדק. In this section the poet moves to ideas of redemption, and emphasizes Israel's loyalty to God as a manifestation of God's glory. The midrash declares that in the end of days, the tribe of Levi will no longer bless Israel, but rather God alone will, as it is written: "Adonai, the abode of righteousness, will bless you..." (Midrash Tanhuma, Lekh L'kha 5, quoting Jeremiah 31:22).

GOD'S SPLENDOR פארו. T'fillin are called by the rabbis pe'eir, "splendor." Thus "God's splendor is on me" can be read as: "I am adorned with God's t'fillin." According to the rabbinic imagination, God too wears t'fillin—which, in turn, glorify Israel. The verse inscribed inside God's t'fillin is: "Is there a single nation like you in the world, O Israel?" (2 Samuel 7:23). In this view, when Moses saw God's back (but not God's face), he saw the t'fillin knot on the back of God's head—that is, God's splendor (Babylonian Talmud, Berakhot 6a).

DRESSED IN RED ללבשו אדום. The poet draws on the imagery of Isaiah: "Who is this coming from Edom? . . . It is I who speak of righteousness, surely triumphant. Why is Your clothing so red? Your garments like someone who treads grapes? I trod out a vintage alone . . . there was no one with Me. I trod them down in My anger . . . their life-force bespattered My garments, and all My clothing was stained" (63:1-3). Isaiah's imagery is a play on the name "Edom," derived from the Hebrew word for "red." In Jewish tradition, Edom became the name for all those empires that would oppress Israel. Thus, the Talmud refers to Rome as Edom, and refugees from Germany in the 1930s reported that they were sustained by preachers who referred to the downfall of Edom.

TREADING THE WINEPRESS פורה בדרך. Meaning to stomp on the Edomites, the oppressors of the people Israel.
HUMBLE MOSES לענו. Moses is said to be the most humble of all human beings (Numbers 12:3).

DROPS OF LIGHT טללי אורות. Here the poet changes imagery and begins talking of God's head and God's crown.

CROWN OF GLORY לעטרת צבי. The phrase refers to a deer's antlers (see Isaiah 28:5). The deer raising its antlers is a graceful demonstration of strength and readiness. In this and in two verses below (tifarah, "the height of glory"), the poet articulates a mutuality: God crowns Israel with glory and Israel crowns God with glory.

FOREHEAD INSCRIBED וחק על מצח. The High Priest wore a gold band on his forehead on which the words "Holy unto Adonai" were engraved. The ancient rabbis imagined God inscribed with a corresponding insignia.

*Nod agreement to my blessings;
receive them as choice perfume upon Your head.*

May my words please You,
for my soul thirsts for You.

Yours, ADONAI, is the greatness, the strength and the glory, the triumph and the splendor—for everything in heaven and on earth is Yours.

Yours, ADONAI, is the sovereignty and the majesty above all.

YOU UTTERED TRUTH
FROM THE FIRST ראש דְּבָרְךָ אֱמֶת. The poet is quoting Psalm 119:160, sometimes translated as: "The essence of Your teaching is truth." (See above, page 117, at the psalm for Shavuot.) The poet may mean that God's promise to redeem Israel holds true in every generation. Also, the last letters of the first three words of Genesis (בְּרֵאשִׁית בְּרָא) are alef, mem, and tav, which spell the word emet, "truth."

Since this verse repeats the letter reish and seems to introduce a thought not otherwise developed in the poem, there are some scholars who think that it is a later interpolation.

A SAVORY OFFERING תִּכּוֹן קְטוּרָת. Psalm 141:2: "Take my prayer as an incense offering . . ."

NOD AGREEMENT ראש תַעֲנַע לִי רֵאשׁ. A reference to an anthropomorphic story from the Babylonian Talmud, in which God responds to a sage's blessing with a nod of God's head (Berakhot 7a). The same word, rosh, is used to indicate the "choice perfume" that was used for anointing in the sanctuary.

MY SOUL THIRSTS נִפְשִׁי תַעֲרַג. The poet draws on the language of Psalm 42:2, concluding the poem with the same image of yearning with which it began.

YOURS, ADONAI, IS THE GREATNESS לְךָ יְהוּה הַגְּדֹלָה. 1 Chronicles 29:11. This verse inspired the mystics who developed the system of the s'firot, aspects of God that human beings perceive. Many of the names of the s'firot are drawn from this verse, including G'vurah (triumph), Tiferet (glory), Netzah (eternity), and Hod (splendor). Similarly, to evoke the variety of the aspects of God, this verse is chanted when the Torah scroll is removed from the ark and carried in a procession around the sanctuary.

ADON OLAM

Before creation shaped the world, eternally God reigned alone;
but only with creation done could God as Sovereign be known.
When all is ended, God alone will reign in wondrous majesty.
God was, God is, always will be glorious in eternity.
God is unique and without peer,
with none at all to be compared.
Without beginning, endlessly,
God's vast dominion is not shared.
But still—my God, my only hope,
my one true refuge in distress,
My shelter sure, my cup of life,
with goodness real and limitless.
I place my spirit in God's care;
my body too can feel God near.
When I sleep, as when I wake,
God is with me, I have no fear.

ADON OLAM אָדוֹן עוֹלָם. It is unclear who authored this thousand-year-old poem, but it appears in the beginning of the morning service, at the conclusion of the Musaf (additional) service, and also at the end of evening services, in both the Ashkenazic and Sephardic liturgies. (The latter version, however, contains several more verses than are found in the former.) The poem is composed of two parts. The first half of the poem is a series of philosophic or credal statements about God. But as it moves toward its conclusion, the poem changes in mood and becomes a personal statement of faith and even of intimacy with God. This idea is expressed in the penultimate line with the words b'yado afkid ruhi, "I place my spirit in God's care."

FORGET NOT SHABBAT

Forget not Shabbat;
inhale it like sweet-smelling incense.

The dove found rest on Shabbat, as can anyone who is tired.

This day is honored by those faithful to the covenant,
a day of which parents and children are carefully observant.
It was engraved as law on the two tablets of stone
by the great, mighty, and powerful Holy One.

The dove . . .

As they entered the covenant, Israel stood together as one.
“We will do and we will obey,” they then said as one.

“God is one,” they answered clearly;
blessed is God who gives strength to the weary.

The dove . . .

In holiness, on the Mount of Myrrh, God did say:
“Remember and keep the seventh day.”

So gather together, study its precepts at length:
gird up your loins and apply all your strength.

The dove . . .

The people who like lost sheep wander shall God’s covenant and their own promise remember.
May no evil circumstance obstruct their way,
as You swore upon the retreating waters in Noah’s day.

FORGET NOT SHABBAT יוֹם שַׁבְּתוֹן. This song focuses on Shabbat as a covenant between God and Israel. The chorus references the dove that was sent out by Noah after the flood. Back and forth it flew, until finally it returned to the ark with an olive branch, on Shabbat. Having performed its task, it was then able to rest. When Noah left the ark, God made a covenant with him and his family that there would never again be a flood. Thus, the dove became a sign for the first covenant: God would not destroy the earth. The poet connects this covenant with the one later made with Israel at Mount Sinai, thus pointing to both Israel’s attachment to the covenant and to the universal significance of the observance of Shabbat. In this way, the poet asserts the special place that the people of Israel hold in the scheme of creation and redemption.

The poem was written by Yehudah Halevi (Spain, 1075?–1141). His name is spelled in the acrostic of the initial letters of each stanza.

GOD IS ONE יְהוָה אֶחָד. Referencing the Sh’ma, where all of Israel announces, “God is one.” The poet has the people Israel reciting the Sh’ma in response to the revelation at Sinai.

MOUNT OF MYRRH. This is a pun on the name Mount Moriah, identified by the rabbis with the site of the Temple in Jerusalem (Genesis Rabbah 55:7).

APPLY ALL YOUR STRENGTH כָּח וְאַמִּץ כֹּחַ. These words, ameitz ko-ah, are a pun on a classic reference to God as being Almighty, amitz ko-ah (Isaiah 40:26). Most of the poem has emphasized a covenantal relation with God; this line hints at a deep connection between human achievement and divine attributes.

UPON THE . . . WATERS IN NOAH’S DAY עַל מֵי נַח. Reaching the end of the poem, Halevi completes his identification of the fate of the people Israel with the fate of humanity, as noted above. When the flood waters had receded, God promised Noah that never again would there be such devastation. Halevi understands that equally as a promise to the people Israel, that they will not be destroyed.
